

The Amazing Son In Law ( The Charismatic Charlie Wade )

Chapter 3625 )

After speaking, Charlie said again: "Besides, they don't dare to bring many people into China with a big fanfare. At most, they are just a bunch of backbones sneaking in."

Orrin Sun said again: "I heard that one of them counts as one of them. Almost all are martial arts masters, and some are extremely top martial arts masters. Can you handle it?"

Charlie smiled and said: "I fought against Wanlong Palace in the Middle East some time ago, which indirectly caused them to lose thousands of lives and more than ten thousand people were captured. Among them, the strength is second only to ten thousand people. One of the four war kings who broke the army is no different from a trash in front of me. I have arrested him and have been brought to Eastcliff. I will take him to Yeling Mountain tomorrow morning."

Orrin Sun said dumbfounded: "Charlie! There are rumors that this Wanlong Palace suffered a huge failure in the Middle East some time ago. Is this matter related to you?"

Charlie nodded and said with a smile: "It can almost be said that most of their failure was thanks to me."

Orrin Sun was dumbfounded, and after a long while, he wished he couldn't stand up to the sky and laugh!

Immediately, he laughed loudly and said: "Hahaha! Great! Great! That said, Wanlong Temple is not an enemy at all. This is a f*cking life spanning thousands of miles to give Charlie your pillow. Allies!!"

Having said that, he easily pulled out the infusion needle from his wrist and shook his hand at Angie: "Wife! Quick! Prepare wine and food! I want to have a few drinks with Charlie! I'm going to be drunk tonight!"

Angie was equally excited and intolerable, but she didn't expect that after her husband lost the antihypertensive medicine on the front foot, he pulled out the needle on the back foot and prepared to drink.

So she smiled helplessly: "You are infusion, how can you drink?"

Unexpectedly, Orrin Sun blurted out and retorted: "Drink! You must drink! This is much easier than the New Year! Is it fair to not drink a little wine!"

What Orrin Sun didn't know was that Lord Banks also thought so at this time.

This night, it suddenly drizzled in Eastcliff.

In this silent spring rain, many people have insomnia, and many people are greedy and drunk.

The first to fall drunk was the elderly Lord Banks.

No way, he is so happy tonight.

After the Banks Family suffered huge blows one after another and was fragmented, he finally ushered in an exciting moment.

Because he had been depressed for too long before, he was already a little overwhelmed at the moment.

He drank half of the bottle of Moutai that Bank's Butler brought over by himself, and he poured the remaining half of the bottle onto the ground by a cup and gave it to Bruce.

Saying that he wanted to respect Bruce from the Wade Family's family, in fact, it was just to satisfy his inner pleasure.

At the end of the drink, Lord Banks looked back and saw that he was quietly rushing back to Eastcliff with Bank's Butler. There were no children or grandchildren around him, no relatives, and he was extremely melancholy.

He drank a few more glasses, cried and laughed for a long time, and finally couldn't beat the drunkenness and drowsiness, and was sent back to the room by Bank's Butler.

And the same drunk, there is Abbas.

Because tomorrow morning, he will lift the coffin of his parents from his ancestral grave and take it to Yeling Mountain, so he plans to stay overnight in front of his parents' grave tonight.

After 20 years of enduring humiliation, now he finally wants to avenge his parents. Excited, he drank several kilograms of liquor in front of his parents' grave.

Originally with his strength, he could completely force alcohol out of the body through internal force, but he did not do so because he really wanted to get drunk.

On the other side, Orrin Sun was also drunk, so drunk that he was almost unconscious.

Charlie helped him back to his bedroom with Angie.

He is so happy tonight.

After worrying for a whole day, fearing for a whole day, and suffocating for a whole day, he suddenly got good news from Charlie. This mood of driving low and walking high made him excited and intolerable.

Angie took care of Orrin Sun and fell asleep. Stefanie Sun took Charlie's hand and stayed in the living room for a long time, unwilling to let go.

Charlie persuaded her to go to sleep, but she didn't agree with her life or death, she had to lean on Charlie's shoulder on the sofa.

She said that in this way, she could always feel the existence of Charlie, because she was afraid that after waking up, Charlie had already left home and went to Yeling Mountain alone.

Charlie knew that this girl cared about himself, so she let her go.

As a result, the two sat on the sofa, chatting about the past, until Stefanie Sun couldn't help but fell asleep.

Charlie just sat on the sofa and let Stefanie Sun lean against him. He didn't move or fall asleep all night.

He hadn't thought about Abbas at all in his mind. All he thought about was how he would inherit his father's will in the future and let the Wade Family reach the top of the world.

Although he knows very little about the situation overseas, he always feels that a broad road has begun to take shape, and he just waits for himself to really set off!

Moreover, like Abbas, he also hopes to one day avenge his dead parents!
