Chapter 3553 )

the risk of cardiovascular and cerebrovascular diseases. , Take some more blood samples back, and do all the biochemical tests on blood in the laboratory.”

Stephen Thompson said immediately, “Okay sir, I will make arrangements now.”

Jon hurriedly stepped forward and said in a very dissatisfied tone: “Grandpa! You really want to arrange a lot of doctors to come to check Helena because of Charlie’s words? Have you ever considered Helena’s feelings? What if she? What if I am very repulsive about this? What if she thinks about our family because of this incident?”

Lord Wade waved his hand: “This kind of thing would rather be trusted than unreliable. Let the whole world ask, if Helena is very resistant, then we don’t force it, but if she doesn’t have any opinions, then the medical examination will be done. Everyone is happy.”

Stephen Thompson nodded immediately, and said, “Then I will go and prepare, and try to find a female expert to go there, so that Miss Helena should not be too repulsive.”

Jon was depressed to death.

But at this time, he didn’t dare to say anything more, but the hatred for Charlie in his heart became stronger.

Immediately, he hurriedly looked at his father Corran, hoping that he could help himself.

Corran didn’t want to be so dumb, and immediately blurted out: “Dad, I think...”

Lord Wade immediately interrupted him with his hand, and said very solemnly: “I know what you want to say, hold back, don’t say a word!”

Corran’s expression instantly solidified, he could only turn around and back a few steps dingly, hiding behind the crowd without saying a word.

And he was so depressed deep in his heart that he couldn’t help cursing inwardly: “Hey!!! What the hell is this!!! The old man is so confused?! He is determined to protect Charlie!”

Although Cynthia Wade on the side hasn’t spoken, but the twists and turns in his heart, he no longer knows how many times she has been running back and forth.

She thought to herself: “I thought that this time Charlie came back to participate in the ancestor worship ceremony, the eldest brother and Jon would definitely not make him feel better, and they would definitely do everything possible to suppress him. In fact, the eldest brother and Jon did indeed do so. , But who would have thought that when the two of them add up, the weight in front of the old man is not as great as Charlie, who has not even shown his face!”

“Originally, I expected them to help me vent my anger, but now it seems that I want to lose my mind. If even they can’t deal with this Charlie, then no one in the Wade Family can deal with him...”

Thinking of this, Cynthia Wade suddenly felt that he had to quickly find a way to improve his relationship with Charlie.

Just as Cynthia Wade was thinking about it, Lord Wade suddenly said: "Cynthia Wade, you are Jon's aunt, just go with Stephen Thompson's steward. If Helena has any resistance, you can persuade and persuade. The purpose of knowing reason and moving emotion is to make her willingly undergo a medical examination. We also do it for her good. In case she has any shortcomings, it is difficult for us to explain to her family."

Cynthia Wade quickly agreed and nodded, "Okay Dad, then I'll go with Stephen Thompson!"
