

The Amazing Son In Law (The Charismatic Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3646)

Hearing Charlie's mockery made Salmaan embarrassed and indignant.

Seeing Charlie's playful eyes, a strong sense of fear surged deep in his heart.

He subconsciously said: "This...this is impossible! My tiger is out of the mountain, even the eight-star warrior can't resolve it so easily! How did you do it?!"

Salmaan's words also asked the voice of everyone in the Wanlong Palace, including Abbas.

Everyone did not expect that Salmaan's full blow would still be too weak to scum in front of Charlie.

Their long-standing martial arts worldview was completely subverted, and they never dreamed that there would be such a powerful master in this world.

At this time, Abbas had also soberly realized that he had meticulously prepared a revenge plan for twenty years, and perhaps he had already declared defeat before he really took the shot.

In the face of Salmaan's "tiger coming out of the mountain", Charlie's performance could not see his true strength at all!

This is like weightlifting. When an athlete desperately lifts the maximum weight he can bear, even a layman can see through his physical state and expression state that he has tried his best.

If your opponent seems to have done his best when he surpasses you in weight, or is already very struggling and is about to approach the limit, then you can roughly judge his actual height.

However, if your opponent uses only one hand, he can easily lift your limit weight without changing his face, then you don't know where his limit is. He may be able to lift twice as much with one hand. Perhaps two hands can lift four times, eight times or even eighteen times the weight.

But because Salmaan, who was the standard of reference, was far worse than him, no one knew how strong Charlie was.

Charlie sneered at this moment, and said lightly: "I am so weak that I am such a dog, so I am embarrassed to call the tiger out of the mountain? Or change my name and call the cockroach out of the cave!"

Abbas looked at Charlie in horror.

Even the mentor of the Wanpo Army, the Patriarch of the entire Wanlong Palace, did not reach such strength.

Because of his mentor, he has stagnated in the Great Perfection realm of the Ming Realm for thirty years, and has not been able to break through.

For ordinary warriors, breakthroughs in a small realm are as difficult as reaching the sky, let alone such a big realm.

Opening up the two channels of Ren Du, this in itself blocked the vast majority of warriors, and the ones that could get through four meridians or even five or six were even rarer, and eight-star warriors were even rarer.

But wanting to jump from an eight-star warrior to a dark realm master is even more difficult.

However, in order to achieve the strength that Charlie demonstrated, at least it would be possible to become a legendary dark realm master.

Therefore, Abbas realized that Charlie's strength must have entered the dark realm, even if his mentor is here, it may not be his opponent.

What's more, in order to find a breakthrough, the mentor began to travel around the world five years ago, and even he does not know where he is now.

At this time, although Salmaan had been violently breaking free, his fists were still unable to move.

He looked at Charlie with a pair of extremely horrified eyes, and asked very nervously: "You...Who are you?!"

Charlie raised his eyes and said calmly: "I said, my name is Charlie."

After that, Charlie smiled and asked him: "Salmaan, haven't you been shouting that you want to kill me since yesterday? Why, is this all your strength?"

Salmaan was even more frightened. He was afraid that Charlie would immediately take his own life, and subconsciously pleaded, "Mr. wade! It's me who doesn't know Taishan! Please raise your hand and go around me once..."

"Spare your life?" Charlie raised his eyelids and asked coldly: "Did you spare their lives for those who were killed by you before? And who did you spare?"

Salmaan's expression suddenly became dull.
