

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3572)

Hearing that Jon Wade's instructions were completely different from those of the master, Director Ghafar hurriedly asked, "Master, should I ask the master for instructions?"

"No need!" Jon Wade blurted out: "You hurry up to rescue, be sure to take all the rescue measures in place, if Grandpa blames it, I will bear it!"

As soon as Director Ghafar heard this, he recalled what Jon Wade said just now that he might fall into trouble if he did not rescue him. After weighing it, he immediately said: "Good young master, we will rescue immediately!"

Helena's bleak eyes stared straight at Jon Wade, trying to condemn her, but she swallowed it back.

She knew that Jon Wade only wanted to separate everything from her impending death and didn't want to take the slightest responsibility.

Although she had some contempt for Jon Wade's humanity, she could understand it to a certain extent. After all, she deliberately concealed this matter first.

Thinking of this, she sighed sadly in her heart: "I should blame myself. If it weren't for Jon Wade's younger brother Charlie to break all this, I might still continue to deceive Jon Wade and the other Wade Family members, so I have this fate today, and I deserve it... .."

So, she gave up the last struggle and thought: "If these people want to pretend to rescue me, just let them go... The crimes that will be suffered in the rescue, it is my atonement for the Wade Family."

Seeing Helena's miserable and desperate eyes, Jon Wade felt a little guilty, so he hurriedly said to Director Ghafar: "Well, you rescue the patient, I will not be a layman here to make trouble, I will go to the door and wait."

Director Ghafar nodded, and said hurriedly: "Then, Master, please move outside first and wait for a while."

"Okay!" Jon Wade replied, turned his head and walked out.

Jon Wade is gone, and other doctors have rushed over, ready to carry out the final rescue of Helena.

Helena didn't say a word, her eyes fixed on the ceiling, she was already expecting death soon.

She knows that terminally ill patients who are rescued will generally suffer a lot of pain and torture, so she can only pray that the process will be as fast as possible and give herself a simple one.

At this moment, in Helena's mind, for some reason, she suddenly remembered the scene when she met Charlie that day.

I remembered the way he looked at his own eyes, and remembered what he said while holding his hand.

At this moment, there was a sudden excitement in her mind!

She remembered the order Charlie had given herself at the time, which sounded absurd, and did not even have the slightest scientific basis.

“He said that if my heart hurts and can’t stand it, bite my right middle finger hard... Will this method really work?”

Seeing that the doctor had prepared the defibrillator, adrenaline and various equipment for emergency intubation, Helena knew that even if Charlie’s words were ridiculous, as long as there were one ten thousandth, or even one millionth.

The possibility of one, at this time is also his last life-saving straw!

So she raised her right hand with difficulty and put the middle finger of her right hand into her mouth!

Holding the thought of doing another dying struggle for the last time, Helena bit her right middle finger forcefully!

For a moment, the severe pain made her brows suddenly frowned.

A doctor saw it and blurted out: “Director Ghafar, the patient is biting his finger!”

Director Ghafar, who was preparing to give her first aid, saw Helena biting her finger, and hurriedly said to other doctors: “The patient is likely to have hallucinations before her death. Leave her alone, hurry up and rescue!”
