

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3438-3439)

When the first group of 500 people landed near the ridgeline of the south wing mountain, another group of 500 people also jumped off the plane and began to fall toward the ridgeline of the north wing mountain.

Because paratroopers parachuting are affected by the wind, wind direction, and personal control ability, it is difficult for them to jump to the same area at the same time, so they can only land near the target, and then move together from all directions to the target area.

Generally speaking, paratroopers must prevent their parachutes from entanglement in the air, so they will maintain a safe distance from other comrades in the air. Therefore, they deviate several hundred meters when landing, and thousands of meters are normal.

Especially at night skydiving, even if it deviates several kilometers, it is not surprising.

Therefore, after the first batch of 500 people landed, the first thing to do was to quickly gather in the target area.

However, what they didn't expect was that they did not find any defensive soldiers, nor any hidden fortifications of the enemy when they parachuted down and the movement was assembled.

Checking the entire mountain through night vision, they did not find any traces of enemies except for their own people with special marks on their bodies.

Some soldiers with thermal imaging cameras also immediately began to survey the surroundings, but still nothing was found.

The reason why we can't see any enemies is that Hunter (Hamid)'s soldiers are now hidden in the fortifications on the slopes of both sides of the mountain.

The thermal imaging equipment used to observe the top of the mountain is also transported to the fortifications through the signal line, so the entire top edge of the mountain The line is now in an undefended state.

When the commander reported this situation to Chen , who was circling a large circle at high altitude, Chen was not too surprised.

Because he knows that the enemy has bunkers on the front and back slopes, and it is not surprising to ignore the defense on the top of the mountain.

If he is himself, he will not waste energy defending the top of the mountain when the front and back slopes are solid. After all, under normal circumstances, To reach the top of the mountain, you have to go through a positive slope.

Therefore, he immediately reminded his frontline commander that he must take advantage of the enemy's negligence on the top of the mountain to complete the assembly as soon as possible. Then the first echelon will launch a surprise attack, and the second echelon will take the opportunity to double-team from the north and directly block the enemy. Destroyed in the tunnel.

Chen has followed Wan Pojun all the way to the present, and he has fought similar battles many times.

He deeply understands a truth. When working on a concealed fortification, if one's own side is far away from the fortification, then the other side has the advantage, but if one's own side is very close to the fortification, then the other side has the advantage.

During the Southwestern War, once the enemy was blocked in the cat's ear hole, there was almost a dead end. Our soldiers got a few grenade to make their cat's ear hole their grave.

Therefore, Chen is ready at this moment, and tonight, he will wipe out the Hunter (Hamid) tribe!

Five hundred paratroopers in the first echelon quickly assembled. They thought they had successfully infiltrated this time, but they didn't know that they had been completely exposed to Hunter (Hamid)'s surveillance at this moment.

What's more, what makes Hunter (Hamid) excited is that there are six bursts that can be covered near the area where they are gathering.

And those explosive spots are buried with powerful explosives that can blast rocks!
