

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3380-3381

We have just waited for two minutes. If we don't invite our hall master in within three minutes, don't blame our hall master. Give the Banks Family a chance!"

Banks (Butler) was so annoyed that she cursed in her heart: "F*ck, from where did something shit the lord, isn't you driving eight Rolls-Royces?"

even the whole The first family in the country, you, the lord of the palace, are so awesome, can you beat our master?"

Thinking of this, Banks (Butler) responded with a bad tone: "There are too many people who want to see our master every day.

You have to report yourself to let me know who wants to see our master, and then our master decides whether to take out precious things. See you at the right time, otherwise you thought that our master would see everyone?"

"Report your family?" The young man sneered: "You are just a subordinate, and you are not qualified to know the identity of our palace master!"

Banks (Butler) felt extremely insulted, and said angrily: "I'm a f*cking servant, but you're not a f*cking servant? Everyone is a servant, what right do you have to talk to me like this?!"

The young man rushed in front of Banks (Butler) at a very fast speed. When Banks (Butler) was completely unresponsive, he grabbed him by the neck, picked him up, and sternly said: "Listen well, I am our palace master. One of his subordinates, one of the four kings of the Great War, is not a subordinate!"

Banks (Butler) didn't expect that the other party dared to do something with himself outside the door of BANK's house, and suddenly exasperated and cursed: "You're making trouble here, you're fucking looking for death! Come on, catch him for me!"

As soon as these words came out, the bodyguards around him, even Yoel from the family and other members were all ready to take action.

But at this moment, Elder hatt suddenly came forward with a solemn expression, and said politely: "Little brother, don't be so angry.

He is a housekeeper in the Banks Family. He is a bit arrogant and indulgent in the week.

Please see. In the face of the Banks Family, don't have trouble with a servant..."

Banks (Butler) was a little confused when he heard what Master Hett said, and blurted out: "Master Hett, you are turning your elbow outward..."

Master Hett stretched out his hand to interrupt him, then glared at him again, and then said to the young man: "Little brother, since your family hall mainly sees our master, please wait a moment. I will go and tell the master now. ,what do you think?"

When the young man heard this, he let go of Banks (Butler) and said coldly, "Better hurry up, you only have two minutes left!"

He nodded quickly and said: "Okay! I must be as soon as possible!"

After that, he immediately said to the angry Banks (Butler): , you come to see the master with me!"

Banks (Butler) was hurt in the presence of the subordinates of the Banks Family, and naturally was 10,000 unhappy in his heart.

He still wanted to talk to the young man again, but when he heard Old He said that, he didn't dare to disobey, so he could only follow Master Hett into the yard angrily.

As soon as he entered the yard, Banks (Butler) said very depressed: "He, it's not me, Banks (Butler) deliberately offended you, but you are too interesting.

It's just that you didn't help me in the situation just now, why did you stop me? What about me?

And you are still talking to that little bastard, are you not too particular about it?"

Master Hett lowered his voice and said to Banks (Butler): "I am not stopping you, I am saving you! Do you know that just the kid just now is far above me!"

"What?!" Banks (Butler) pale in fright, and blurted out: "This...How is this possible? Master Hett! As for the facial paralyzed boy, can you be better than you?

! Looking at the whole country, someone who can compare with you There are not many, except for the old man from the family who just broke through, who can be better than you?"

Banks (Butler) instinctively did not believe what He said.

The other party didn't even know what it was coming from, but a little brother who came down casually, would actually be better than Master Hett? What international joke?

However, Master Hett said very firmly: "That person's speed, strength, and physical strength are above me!"

As he said, Master Hett explained with a solemn expression: "Just now he grabbed your collar and lifted you up. The whole process was so fast that I didn't even react!"

"Furthermore, his arm is so powerful that it grabs you as a whole, and when you break free so violently, he doesn't even move at all!"

"You remember, it's not strong to be able to grab you, and it's not strong to grab you and prevent you from breaking free, but it doesn't matter how you break free, he won't move, he doesn't even have a millimeter of displacement. This is very strong!"

"Even if a master of Yoel's level is here, let alone let him grab an adult, even if he grabs an adult dog, he can't be able to stay still when the opponent is struggling to break free! also can not!"

"So, that young man is unfathomable and very capable!"
