

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3382-3383

Master Hett's words made Banks (Butler)'s heart suddenly nervous.

He didn't care about thinking about how to save face, but hurriedly asked: "Master Hetttt, if this person's strength is really higher than you, if they move something evil, then what should we do?"

Master Hett calmly said: "If the other party is really ill-intentioned, it may have already started. You have to know that they have arrived in a total of eight cars. The only person who has come down is above me.

The person in the car may be stronger than him. Under this circumstance, we simply cannot beat them."

Banks (Butler)'s scared neck shrunk, and hurriedly asked: "Then you are going to let the master make a decision now?"

Master Hett said: "I feel that the other party should not be malicious, otherwise they would not communicate in this way. It seems that the master should see their so-called palace master..."

Lord banks at this time didn't know what was happening outside.

Recently, his condition has not been very good, because Charlie suffered a lot of losses and his reputation was ruined

. The two sons were still missing, and he gave a large piece of industry to Zara, one after another. The blow made him very decadent.

He always wanted to find a chance to comeback, but when he thought that the mysterious master was so powerful that he could not even find out the identity of the opponent, he felt deeply frustrated.

At this moment, Master Hett and Banks (Butler) suddenly told him the situation outside, which made him even more irritable.

However, after hearing that the opponent is very strong, he did not dare to neglect.

So I could only cheer up and said to Banks (Butler): , go and invite their palace master to come in, I'm waiting here."

"Okay." Banks (Butler) nodded quickly, turned back to the gate, and said to the young man: "Our master has promised to see your Hall Master, please come with me."

The young man did not speak, but turned and went to the fifth car.

At this moment, a gap was slightly lowered in the car window, and he bent down and whispered a few words into the gap.

Then, when he heard what the people inside had ordered, he immediately stood up straight, saluted, and said loudly: "Yes, the lord!"

Having said that, he immediately shouted: "Everyone has it, gather!"

As soon as this was said, the four doors of the other seven vehicles were all opened at the same time, and two dozen men in black came down all at once.

Afterwards, these people walked out three meters each, forming a rectangular encirclement of the eight cars, guarding the fifth car.

At this time, the Rolls-Royce door of the fifth car was pushed open.

A young man wearing a black trench coat and tactical leather boots stepped down.

This man has a handsome appearance and a cold expression. His dark eyes are full of murderous aura, and he can give people around him a strong sense of oppression in an instant.