

The Amazing Son In Law ( Charlie Wade )

Chapter 3342-3343

Seeing Zayne's anxious white face jumping, the soldier immediately said with a serious face: "Hey! Are you tired of your life? Pay attention to your words! Otherwise, I'm not polite to you!"

Zayne said angrily: "You're welcome? Let's be reasonable. Any construction site has to have some days and nights. How can you do it blindly during the day and 24 hours? In our country,

These big moves are only allowed during the working day during the day, and when you get off work, you have to stop get off work at any construction site. You are better, and you will never finish working.

If you continue to do this, I must have a nervous breakdown! Go and call me your Commander Hunter (Hamid), and I want to ask him face to face!"

The soldier said coldly: "I tell you, the permanent fortifications and the reverse slope fortifications that we are currently repairing were all ordered by Commander Hunter (Hamid) himself and asked us to complete the work as soon as possible.

This matter is now a major part of our entire base. The most important thing is that everything must make way for it, let alone you, even our deputy commander is not qualified to question!"

After listening to Zayne, his whole face was dumbfounded.

"What are you talking about? Are you repairing the fortifications and the reverse slope fortifications?!"

"Yes!" said the soldier proudly: "We are now constructing a strong offensive and defensive fortifications, and we have to prepare a large amount of strategic reserves in advance.

Now our permanent fortifications on all sides of the mountain and the reverse slope fortifications have already begun. With a certain scale, if there is more time, dense tunnels will be dug in these mountains. At that time, no one in Syria can get in!"

After listening to Zayne, he was dumbfounded.

No wonder it rumbling and rumbling all day long, it turned out to be a fortification of Xiuyong preparation!

No wonder there have been truck convoys constantly sending things in these days. It turned out that Hunter (Hamid) was doing permanent fortifications while making strategic reserves.

This made Zayne wonder in his heart, and wondered: "Where did Hunter (Hamid) learn such a strategic theory of digging deep holes and accumulating food?"

“The key point is that you are a damn Middle Easterner who can dig deep holes and accumulate food. Why are you still playing reverse slope fortifications? This is the housekeeping skill of our army decades ago! How can you be so big? The old man went to learn it?”

“Looking at the battle of Shangganling back then, one of the core strengths of our army was the reverse slope fortifications. If the enemy shelled from the outside of the mountain, it would be difficult to hit the reverse slope fortifications on the inside of the mountain.

Millions of cannonballs failed to crush us. It is a magic touch of ground warfare! Now he has let the grandson of Hunter (Hamid) learn it! How outrageous!”

“Furthermore, the overall level of development in Syria is quite low now. Both government and anti-government forces are still at the level of firepower during World War II.

In addition, Syria is inherently mountainous and hilly, so I have to say what I learned from Ganling. , It’s a complete mess!”

Zayne thought so, suddenly a figure flashed in his mind.

“Charlie! It must be Charlie! It must be the grandson who quietly taught the treasure of our army to Hunter (Hamid) this year! If this was left a few decades ago, Charlie, the bastard would be shot dead! “

Thinking of Hunter (Hamid) attaching so much importance to this matter, Zayne also knew that Hunter (Hamid) is now incarnation of the Syrian version of the infrastructure madman, and his own protest is useless at all.
