

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3428-3429)

Therefore, the first thing he thought of was that the Wanlong Palace, which had suffered a big loss, would definitely launch a revenge action against Hunter (Hamid).

So he hurriedly reminded: "Brother, you really fought this battle beautifully, but the hidden dangers are indeed not small. The Wanlong Temple is in your hands and the loss is so heavy, but they will definitely do everything possible to make you Pay the price."

Hunter (Hamid) sneered and said: "Let them come! I know their weapons are equipped, but the most powerful is the 152mm artillery. Facts have proved that this artillery will cause a substantial blow to our base. If they want to attack my base, they can only pile up corpses one by one!"

Charlie said seriously: "The enemy will underestimate the enemy once, but not twice. They have now figured out your general situation and reliance, knowing that concealed fortifications are your core defense, so they will definitely target this next. Perform precise penetration and strikes."

After speaking, Charlie said again: "Don't forget that the soldiers in the Wanlong Palace are all well-trained special mercenaries. If they give up frontal assault and change to all-round secret infiltration, your advantage will also be greatly reduced.

To a large extent, do you remember how I broke into your base? I parachuted from high altitude, opened parachute at low altitude, and landed quickly.

Your soldiers would not be able to spot me at all. If the other party sends hundreds of special forces to parachute down at night What do you do if you secretly infiltrate you from within your base?"

Hunter (Hamid)'s mood suddenly calmed down.

This kind of feeling is as if I had just warmed my body with a basin of charcoal fire for three or nine days, and then was soaked by a basin of ice water.

He realized that Charlie was right. The reason why he could really win was that the opponent underestimated the enemy, and the other was that he had strong fortifications on his side.

But what the opponent launched was a frontal offensive battle, failing to give full play to the real strength of the soldiers of the Wanlong Palace.

If they change the frontal offensive battle into a special assault battle, their soldiers may not be able to resist it at all!

If one's own secret fortifications are quietly pulled out one by one by the other side, how do you deal with it?

The opposing soldiers infiltrated their positions directly and broke them into pieces. How should I respond?

Thinking of this, he hurriedly asked Charlie: "Brother, you give me an idea, how should I guard against it next?! I don't want to win this war in a flash, and then be beheaded by the other party. what!"

Charlie thought for a while and said: "The most important thing now is to find a way to prevent the opposing team's special operations team from airborne at night, and then we should cooperate inside and outside."

"Yes!" Hunter (Hamid) gritted his teeth and said, "I have killed so many people in Wanlong Palace this time. They definitely want to take my skin and eat my meat!"

Charlie said: "Don't worry about it. The United States has been arresting Ben Ladeng for ten years. No matter how powerful the Wanlong Palace is, it can't even be compared with the United States. So as long as you fight steadily, they can't help you."

Hunter (Hamid) heaved a sigh of relief when he heard this, and said, "It's also... Brother, when you say this, my heart relaxes a lot."

Charlie said, "You must strengthen the investigation within 20 kilometers of your base area. If you find that the opponent's large forces are starting to gather at your base again, you must have the spirit of twelve points. , And once it's night, beware of parachuting."

Hunter (Hamid) hurriedly said: "Brother, let me tell you, there are several hidden outposts around my base, all of which are built on the mountains, and some are even on the cliffs, so as long as they attack by the army, I will definitely be able to advance. In control of the trend, the only thing I worry about is the airborne. They will fall directly on top of the head when the time comes. There is no good way to prevent it!"

Charlie smiled slightly: "It doesn't matter, I have a way! Make sure they come back!"
