

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3210-3211

Charlie couldn't help but exclaimed: "Really? I said why I looked so familiar, but I have no specific memory of the scene at that time."

Angie nodded, took out a photo album from her handbag, then opened the photo album, found a yellowed old photo, and handed it to Charlie.

Charlie took it and took a look, and found that in this photo, he and Stefanie Sun, and their clothes, looks, movements and even expressions were exactly the same as the fondant dolls on the cake.

Angie on the side smiled and said, "After you sang the happy birthday song that day, you kept clamoring that you would marry me as a daughter-in-law. At the beginning, you said you disagree, but your parents,

I told you, let you grow up. After you grow up, you must marry your daughter and daughter as your wife, so your expression is very aggrieved, saying that you don't want to marry a follower who clings to you all the time, and then when you want to take pictures of you two, you feel a little unhappy, this Look like."

Charlie looked at the photo and didn't recover for a long while.

He remembered many things of the year, but many things of that year only had an outline in his mind, and the relevant pictures had long been blurred to the point that he could hardly find any memories.

This is mainly because since his parents passed away, he has completely lost the channel and way to retrieve his image memory.

For so many years, he didn't even have a photo of himself as a child, nor a photo of him with his parents as a child, or a photo of his parents when they were young.

So much so that after so many years, even the appearance of his parents is a bit vague in his memory.

Therefore, when he saw the fondant doll at first, he never thought that it was himself and Stefanie Sun.

Now suddenly seeing this old photo of himself and Stefanie Sun when he was a child, Charlie was naturally full of emotion in his heart.

Stefanie Sun on the side asked him with a smile, "Charlie, do you still like this cake?"

"I like it, I really like it!" Charlie sighed sincerely: "I didn't expect this cake to be so realistic!"

Stefanie Sun smiled and said, "This is made by Eastcliff's most powerful fondant cake master. The people who lined up to make fondant cakes for her are too few to count, and many of them are very, very famous rich and famous. She has made an appointment for this birthday cake for several months. My parents brought it so far from Eastcliff just to surprise you."

Charlie looked at the dolls on the cake, looked at the innocent looks of himself and Stefanie Sun, with mixed feelings in his heart, and even his eyes were a little hot and moist.

So he hurriedly smiled and joked: "Oh, this doll is so beautifully made, I don't want to eat it anymore."

Stefanie Sun smiled and said, "Charlie, this doll is not for you to eat, it is reserved for you as a souvenir. You can eat everything except the fondant doll."
