

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3340-3341

In addition to Charlie, there is another person who has been thinking about this ancestor worship ceremony, and that person is Zayne in Syria.

During this period of time, Zayne has been counting his days, because he knows that getting closer to the time of Qingming means getting closer and closer to his day of returning to China.

Although he also knew that the so-called return to China was actually being taken by Charlie to the ancestral grave of the Wade Family and confessing to Bruse's guilt. This was essentially a total insult to him.

But even so, he is very much looking forward to this day, coming soon.

Because, he is very clear in his heart, that is: "If I have been staying in Syria, a place where birds do not poop, and staying in Hamid's base, then my whereabouts will never be known to my family!"

"But if Charlie allows me to return to China, even if it means I go to the ancestral grave of the Wade Family and kowtow, I will have a certain chance to let the Banks Family know my specific situation!"

"If you don't say it, my father still has a way to save me."

"It really doesn't work, he can still negotiate with Charlie, and the big deal is to sell some benefits and exchange me back."

"So, even if there is only one percent chance, it's better than no chance at all!"

During this time, Zayne's life in Syria was not easy.

It's easy to say that the conditions are difficult. I didn't get used to it at the beginning, but I can accept it in some days.

However, during the recent period, what has depressed Zayne the most is that Hamid did not know which of the tendons did not match, and began to build infrastructure in this mountain nest!

On the surrounding mountains, deafening construction sounds can be heard 24 hours a day, and the roar of various machinery surrounds him.

According to his observations, more than one concrete mixing station has been built in the base now, which produces concrete 24 hours a day, and then is transported by high-pressure concrete pumps to the surrounding hillsides one station at a time. On the surrounding hillsides, explosives open up the mountains. The movement of the people also happens from time to time, and the cannon will be fired when it is bad, sometimes even in the early morning.

Every time a cannon is fired, it is accompanied by a wave of shaking.

That's all, and what's even more annoying is that every time the explosives hit a mountain, countless jackhammers and jackhammers roar like heavy machine guns.

In the Middle East at this time, it was just dawn, but Zayne finally fell asleep in the night when the machine roared two hours ago.

He had just slept for two hours, and he heard several explosions rumbling outside. The vibration of the explosion almost collapsed his roof, so that he was suddenly awakened from his sleep, thinking that there was a war, and he just pulled his legs. Run out.

As soon as he ran out, he was immediately spotted by the soldier standing guard on the opposite roof. The opponent immediately pointed a gun at him and shouted in unfluent Chinese: "What are you doing?! I will shoot if I try to run out again!"

cursed his mother in a straightforward manner, blurting out: "Have you F*cking staring at me? The enemy's shells are hitting you, so don't you hurry up to the front line to support!"

When the man heard this, he lowered his muzzle, waved his hand and said, "Don't be afraid, there is no war. That was our engineering battalion is opening the mountain. Just now, the explosion of six working faces was detonated. Well!"

"F*ck!"

Zayne jumped up and cursed, "Are you guys sick? The cannons were fired all day long. After the cannons were fired, the more than one hundred pneumatic picks were crackling on the mountain. A few air compressors. The broken thing suddenly started rumbling loudly, like a damn getting Parkinson's convulsion, but let the damn let people live?!"
