

The Amazing Son In Law ( Charlie Wade )

Chapter 3136-3137

The other party replied: "It's definitely true. He also told me that the number of vehicles registered under the Emgrand Group's name is more than 500 large and small. This BMW is one of them, and there is a small detail. This car is not a BMW 520, but a BMW 760."

"Impossible!" Fitz Banks blurted out: "I saw the car's tail label say 520! How could it be 760?! Is it a mistake?"

"No." The other party said earnestly: "I have repeatedly confirmed that the license plate number is indeed a BMW 760. As for you said that the tail number is 520, then I guess it may have been tampered with."

After speaking, he said again: "Master, you may not know much about the entry-level low-end luxury cars like BMW, but there is actually a big difference between the BMW 5 Series and the 7 Series. At first glance, they seem to be similar, but carefully In fact, there are many differences, but people who don't know it can't see it. Just like the current Mercedes-Benz E-Class and Mercedes-Benz S-Class, people who don't understand cars basically can't see the difference. Compare the video of the driving recorder with the photo of the BMW 760 on the Internet. If you find it wrong, I will immediately ask that person to follow up."

Fitz Banks naturally didn't want to make any difference, so he immediately said: "Let me look at the video of the dash cam. You can find the details of the rear of the BMW 760 and 520 and send it to my WeChat. I will confirm it first."

"it is good!"

Fitz Banks hurriedly opened the video of Rolls-Royce's built-in driving recorder and found the clip just taken. After playback, it can be clearly seen that the rear of the car is indeed attached to the BMW 520.

The reason why he wants to figure out whether it is 520 or 760 is mainly to determine whether this car is an Emgrand Group car.

If it is true that this car is a BMW 760, then all the clues can confirm that this car belongs to the Emgrand Group.

But if this car is not a 760, or an ordinary 520, then it proves that the information feedback from his men is wrong.

In that case, either the subordinate has a problem, or the BMW 520 has a problem, or maybe it is a licensed car.

At this moment, Fitz Banks received several official details of the BMW 520 and BMW 760 from his staff.

Fitz Banks can tell at a glance that the official BMW 760 detailed map is exactly the same as the car he just photographed.

This also means that the car just now is indeed the BMW 760 with a modified tail.

It also means that the car is indeed from the Emgrand Group.

Fitz Banks frowned and called and asked, "Do you know who the boss behind Aurous Hill Emgrand Group is?"

"I don't know." The other party replied: "The legal representative of the Emgrand Group is Doris Young, who is the vice chairman of the Emgrand Group, but the shares of the Emgrand Group are not in her name."

After speaking, the other party further introduced: "Although this company is registered in Aurous Hill, the equity structure model of Aurous Hill Emgrand Group is the same as that of domestic Internet giants. There is also an overseas parent company in the upper structure."

"What's more fucking is that its overseas parent company is an offshore company registered in the Cayman Islands. This offshore company controls 100% of Aurous Hill Emgrand Group, so you have to find out who the owner of the offshore company is to know. Who is the real owner of the Emgrand Group."

"It's so troublesome..." Fitz Banks asked: "Can you find out the shareholder information of this offshore company overseas?"

"Unable to find out." The other party said truthfully: "The Cayman Islands has long promulgated judicial regulations to provide comprehensive privacy protection for all companies registered in the Cayman Islands. Information related to directors and shareholders is completely confidential. The bank's strategy is exactly the same, so we can't find any information."

"Grass!" Fitz Banks cursed angrily: "I don't believe in this huge company of Emgrand Group in Aurous Hill. Does anyone know whether its boss is a man or a woman, and how old is it?"

The other party immediately said: "The person who gave me the news told me that their boss is very powerful, young and handsome, and also said that there are rumors that he is the mysterious rich man who was very famous in Aurous Hill last year!"

"What mysterious rich man?" Fitz Banks heard the other party saying that the boss of the Emgrand Group was young and handsome, and immediately became a little unhappy, and asked coldly, "Is this mysterious rich man very famous?"

The other party replied: "According to my source, it is quite famous. He used tens of millions of cash in a jadeite shop to smash a despising salesperson. At that time, there was a lot of rumors in Aurous Hill."

Fitz Banks was a little annoyed.

He felt that if according to his subordinates, the boss of the Emgrand Group was really a strong competitor.

Combined with Stefanie Sun deliberately bypassing herself, coming to the scene with him, and being so affectionate to bid farewell to him, maybe this guy has already taken a step ahead and won Stefanie Sun's favor!

Thinking of this, he felt angry and anxious, and blurted out, "Is there any personal information about Doris Young?"

"Yes!" The other party introduced: "Doris Young's information is more transparent. She is a native of Aurous Hill. She has all traces to follow in the past. She was a schoolmaster when she went to school. Later, she joined the former Emgrand Group in a short time. To help the Emgrand Group continue to grow and develop, she has also been promoted all the way to the position of Vice Chairman of the Emgrand Group. She has been the top leader of the Emgrand Group until now."

Fitz Banks nodded and said, "In this way, if you want to know who the boss of the Emgrand Group is, you have to have a good chat with this Doris Young."

After that, Fitz Banks immediately ordered: "You can contact this Doris Young for me, saying that I want to take some time to visit her at the Emgrand Group and talk to her about business cooperation."

Fitz Banks felt that as the eldest son and eldest grandson of the Banks Family, as long as he reported his name to visit, who should not consider himself a guest?

At that time, I met that Doris Young, and tried to figure out the identity of her boss from her mouth.

If she doesn't say anything, then throw a cooperation intention as a bait. I believe that the boss of the Emgrand Group will definitely be impatient to meet him after hearing the news that the Banks Family is going to cooperate with him.

After hearing this, his men hurriedly asked him: "Master, when do you want to see that Doris Young?"

Fitz Banks said without hesitation: "Just now!"
