

The Amazing Son In Law ( Charlie Wade )

Chapter 3368-3369

Originally, the officers of the Wanlong Palace, like the commanders of the government forces, were somewhat underestimating the enemy.

They felt that they had seen the level of the Syrian rebels, and it was easy to destroy them.

So they didn't make enough preparations at all. They just wanted to quickly help the government solve their serious problems, and immediately establish their own mercenary base in Syria to further enhance their influence in the Middle East.

Unexpectedly, they suffered an unprecedented blow this time because of underestimating the enemy.

More than 500 living beings were thrown directly on the slope of the Hunter (Hamid) base.

The leader of this Ten Thousand Dragon Palace mercenary is a yellow race who is about thirty years old.

His name is Gorka, and he is a five-star general in the Wanlong Temple, and he is also one of the core backbones.

In the Wanlong Palace, in addition to a God of War and the Four Great War Kings, there are nearly a hundred warriors below.

The abilities, resumes, and exploits of the warriors determine their star rating.

The star rating of the generals ranges from one star to five stars. The five-star generals are naturally the highest among the generals. There are only twenty or thirty people who can get this level of generals.

Counting the God of War and the Four Great War Kings, Gorka's ranking in the Wanlong Palace is at least in the top forty.

This time, he followed the Wanlong Palace First Warlord to fight in Syria. He had been in force before, and there were few casualties.

Unexpectedly, as soon as the battle started today, so many people died!

When he saw that his team had suffered heavy losses, he immediately found the highest commander of the fellow government army, and ranted in Chinese: "Your pre-war intelligence work is simply a puddle of shit! Hunter (Hamid) has built so many hidden permanent fortifications. , Why did you never tell us this information?"

The supreme commander who was questioned was also very annoyed, and responded in unskilled Chinese: "What the hell you asked is all nonsense. If I want to know that he has built fortifications forever, then I will definitely tell you this information. But the problem is that I don't know either!"

The commander of the Wanlong Palace was sullen by the opponent's righteous and arrogant face, and said angrily: "The intelligence collection work before the war is of paramount importance for any army. Why didn't you do it? It's too unprofessional. Right!"

The commander of the government army asked him back: "We are unprofessional, but since your Wanlong Palace is so professional, why didn't you do pre-war intelligence collection? After coming to Syria, the dignified soldiers of the Wanlong Palace, the combat level is it just like us?"

"F*ck!" Gorka shouted angrily, gritted his teeth and said: "Why are you a shrew when you are fighting?! I have no time to talk nonsense here. You have to give me an explanation for the more than 500 brothers I lost!"

The commander of the government army said coldly: "Don't come with me! It's normal to have personnel attrition in the war. You ask me to give you an explanation. I have lost nearly a thousand people. Who will give me an explanation? What? The most important thing now is to quickly take Hunter (Hamid)'s base away! Grab Hunter (Hamid) and behead! Only in this way can we comfort the dead soldiers!"

As he said, the other party stared at Gorka coldly and reminded: "More importantly, this is the only way to save us from being punished by our superiors! If so many people have been lost, Hunter (Hamid) has not been beaten down, my The boss will not spare me, but I believe your boss will not spare you either!"

Gorka was speechless.

The other party was right.

I am not afraid of losses in a war, but what I am most afraid of is that after suffering losses, I have not been able to win.

If you really can't beat Hunter (Hamid), you will definitely become a laughing stock in the Wanlong Palace! Even the future is ruined!

So he looked at the commander of the government army and said coldly: "Your artillery has exploded so many rounds just now, and the other side can still have such strong firepower. This proves that their permanent fortifications are quite solid. If this battle changes, it's a tough battle, and it's still attacking from the bottom up, I'm afraid it will not be so easy to fight!"

The government commander gritted his teeth and said: "Then I will let the artillery bomb a few more rounds!"

"It's useless!" Gorka said: "So many rounds just now didn't work, and it's useless to bomb it!"

He paused for a while, thought for a moment, and said: "Let's send your soldiers to carry heavy weapons to continue to feint against his front. I will lead our brothers from the Wanlong Temple to round the side of the mountain and quietly touch the high ground. , And then go directly to their side bread copy!"
