

The Amazing Son In Law ( Charlie Wade )

Chapter 3266-3267

Every day, as long as you stand on the stage and say one sentence and understand the applause, there will be countless students who will pay you 6 or even 7 digit tuition Account."

Claire smiled and said, "I can't do this kind of fooling things. I'll do my design steadily."

Seeing the two people whispering and laughing again and again, Loreen was more or less jealous, and couldn't help complaining: "You two show your affection and pay attention to the occasion.

Don't spread dog food in public, okay?"

Claire smiled and said, "Loreen, since we are all in the field, let's go in together, don't stand here."

Loreen nodded lightly, followed Charlie and Claire to the venue for security check and ticket inspection.

At this time, the inside of the venue was already crowded with people. The surrounding stands were basically full of Stefanie Sun's fans.

Most of them had glowing light sticks and LED lights with Stefanie Sun's name written on them, tens of thousands. When people waved at the same time, these glow sticks and light signs suddenly appeared very spectacular.

Charlie grew up so big, and it was the first time to watch a concert, so it was a bit shocked at once.

This kind of battle was really something he had never seen before.

At this moment, Claire next to him said with an annoyed look: "Oh! I forgot to prepare the aid materials in advance!"

Charlie asked with a puzzled look: "Apply for materials?"

"That's right!" Claire pointed to the fans around who were holding glow sticks and light signs, and said seriously: "Look, the other fans are ready."

Charlie smiled helplessly, and said, "My wife, it's just a concert. Don't be so involved. Since you like Stefanie Sun, you can enjoy her concert later, right?"

Claire couldn't help but said with some regret: "I not only like her songs, but also her as a person, so as a fan, I always hope to do more for my idol.

It's just that I've been too busy recently with my work, and I support her. I have forgotten everything. As Stefanie Sun's iron fan, I am really ashamed."

Seeing that Claire was indeed blaming himself, Charlie felt somewhat uncomprehending in his heart.

First of all, he doesn't quite understand the current model of fans chasing stars.

In his opinion, if you really like a star, whether you like his songs or his film and television works, you should try to be as sensible as possible and put this like on the professional skills of the other party.

If you like a singer, you can listen to her songs, and if you like an actor, you can watch his works.

Besides, there is no need to be too crazy or too involved for him, so as to have a greater impact on your real life.

For some popular actors, tickets for a performance can be fired up to tens of thousands.

Even so, fans still try their best to rush to buy them.

Many of these fans don't really have very strong spending power. They save money in various fields in real life, just to see their idols with their own eyes. In Charlie's view, it is indeed a bit unreasonable.

Just like a crazy female fan in the early years, in order to pursue a Hong Kong male celebrity, she completely overspent her parents' finances, and finally caused her father to be overwhelmed and go to extremes, resulting in irreparable bitter fruit.

Therefore, he said seriously: "Wife, treat the celebrity with an attitude of appreciation, not infatuation.

If it is an attitude of appreciation, then you and her are equal, but if it is an attitude of infatuation, then you and She has completely lost her reciprocal status. When we came here to support Stefanie Sun, it is already the greatest support and affirmation for her, and there is no need to do other additional things."

Claire nodded slightly, and said with some relief: "Good husband, I see."

Charlie laughed softly and said, "It's fine if you know, go to your seat as soon as possible, the show will begin soon!"
