

The Amazing Son In Law (The Charismatic Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3648)

Who would have thought that Charlie would have broken all of his meridians while twisting Salmaan's arms!

Being able to easily break all of Salmaan's meridians and ruin all his cultivation bases without making a sensation, this is simply the kind of crushing gap between humans and ants.

At this moment, everyone in the Wanlong Palace was desperate.

But everyone around Charlie couldn't wait to cheer for joy.

As for Lord Banks, who was wearing masquerade and filial piety, his whole body had collapsed, and his hands and feet were shaking involuntarily.

He really didn't expect the Wade Family to have such a powerful existence.

The Wanlong Temple that he relied on, the Wanlong Temple that he thought could absolutely crush Charlie, was not Charlie's opponent at all!

It suddenly occurred to him that his two granddaughters and his eldest daughter-in-law came to help Charlie, and he said in his heart: "Could it be... Could it be that this Charlie is the top master who has been secretly targeting herself?!"

Thinking of this, Lord Banks's heart was even more desperate.

But at this time, Charlie looked at Salmaan who had completely collapsed, and asked with a smile: "What? The dignified White Tiger King, why did you admit it so quickly?"

In order to survive, Salmaan lost his mastery. He took the initiative to kneel on the ground, crying bitterly begging: "Mr. wade, my arms have been completely abolished, and my meridians have all been broken. Now I am a complete man. I'm useless, please raise your hands high and save my life!"

Salmaan, who collapsed to his knees and begged for mercy, left Abbas's heart with ashes and shocked the other soldiers in the Wanlong Palace.

Although Salmaan was extremely angry, he still wanted to live, even if there was only a glimmer of hope, he would not give up.

Because he knew Charlie's strength, if he really wanted to kill himself, it would be as simple as moving his fingers.

Salmaan howled and cried, his arms twisted into a mess, he could only use the strength of his back to support his body and kowtow, while crying: "Mr. wade... I was wrong... I shouldn't be right. You speak loudly... not to provoke your majesty..."

"But... but I don't want to die... I really don't want to die..."

“Please, please, for the sake of my appearance that I have become such a ghost, please be merciful and spare my life...”

Charlie looked at him coldly, his voice suddenly raised a little, and he asked sternly: “You dare to be presumptuous in front of my parents’ spirit just now. You really want to kneel on the ground and beg for mercy. I can spare you a dog?”

Salmaan cried loudly: “I know I was wrong... I really knew I was wrong...”

Charlie slapped it hard, and said coldly, “Now that you know it is wrong? When you killed wade’s house with a cigar in your mouth yesterday, wasn’t it arrogant? Didn’t you say that you wanted to kill me first?”

As he said, Charlie’s eyes dazzled, and he said coldly: “By the way, don’t you like to smoke cigars? Then I will make you a cigar and let you smoke enough!”

After that, Charlie looked at Don Albert and blurted out: “Don Albert! Go get some yellow paper for going to the grave! Get more!”

“Good Master!” Don Albert hurriedly took out several bundles of yellow paper to be burned in front of the grave from the pile of ancestor worship materials prepared by the Wade Family.

Charlie took a thick bundle, rolled it into a paper roll shape as thick as a mineral water bottle, and then directly stuffed one end of it into Salmaan’s mouth, and said to Don Albert: “Come on, Don Albert! Wait for the white tiger king to smoke a big cigar that Charlie personally made for him!”

Don Albert smiled, and immediately took out the lighter and lit the other end of the paper roll. While lighting it, he sneered and said, “Mr. Tiger King, you’re so f*cking blessed to be able to smoke the cigar made by Master wade. I guess the whole world You are the only one.”
