

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3474)

Charlie felt that if he really wanted to be in the Ten Thousand Army, to search for the whereabouts of the opponent's highest commander, and even to control the opponent, it was really unrealistic.

Aside from other things, he still doesn't know who the other party's highest commander is and what it looks like.

By the time there are more than 10,000 people inside, even if you can sneak in smoothly, I am afraid it will be difficult to find each other and determine the identity of each other within a day or two.

But thinking about this issue from another angle, it is not so complicated.

You can go directly to find him.

When Hunter (Hamid) heard Charlie's words, the whole person exclaimed, "How can this work? Brother Wade, this kind of thing will die for a lifetime, how can you take this risk?"

Charlie smiled indifferently, and said, "As your negotiator, I go to meet the other party generously. What is the life of a lifetime? Do you think they will kill me?"

Hunter (Hamid) blurted out: "It's not impossible that this is possible! The other party hates me now, maybe they will really take you out!"

Charlie smiled and said: "No. Thousands of years ago, our ancestors of China used to say that the two countries should fight against each other, and this is also the basic principle that all countries in the world have up to now. The convention is the same. Since it stipulates that medical personnel must not be killed deliberately on the battlefield, all countries must abide by this basic principle. Like the two fascist countries that did not abide by any convention during World War II, I believe you also know very well what happened."

After speaking, he said again: "The Wanlong Temple can grow to the scale it is today, and if it wants to take root in the Middle East, then they will definitely abide by these basic principles."

Hunter (Hamid) said: "But they may not be willing to negotiate with me. Their current idea is to fight me to the end. It is said that they have already let out the words, as long as it is in my base, even if it is a mouse, they are also Don't let it go."

Charlie smiled and said, "No matter how hard they say, it doesn't make sense. The actual situation is that they are in such a stalemate with you, and it will not do them any good."

Having said that, Charlie continued to analyze and said: "This kind of stalemate, on the surface, seems to be disadvantageous to you, but in fact, the real disadvantage is the Wanlong Palace and the government army."

Hunter (Hamid) said with a sad look: "My brother, in fact, to tell the truth, I sometimes have no bottom. My preparation time is not long enough, so the materials are not sufficient enough, and they are far less than the three required by you. There are so many strategic reserves in the year, and the number of people has doubled several times now. Nearly 10,000 people eat horses here, which will accelerate the consumption of materials and last a year and a half at most..."

Speaking of this, Hunter (Hamid) sighed and said earnestly: "Brother, using a Chinese idiom to describe me, I am the turtle in the urn!"

Charlie smiled and said: "What is the turtle in the urn afraid of? As long as the urn is strong enough, it is impossible for the other party to break your strong urn in a short time."

After speaking, Charlie said again: "Moreover, you have to understand that your current situation is completely different from theirs. Although you are trapped in Weng, the urn itself is your lair, and you are nothing more than It's nothing more than being stuck in your own home. There is food and drink at home. What are you afraid of? Not only do you have to be afraid, your quality of life will not decline due to being trapped."

Speaking of this, Charlie turned around and smiled: "But those who besieged you outside are not as cool as you. The 20,000-30,000 army composed of Wanlongdian and the government army must have been living
