Orrin Sun persuaded: "Look at you, you are so young all of a sudden, so many women can't dream, why are you crying?"

Angie choked and said, "I'm so excited..."

I was so excited that I couldn't distinguish the reality of dreams...

And, I've never had such a beautiful dream...

tell me, what is this? Reality or dreaming?"

Orrin Sun smiled and said, "Of course this is not a dream. You forgot how Charlie cured me in the first place?"

The best cancer experts in the world say that I must die. I have even done that there is only one life left.

Yue's preparations, but look at me now, I've been completely healed a long time ago, not only healed, but my body is much better than before in my life! This is all true, and it's all from Charlie!"

Angie nodded lightly, then looked at Charlie, holding back tears, and said moved: "Charlie, Auntie really doesn't know how to thank you..."

Charlie smiled and said, "Auntie Angie, you are the best thanks to me for your long life."

Angie was very moved in her heart. While wiping tears from her eyes, she nodded and said earnestly

: "Yes... it will be a hundred years old... With such a good child as you and Stefanie you and Orrin I must do our best. To live longer with all your strength, one day less is a great loss..."

Charlie hurriedly said at this time: "Uncle and Stefanie, you also quickly drink the remaining two glasses!"

The two of them came back to their senses, but the more they realized the magic of this glass of water, the more they were hesitant.

Stefanie Sun always felt that her family of three owed Charlie too much, so she tried to say,

"Charlie, or else I won't drink it. I'm still young and it's too wasteful for me to drink."

Charlie slapped his face and said seriously: "If you don't drink, then I will throw it away."

After that, he reached out and picked up one of the cups of water, pretending to pour it on the ground.

Stefanie Sun was startled, afraid that Charlie would really throw away such a valuable thing, so she subconsciously said, "Don't let it go! Charlie, can't I drink it?"

Charlie handed the water glass to her and ordered: "Then stop talking nonsense, drink it now."

Stefanie Sun nodded, took the glass of water from Charlie with both hands, looked at Charlie affectionately, and said emotionally, "Thank you, Charlie!"

Charlie rubbed his temples and gave a bitter smile.

Orrin Sun on the side also realized that being too polite might make Charlie feel alienated, so he also took a glass of water and said to Stefanie Sun: , this is Chrlies kindness to us, let's talk about it. ,

We are all a family, don't let Charlie think that we are too far apart."

Stefanie Sun nodded lightly and whispered: "Dad, I know..."

Orrin Sun smiled and said, "Come on, Dad will make a toast with you. Let's drink together!"

Stefanie Sun hurriedly lifted the water cup, touched Orrin Sun's cup, then plucked up courage and drank it.

Orrin Sun had already experienced the feeling of going back in time, so when he experienced this feeling again this time, although his heart was excited, he was not surprised.

However, Stefanie Sun was surprised and speechless.

Because, she really didn't expect that after drinking this glass of water, her body would undergo such a miraculous change.

The whole person's feeling is really like returning to when he was eighteen years old.

She couldn't help closing her eyes, carefully feeling every change that happened in her body, and thought to herself: "If you hadn't known the magical effect of this glass of water for a long time, even if you told me that I traveled back to six or seven years ago, I would definitely There will be no doubt..."
