

Jon Wade said in a panic, "Uh...that...someone on my side passed out...uh...I need an ambulance!"

The operator hurriedly asked: "Okay, please tell me the address?"

Jon Wade blurted out: "The address is Shangri-La Hotel... The room number is... The room number... Oh shit, I can't remember..."

The Chinese girl yelled: "Floor 8! 8108!"

Jon Wade said hurriedly: "Oh, 8th floor, 8108!"

The other end of the phone said: "Okay, I received it, 8108 on the 8th floor of Shangri-La Hotel. In addition, what caused the patient to pass out?"

"What's the reason?" Jon Wade said confusedly: "This...I don't know...I just fainted and become unconscious..."

The Chinese girl yelled: "Congenital heart disease! Severe tetralogy of Fallot! Please send emergency personnel over immediately, please contact the hospital with cardiology department to prepare to receive it!"

Jon Wade was stunned, and thought to himself: "Helena has a congenital heart disease? Or is it severe? Is it true that the damn made Charlie right?!"

Just when Jon Wade was stunned, the operator on the other end of the phone had already heard the Chinese girl's voice, so he hurriedly said: "Okay, I'll make arrangements for you! Please keep the phone open!"

At this time, the Chinese girl said to the Nordic girl in front of her again: "Emily, the condition of Your Royal Highness Princess is very serious, go get a defibrillator!"

"Okay!" The girl immediately ran back to the room. After ten seconds, she ran in with a first aid kit.

As soon as she got to Helena's side, she immediately took out a portable defibrillator from the first aid kit and started to prepare the defibrillator. The Chinese girl took a look at Jon Wade and shouted: "You go out! We want to give it to you." Your Royal Highness has defibrillated!"

Jon Wade subconsciously said: "It's okay, I'll be watching here, don't delay you..."

The Chinese girl blurted out and shouted: "Defibrillation is to take off your clothes! Don't you understand the principle of seeing no evil? Get out now!"

Jon Wade had to leave the room dingly.

At this time, in the room, one of the two girls continued to perform chest compressions for Helena, the other prepared the defibrillator, tore off Helena's pajamas, and said: "The defibrillator is ready!"
