

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3306-3307

When Loreen heard this, she replied with some embarrassment: "Miss zara, although I have been to the Emgrand Group for a year, to be honest, I have never met our chairman. He seems to have never been in the group. Doris Young and Doris Young are in charge of the affairs. Should I introduce her to you?"

"That's it." Zara wanted to understand in an instant. It seemed that Loreen didn't know Charlie's dual identity.

Thinking of this, she secretly smiled in her heart: "This Loreen is also stupid enough, she must be rushing to Charlie when she came to Aurous Hill. But after so long, she didn't even understand Charlie's identity..."

Loreen found that Zara looked at her eyes somewhat strangely.

She couldn't help but look at Zara, but the two looked at each other. Loreen always felt that she was under a lot of pressure in front of Zara, so she hurriedly said, "Well, Charlie, since you are going back with Miss zara, then I will not send you off. My cousin is still in the parking lot. Wait for me, I will pass first."

After finishing speaking, she hurriedly said to Zara: "Miss zara. I'm going now, you will be slower on the road."

Zara nodded, remembering something, and hurriedly said: "By the way, Miss , I may have been staying in Aurous Hill for this period of time. The two of us can be regarded as old friends from home, or you can leave me a contact information. , I will invite you to dinner if I have time."

Although Loreen only knew Zara, she was far worse than Zara in terms of her rank.

The difference between the two is the kind of difference that everyone is absolutely impossible to sit at the same table even if they are in the same banquet, so she and Zara have no way of contacting each other at all, let alone. Have dinner together in private.

Now Zara took the initiative to invite her to dinner, which really flattered her.

So Loreen agreed almost without thinking, and quickly took out her mobile phone and said, "Okay, Miss zara, I must have been in Aurous Hill for longer than you, so I'll invite you. I can count as half the host."

Zara smiled and said, "Okay, if you invite me first, it's the same if I invite you back another day."

Loreen hurriedly said: "That's OK, Miss zara, let's add a WeChat account, I will scan you."

Zara nodded. He took out his mobile phone, found out his WeChat QR code, and then passed Loreen's friend application.

At the moment when Zara became a friend, Loreen was indeed a little excited in her heart.

This is not to blame for her snobbery, after all, she has always grown up in the atmosphere of upper class society.

And the strength of her family, in the entire upper-class society, can only be ranked at the middle and lower levels.

Therefore, people like them have always been accustomed to surviving in the cracks of the upper class. Naturally, they cherish every opportunity to contact the top people of the upper class.

However, Charlie saw that Zara took the initiative to show okay to Loreen, and even wanted to make a private appointment with her. My heart became more suspicious, and I couldn't figure out what Zara this woman wanted to do.

After the two added WeChat, everyone came to the parking lot together. Loreen's car and Zara's car were not parked in the same area, so they waved goodbye to the three at the entrance of the parking lot.

Charlie and Claire followed Zara and found her car.

Charlie didn't expect that when Zara went out on her own, the car she drove turned out to be a very ordinary Audi Q5 off-road vehicle, which was indeed quite different from her identity.

Zara looked at Charlie and Claire, and said with a smile: "The car is not very good, please don't bother me too much."

Claire hurriedly said, "How come it is. This is already very good!"

Zara smiled and said, "It's okay if you don't dislike it, then you and your wife should sit in the back row."

"Okay." Claire responded and sat on the back row of Q5 with Charlie. Zara started the vehicle and drove to Tangchen First Grade.
