

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3316-3317

Stefanie Sun smiled and said, "Mom, do you know?"

"I know." Angie nodded: "Isn't it the independent brand of Chinese designer Wang? It has been very popular in Europe and the United States these years. Even the daughter of former US President Clinton and the daughter of Bu Shi wear her designs for marriage. Wedding dress, did you order your wedding dress from her too?"

Stefanie Sun smiled and said: "She announced a few years ago that she would not make wedding dresses for others anymore, but I invited her from the United States a few months ago and measured the size for me, and then she brought the size back. The United States did it for me personally."

Angie smiled and said, "Then you are really big enough. People have already reaped the mountains, and they will come back to help you make a wedding dress."

Stefanie Sun said seriously: "Mom, to be honest, I couldn't ask her. Although she is not as wealthy as the top big family, she usually makes friends with top wealthy people. Many top rich and senior management families in the United States ask her to design wedding dresses. These celebrities in China also line up to find her, but even so, no one has been able to ask her to come out in person in recent years, let alone me, even if people from the banks and Wade families are looking for her, she doesn't. Maybe come out in person."

After speaking, Stefanie Sun paused slightly, and then said: "The reason why she is willing to come to China to help me measure the size and make the wedding dress this time is mainly because she knows that I am the future daughter-in-law that Aunt has long identified."

Angie asked in surprise: "You said that Wang came here because of Charlie's mother's face?"

"That's right." Stefanie Sun said: "I just paid a deposit for her brand and asked her designer to design a high-order wedding dress for me, but I didn't expect her to come in person..."

"In fact, I was very surprised at the time. I didn't understand why she came here in person. After asking her, she knew that she and Aunt and Aunt mother had been good friends for many years..."

"Furthermore, when Charlie's and Aunt went back to the United States to visit relatives when they were young, she also met Charlie and knew about the relationship between our family and Aunt family."

Angie said with emotion: "Wang should also be in her seventies, Sister is at least almost twenty years older, and she didn't expect to be friends with Sister."

Stefanie Sun said: "Maybe I met through Aunt mother."

After speaking, Stefanie Sun said again: "But according to her, Aunt has helped her a lot before, and her tone seems to be very grateful."

Angie nodded: "Your Aunt has helped too many people. In Silicon Valley alone, more than half of the large companies have taken your Aunt investment."

Stefanie Sun snorted and continued: "So she tossed over so far to help me measure the size, and went back to personally make me a wedding dress for a few months. After making it some time ago, she also brought the wedding dress to me to try on. I made fine-tuning on the spot. After working so long before and after, I didn't want to collect the last penny, saying that I was Aunt daughter-in-law, just like her own daughter-in-law."

Orrin Sun, who was on the side, remained silent. At this moment, he asked Stefanie Sun very seriously: "you didn't tell her about Charlie, did you?"

"No." Stefanie Sun said: "She only mentioned the relationship between her and Aunt family, but she never asked me about Charlie's brother."

Orrin Sun suddenly remembered something, slapped his thigh, and blurted out: "Oh, oh, we forgot an important thing!"

Stefanie Sun's heart was tight, and she hurriedly asked: "Dad, what's the important thing?"

Orrin Sun blurted out: "You made such a big noise at the concert today. If Anjia sees it, he will know that Charlie is still alive, and you will know that we have found him!"
