

The Amazing Son In Law ( Charlie Wade )

Chapter 3539 )

Lord Wade laughed and said: "Why is it still going to be ineffective? In our Chinese tradition, changing your mouth on the wedding day is to pay for the change. Not only your future parents-in-law will give it to you, but also my grandfather. And other uncles and aunts will give it to you."

Helena was startled slightly, and said seriously: "Although I don't intend to offend, I think this custom doesn't seem to be suitable for me..."

With that, Helena explained hurriedly: "Mainly in Europe, after most young people go to university, they basically don't ask for money from family members. For myself and many of my friends, universities rely on scholarships and student loans. After reading it, I don't usually reach out to my family, so can I omit the fee for changing my verbal account?"

Jon Wade on the side looked dumbfounded, and hurriedly took a step forward, gently grasped Helena's hand, and said, "My dear, how can this kind of thing be omitted!"

Helena's beautiful brows wrinkled slightly unconsciously the moment Jon Wade touched her, and then she immediately pulled her hand back.

She didn't feel much about Jon Wade, but couldn't fight the family arrangement, so she had to accept the marriage.

And she also had her last struggle in her heart. The last struggle was that as long as she had not officially married Jon Wade, she would never have any close contact with Jon Wade.

These days when she came to Eastcliff, Jon Wade always wanted to go further with her intentionally or unintentionally, and even sent her back to the hotel several times, wanting to enter her room, but she declined.

Although Jon Wade was anxious, he did not dare to press too hard.

Therefore, I can only pretend to be a gentleman with a smile.

But in fact, deep in his heart, Helena had been reserved for a long time, and he had scolded dozens of back and forth.

At this moment, seeing Helena not even letting herself hold hands with her, Jon Wade's heart was even more angry.

He couldn't help but gritted his teeth secretly: "This Nordic lady doesn't know if it's a real classic or a fake one! It's like a lot of money all the time, and he doesn't even let me touch my hands!"

"On the day of waiting for the bridal chamber, if you are really a damn girly girl, then I will bear you, but if you have been with someone else's ill-fated flower and willow, then you will wait to get married. f*ck you away!"

The scene of Jon Wade and Helena holding hands and being dodged fell in the eyes of the other Wade Family members, and everyone had their own ideas.

As Jon Wade's father, Corran Wade was somewhat dissatisfied, thinking that Helena was not giving face to her son.

However, Lord Wade felt more and more that this Helena was a rare good girl. She was born in an open-minded Europe, but she did not expect to be able to adhere to principles so much. It is really rare. The Wade Family has such a daughter-in-law, not only can she be famous. It's noisy, and the chances of various scandals breaking out in the future will be relatively small.

If you marry an unruly woman, and then make some cheating scandals, then the Wade Family is really going to be ashamed and thrown home.

Jon Wade was embarrassed, so he could only quickly turn off the topic and divert everyone's attention.

So he said to Helena: "My dear, whether it's the bride price or the change fee, this is the family start-up fund for the two of us after we get married. This is the kindness of the elders in the family. How can we refuse? So you, I'm going to do what the locals do, don't care about these details."

Helena said righteously: "If it is the start-up funds given by the elders of the family, then we only receive your family's money, which is certainly not fair, but if both families receive both, we don't have this tradition. It's not easy to talk to my parents, so I think we might as well be more flexible and omit these customs."

Jon Wade's head grew bigger, and he cursed in his heart: "Did you let the donkey kick in your head? When you get married, you can get tens of millions of dollars just for the change of levy, which is equivalent to RMB four to five billion, you f*cking said. Don't do it?!"

Just when Jon Wade was very depressed, Lord Wade checked the time and said, "After all, Jon, you should go to the airport to meet Charlie, otherwise it will be delayed. Let's talk about these things later."

"Okay." Jon Wade could only agree, looked at Helena, thought for a moment, and said with a smile: "My dear, if there is nothing wrong with you, then go to the airport with me!"
