Moreover, if the company develops well, its profits will naturally be high. After the company's tax returns every quarter, there will be a small portion of its own commission in the net profit.

After this calculation, you can get three to four hundred thousand yuan a year, even more.

Therefore, giving the old lady 8,000 a month is not a big burden.

More importantly, my father and brother will definitely be able to recover in one or two months.

Then they will also be able to find a job to subsidize the family, and their pressure will be reduced a lot by then.

So, she nodded and said: "Eight thousand is eight thousand, but you remember your promise, and you can no longer interfere with my life and my freedom!

Besides, after my dad and my brother can work, I will only give it to my family every month.

Hand in three thousand yuan! If you don't agree, I will move out!"

Old Lady Wilson promised repeatedly: "Okay, grandma will never interfere with your freedom in the future!"

Wandy took the Hermes belt back from her hand and looked at it for a long time.

She originally wanted to quietly put it in Charlie's mailbox, and then told Charlie on WeChat.

However, grandma is by her side now, and she doesn't want to do these things in front of her.

Moreover, Charlie's attitude just now really made her realize the distance between Charlie and herself and her family.

Thinking about it, Charlie should just help himself, but at the same time, he always kept the distance from the well water in his heart.

In this case, I ventured to give him a birthday present for fear that it would be self-defeating and disgust him.

Thinking of this, she sighed faintly, and said to Mrs. Wilson: "Okay, grandma, let's go home."

The old Lady Wilson nodded angrily, followed behind Wandy, and while walking towards her villa, she grumbled with a sigh: "Wandy, it's not that grandma said you, this is Charlie helping you, why don't you talk to grandma earlier What do you mean?

You have to tell grandma earlier, and grandma won't run to touch this nail..."

Wandy walked in front, looked at the Hermes belt in her hand, and said absently:
"Brother-in-law won't let me tell anyone."

"Hey..." The old Lady Wilson sighed and sighed: "In Charlie's heart, we are still on guard at every turn..."

Wandy felt even more uncomfortable when she heard this, so she took two quick steps under her feet before returning to the villa where she lived.

Old Mrs. Wilson ran all the way to catch up. The two came to the bedroom upstairs. Christopher Wilson and Harold Wilson who were lying on the bed were already a little impatient.

Harold Wilson asked Mrs. Wilson expectantly: "Grandma, see you Have you arrived at Charlie?"

Old Lady Wilson said with a sad look: "I saw..."

Harold Wilson asked hurriedly, "What do you say? Is this guy really going to explode?"

Old Lady Wilson sighed, and said with emotion: "What kind of thunder is there? It's really whimsical. Charlie is impossible for thunder..."

"Why grandma?" Harold Wilson was surprised, and hurriedly said, "Isn't this all your analysis?"

What do you say that a leaf knows the autumn? What do you say before the door is like a city, and what is now the door is beautiful, the four-character idiom you click He said a lot, why now I say I'm whimsical again?"

Old Lady Wilson said angrily: "What's wrong with me saying a few idioms? It's not illegal to say idioms!"

Christopher hurriedly said, "Mom, don't be familiar with Harold. He has been stubborn since he was a child, and he has never read any books.

He knows four-character idioms, and he can count his two hands. How can he compare with you? "

After finishing speaking, seeing the old Lady Wilson's expression eased a little, she hurriedly asked, "God, you're the one we talked about. Why can't that bastard Charlie explode?"

Old Lady Wilson sighed and said quietly: "In the end, I guessed wrong. Charlie, this kid is really capable.

Wandy hasn't told us before. It turned out that he helped her. Very busy, the noble person who entrusted the etiquette company to her is Charlie!"
