

The Amazing Son In Law ( Charlie Wade )

Chapter 3128-3129

Charlie drove to Shangri-La and took the internal elevator with Stefanie Sun to the room her team had reserved.

As soon as he entered the house, Stefanie Sun ran to the sofa in twos or twos and came to a standard You lie, and said with emotion: "Oh my god, it's really tiring to get up early to catch a plane."

Charlie smiled and said, "If you are tired, take a break first, and we will go to dinner when we are done."

Stefanie Sun hurriedly asked, "Charlie, where are you going to take me to eat?"

Charlie said: "Whatever you want, if you don't dislike it, we can make do with the dining department of Shangri-La. If you dislike it, let's go to Don Albert's Heaven Springs."

Stefanie Sun hurriedly waved her hand and said, "Oh, let's not forget the Heaven Springs. It's too much toss, too much food, and it's very tiring to eat, and I get the venue rehearsal at one o'clock, the time is tight."

With that said, Stefanie Sun asked diligently: "Charlie, or let the catering department make some food and deliver it to the room. You can eat with me in the room."

Charlie nodded and said, "If you are too lazy to move, then I'll let Isaac arrange for someone to send them over."

Stefanie Sun quickly said: "That would be better!"

Charlie called Isaac Cameron and asked him to arrange the food and beverage department to make some special dishes, which were delivered to Stefanie Sun's room around 11:30. Isaac Cameron hurriedly went to the food and beverage department to keep an eye on them, for fear of neglect.

At 10:30 in the morning, Fitz Banks's prepared motorcade had assembled at the entrance of the stadium, ready to go to the airport to welcome Stefanie Sun's arrival.

In order to fully grasp the trajectory of Stefanie Sun's actions, Fitz Banks specifically asked someone to ask about the status of Stefanie Sun's private jet, such as whether it has launched a parking bay, whether it has started queuing to leave the port, and when it is expected to take off.

However, just when he was ready to leave for the airport, he received a message from Eastcliff, who told him that Stefanie Sun's private plane had just cancelled today's flight plan.

Fitz Banks didn't react at all, so he called and asked, "You said that Stefanie Sun's plane was canceled? What's the matter? Is the weather in Eastcliff bad? Is there a thunderstorm or windy weather?"

The other party's answer was simple and concise: "The breeze is blowing, and there is no cloud."

Fitz Banks frowned and asked, "Is that flow control?"

The other party's answer is still simple and direct: "The flow is normal."

"What's going on?!" Fitz Banks asked in a puzzled way: "Isn't the flight canceled in these two situations? Either the weather is bad, or the traffic control!"

The other party opened his mouth and said: "There is another possibility that the other party wants to cancel it. If the other party can't fly due to a temporary change, you can't let the plane fly by itself, right?"

Fitz Banks was agitated for a while, immediately hung up the phone, turned back to the inside of the stadium, and said to Zuri who was working: "Zuri, what time will Miss Sun come over today?"

Zuri pretended to be surprised and said, "She starts the rehearsal at one o'clock in the afternoon. Didn't I tell you about it a long time ago?"

Fitz Banks held back his anger and said: "What I asked was when she would fly over. I just heard that her plane has cancelled today's flight plan."

Zuri asked with a look of surprise: "Ah? Really? I haven't heard of this, and she didn't tell me."

Fitz Banks asked her back: "You are her agent, don't you know when she will arrive in Aurous Hill today?"

Zuri nodded earnestly, and said: "Master banks, you are right. I really don't know when she will arrive in Aurous Hill today. She didn't let me arrange the pick-up, and only said that she would arrive at the venue after one o'clock. ."

Fitz Banks raised her wrist, looked at the limited-edition Richard Mille watch on her wrist, frowned and said: "It's 11 o'clock now, if there is any delay, she will definitely not be able to arrive at the venue on time. "

With that said, Fitz Banks said, "Let me call Miss sun."

Zuri said: "Master banks, if there is nothing else, I'll go ahead."

"Okay." Fitz Banks nodded, took out his mobile phone, found Stefanie Sun's number and dialed it.

However, a prompt came from the other end of the phone: "Sorry, the user you are calling has been turned off. Please try again later."

Seeing Stefanie Sun turned off the computer, Fitz Banks was even more confused.

He didn't know that Stefanie Sun's mobile phone had been in the Do Not Disturb mode for a long time. In this mode, only a few calls she had whitelisted could get through her mobile phone. No matter who it was, it would be a reminder to shut down.
