

The Amazing Son In Law (The Charismatic Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3649)

As he said, he saw that the scroll was thicker, so he couldn't light it up, so he slapped Salmaan's face and cursed, "Damn, you are pumping! You don't smoke, what the hell am I? Click it?!"

Salmaan's mouth was filled with this scroll, and he was ashamed and indignant, but he could only obediently suck.

But the smoke from the burning of this yellow paper could not be compared with the mellow Cuban cigar. As soon as he took the first bite, Salmaan was choked with the thick smoke and coughed, tears and snot gushing out at the same time.

Charlie glared at him, and sneered: "Why did you lose the fan who was holding a cigar, spraying clouds and ranting in front of me yesterday?"

Salmaan shuddered when he thought of his arrogant appearance yesterday.

Charlie looked at him in panic, and continued: "Don't forget, you also killed one of my Wade Family nurses with cigar! Even if it's just one life for another, I will kill you today!"

Speaking of this, Charlie paused slightly and continued: "Don't you want to survive? First finish smoking this big cigar. After smoking it, I will consider whether to spare you a dog's life, but if you can't finish it, no Sorry, you must be the first person to die today!"

Hearing this, salmaan was desperate in his heart, just wanting to do everything possible to survive.

As a result, he could only desperately smoked the thick roll of yellow paper, and his whole body was almost collapsed by the heavy smoke.

However, he did not dare to have any negligence, so he could only do his best to inhale a mouthful of thick smoke into his body.

The soldiers of the Wanlong Palace at the scene were shocked. They all knew that Salmaan loved Cuban cigars, but who would have thought that Salmaan would end up like this?

Salmaan tried his best and drew fiercely for a long time. When he finally drew out a roll of yellow paper, he was about to collapse and die.

When it burned to the end, the burning yellow paper directly burned a bunch of singe bubbles around his lips and mouth.

Salmaan, who had finally survived, looked at Charlie intently, and asked softly, "wade...Mr. wade...I've exhausted all my smoking, can you spare my life?"

Charlie sneered: "Of course not! You want to live, it's definitely not that simple! Everything depends on my mood!"

Salmaan collapsed completely, so he turned his head, looked at Abbas with tears like a child, choked up and pleaded: "Hall lord...Save me... Save me lord..."

Abbas's heart at this time was also full of despair.

Never dreamed that this would be the situation in Yeling Mountain today.

He looked at Salmaan's painful and desperate look, and then thought of Charlie's incomparable strength, his heart was already dead.

He knew that his revenge was completely hopeless.

So, he swallowed his saliva, and said with a respectful tone and a somewhat hoarse voice: "Charlie... please let him go! You let him go, my Wanlong Temple will immediately evacuate, this life and this life, no more Fight against wade's!"

Charlie seemed to have heard Tianda's joke, and laughed: "Abbas! Do you think my Father's grave is the place where you want to come and leave?"

Abbas gritted his teeth and asked him, "Then what do you want?"

Charlie sneered and said, "What I think is, with the way of a person, he can still treat his body!"

Abbas asked nervously: "What...what do you mean?"

Charlie looked at the two coffins behind him and smiled: "Aren't you threatening to thwart my parents? It just so happens that your parents' coffins are here, so please work hard for them to experience your great idea!"
