

The Amazing Son In Law ( Charlie Wade )

Chapter 3376-3377

This also further made him understand that whether he can be a blessing in disguise depends on whether he can withstand the attack of these eight thousand people.

Just thinking of this, he secretly said in his heart: "No! Now they only have six to seven thousand people left at most!"

In order to guard the attack of these people, he immediately summoned his adjutant and asked, "How many drones are there in our base?"

The adjutant said hurriedly: "There are more than 20 aerial drones bought from China, because the price is cheap, so I bought more at that time."

Hunter (Hamid) asked again: "How long is the drone's battery life?"

The adjutant thought for a while and replied: "It should be around 25 minutes, and no more than half an hour at most."

Hunter (Hamid) nodded and said faintly: "Although the time is a bit short, it is enough. You immediately order.

All drones are in a state of preparation. I ask to make sure that there are at least five drones around our base at all times. While observing in the air, we must be alert to the small groups of the enemy's detours. If there are signs of this kind, we must report it to me as soon as possible!"

"Good commander!"

Hunter (Hamid) said again: "By the way, tell the drone pilot to raise the height of the plane and try not to be discovered by the enemy!"

The adjutant immediately took the order and turned around to arrange execution.

Soon, five folding drones flew out of the hole in the reverse slope tunnel.

The size of these drones is very small, and the fuselage is just as big as a slap. As soon as they fly out of the hole, they immediately climb upwards.

Before the drones fly to a height of one or two hundred meters, the naked eye is basically It is no longer observable.

Moreover, once the rotor noise of the drone reaches a height of two to three hundred meters, it is basically difficult to hear, not to mention that the battlefield has been constantly exploding.

The enemy has no professional radar equipment, and these small aerial photography equipment cannot be found at all.

After the drone flies up, although the ground targets become very small, the opponent has a large number of people, so it can still be easily distinguished from the image transmission signal.

At this resolution, unless the opponent disassembles all the soldiers into individual individuals to act alone, otherwise, as long as there are more than ten people maneuvering together, the drone can be captured very easily.

At this moment, the Gorka, who was mobilizing the soldiers under his opponent before the war, did not know that all their movements were under Hunter (Hamid)'s close monitoring.

He can't even imagine that Hunter (Hamid) can achieve this kind of all-round airborne surveillance only by a batch of civilian aerial drones purchased from China with a single unit value of no more than 10,000 yuan.

This time, the Wanlong Palace lost hundreds of people as soon as it came up.

Since the establishment of the Wanlong Temple, there has never been such a tragic failure.

He didn't dare to report to the warlord immediately, just thinking about taking Hunter (Hamid) down quickly and shamefully.

After all, Hunter (Hamid)'s old hat, weaponry level, and overall training level are not even comparable to ordinary militiamen.

With so many elites, he was taken away by hundreds of people in one wave. This was an unacceptable huge humiliation.
