

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3230-3231

Soon, the old Lady Wilson came to the door of Charlie's house aggressively and directly pressed the doorbell.

In the villa, after Charlie put the cake in the refrigerator, he returned to the living room. Claire and her parents were still busy in the kitchen.

At this moment, Charlie heard the door bell and got up and went to the gate.

He glanced at the monitor and found that it was Mrs. Wilson who was standing outside the yard, so he asked in a cold voice, "What's the matter with you?"

Old Lady Wilson heard Charlie's voice and snorted coldly, and said, "Let me in, I want to see Jacob!"

Charlie said casually: "I'm sorry, you are not welcome here, go quickly, otherwise I will find the property security!"

"You!" Mrs. Wilson angrily reprimanded: "This is my son's home. If you say you don't welcome it, you won't welcome it?! I still want to go in today!"

Charlie smiled and said, "My father-in-law is your son, but you have to figure out that this is my house.

The house is registered under my name and the property rights belong to me. So I don't let you in, you just can't enter. ,Understand?"

The old Lady Wilson was angry with Charlie's words, and blurted out: "Charlie! Do you really think you are still that master Wade? Don't think I don't know, you liar who makes a living by bluffing and deceiving, immediately There is going to be a thunder!"

Charlie couldn't help but smiled and asked, "Oh, who told you that I was about to thunder? Why haven't I heard of it myself?"

The old Lady Wilson sneered and said, "Charlie, do you think you can escape my old lady's eyes?"

Speaking of this, the old lady said with a look of contempt: "Yes! I admit it! You really fooled a lot of rich and powerful people before, but you have to know, which of these people is not the dragon and the phoenix?

They will be You deceive, but you will be blindfolded for a while, they can't be blind to the truth for a lifetime!"

As he said, Mrs. Wilson looked at him up and down, and asked with a sneer: "During the New Year, I think there are still many people who come to your house to give you gifts.

Why are you celebrating your birthday today and even a door-to-door gift-giver?

Didn't you? What's the reason for this, don't you know it in your own heart? Still pretending to be stupid with me here!"

Charlie suddenly laughed.

It turned out that Mrs. Wilson determined that her thunder was based on the fact that no one came to give gifts to herself today.

This is really a blinding eye, and it's a horrible thing to slip the world.

However, if you think about it carefully, in fact, it is too much to judge a person's affairs by this so-called "experience" in life.

In life, just seeing someone driving a luxury car, thinking that the other person is a big money, rich second-generation, and then thinking about it and posting upside down, and finally being defrauded of money or even deceived victims, there are many victims.

Charlie still remembered reading a piece of news before. A Diaosi bought a domestically produced off-road vehicle, then changed it to a Mercedes-Benz Big G, pretending to be a rich second generation, and talked about a dozen girlfriends at the same time.

The fake big G he drove immediately believed that he was a super rich second-generation, and then he was deceived and deceived by him. There were even a few women who were pregnant without saying anything.

I originally thought that women who only have a love mind would make such a blinding mistake. I didn't expect that Mrs. Wilson could be so stupid at such an age.

The reason why no one came to give gifts today is because I had already said hello in advance.

Otherwise, according to today's schedule, I would have to go to Stefanie Sun's concert after dinner.

The time is so rushed, and another group of people would come to give gifts. , That's really going to be overwhelmed.

It's just that the old Lady Wilson doesn't know this.

Based on her experience in the market, she judged that Charlie was about to be cold, so she wanted to come over and ridicule and shame.

Seeing that Charlie didn't speak, she felt that she had guessed eight or nine inseparable!

So, she looked at Charlie with disgust, and said: "I see your villa, it will be taken away in a short time.

If your family is on the street, let alone my grandmother not taking care of it.

You guys, if you ask Claire to come back and kowtow to me, I will ask Wendy to arrange her work as a courtesy lady!"

With that said, Mrs. Wilson said with a smug look: "Yes, I forgot to tell you, our family Wendy is now the general manager of Aurous Hill's largest etiquette company, and the future is bright!"
