

The Amazing Son In Law ( Charlie Wade )

Chapter 3372-3373

Moreover, the one who pretends to attack will not only suffer losses, the key is to wait for the people of Wanlong Temple to roundabout and steal the other side's permanent fortifications, and the credit for the attack on the enemy camp is his mother's.

This transaction, the more you think about it, the less cost-effective it becomes.

So he opened his mouth and said: "You can use this method, but I don't think I should let my team feint, or let's change it, you let your team feint, and I will let my soldiers go to the side and roundabout!"

Gorka said angrily: "You're less fucking dreaming! Let my soldiers pretend to attack? Just like your severely lacking training soldiers, can you take on such an arduous task? By then, you can touch the past and can't fight it. What's the use of eggs?"

As soon as the commander heard this, he couldn't help but secretly thought: "It seems that this is indeed the truth...The overall strength of my soldiers is much worse. If you really fight a tough battle, I am afraid that you will not be able to do the opponent...not to mention that the opponent has permanent preparation. For the protection of the fortifications, if you can't be defeated, I don't know how many people will die..."

Wanting to understand this level, he immediately said: "Okay! In this case, it's up to you to go around and intersperse, and I'll feint directly!"

Gorka glanced at him disdainfully, then snorted coldly, and said: "Now the team has withdrawn, but don't let the other party gasp, let the artillery behind you continue bombing, I will go and make a combat plan with my team, 10 minutes later You start to twist to the side, then you will launch a feint!"

The opposing commander also felt that Gorka seemed to understand war better than himself, so he immediately agreed and said with a smile: "It's easy to say, I'll call and let the artillery explode five more rounds at once!"

At this time, Hunter (Hamid) saw that the other party dropped more than 1,000 corpses and retreated, and the sense of accomplishment in his heart was overwhelming.

Then the adjutant stepped forward to report and said with joy: "Commander, the teams have just done an inventory. In the battle just now, none of us died and the other was injured!"

"F*ck!" Hunter (Hamid) slapped his thigh and said excitedly: "Huaxia people's skills and tactics are really f*cking! I have to call Brother Charlie to report!"

Immediately afterwards, Hunter (Hamid) took out the satellite phone and called Charlie.

Charlie had already rushed back to Tomson Yipin's home, locked himself in the room, waiting for Hunter (Hamid)'s follow-up feedback.

He knew very well in his heart that he was in Aurous Hill and he was really beyond the reach of Hunter (Hamid)'s situation.

And this is not a simple matter of rescuing someone, but a war involving tens of thousands of people on both sides.

In this kind of war, a powerful person has never been able to determine the direction of the war, so even if he rushes over now, he may not be able to help him.

What's more, such a long distance, coupled with the need to make a turnaround in Lebanon, even if the Concorde is allowed to rush over now, it will be a few hours later when he arrives in Syria. By then, the overall situation is likely to be settled.

So what I can do now is to stay on the phone and wait for Hunter (Hamid)'s feedback. If he encounters a problem, he must help him in time.

At this time, when he received a call from Hunter (Hamid), he was connected almost immediately, and asked, "Brother, how is the situation over there?"

Hunter (Hamid) said happily: "Brother Charlie, you are so amazing, every move of the other party is within Over prediction range!"

As he said, Hunter (Hamid) took a breath and continued: "They really used the kind of infantry coordinated combat method you mentioned. First they carried out a large-scale intensive artillery attack on my base and position, and then began to let Thousands of infantry rushed up abruptly, but they were too light of the enemy. Just now my troops fired back and hit them by surprise. They have now been beaten back. It is estimated that the number of casualties is at least 1,000!"

Charlie asked: "Then what is their state now? Have they started preparing for artillery attacks again?"

"I don't know..." Hunter (Hamid) said, "They just stepped back, and there is nothing happening right now."

Charlie thought for a while and said, "Then I guess they will continue to launch artillery attacks soon, but you must be careful. The other party is likely to adopt a roundabout way from the side to directly attack your fortifications."
