

The Amazing Son In Law (The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 3969)

Helena didn't expect that Charlie called to arrange a VIP seat for her grandma.

She knew that with the strength of the Nordic royal family, even the first two hundred who signed up could not be ranked, and what qualifications did she have to occupy the more rare VIP seats.

Therefore, she said with some trepidation: "MR. Wade...Will this make you too embarrassed... Actually, you don't need to be so troublesome..."

Charlie on the phone smiled faintly and said seriously: "Your grandma has done a lot of propaganda work for me. I naturally want to express my gratitude, but it also depends on the mood of her . It is best if she is willing to come. She doesn't want to toss so far, so I won't force it."

Helena hurriedly said: "No, no... I'm telling you MR. Wade, my grandma was still telling me about this matter just now. She felt that the financial resources of our Nordic royal family might be difficult to be selected in the end, but she really wants to go to auction. She had a long experience at the meeting, and she was very frustrated. I believe she will be very happy when she knows this!"

Charlie smiled and said: "That would be great. Tell her about this, and make her happy. As for the invitation letter, I'll let someone post it in a few days."

"Okay!" Helena said happily: "Thank you, MR. Wade!"

Charlie smiled and said, "It's all trivial things, so why don't you talk about it?"

Helena asked subconsciously: "MR. Wade, can I go then?"

Charlie asked in surprise: "Your identity should be more sensitive, right? Like your current identity, you should go to other countries through diplomatic channels to participate in auctions. I am afraid that the process is not easy to operate."

Helena said in a frustrated voice: "Actually, I know I can't go... just subconsciously want to ask..."

Charlie smiled and said, "It doesn't matter. If this time the Huichundan auction is successful and the time is right in the future, it can be held in Northern Europe, and then it can be jointly held with the Northern European royal family. In that case, as the Queen of Northern Europe, you can Openly attended as a distinguished guest."

Helena wanted to participate in the Huichundan auction, not because she wanted to see what the auction would be different, but mainly because she wanted to meet Charlie.

She didn't know if Charlie didn't understand it, or if she understood it, she deliberately pretended to be stupid, and even talked about the topic of holding an auction in Northern Europe in the future.

Reluctantly, she could only ask: "MR. Wade, if you really want to hold an auction in Northern Europe, will you come in person?"

Charlie said very confidently: "Of course, I will definitely come in person for such an important matter."

Helena felt a little more comfortable now, and if that was the case, then she would still have a chance to meet Charlie.

So, she hurriedly said: "MR. Wade, that's all about it, you don't want to forget things..."

"Don't worry." Charlie said seriously: "I will definitely honor this matter."

"Okay..." Helena suddenly felt cheerful and said happily: "Then I will wait for your good news in Northern Europe!"

Charlie agreed, and after the two exchanged a few more words, Charlie said goodbye to Helena and hung up the phone.

Helena pressed her mobile phone with her hands on her chest, feeling extremely happy, she didn't have the temperament of the previous glamorous queen, she was completely like a girl in love.

The old queen hurried forward and asked curiously: "Helena, is there anything wrong with Charlie calling you?"

Helena said with joy: "Grandma, MR. Wade called and told me that he had reserved a VIP seat for you at the auction."

"Really?!" When the old empress heard this, she burst into joy, and asked her with excitement, "MR. Wade really said that?!"

"Yes." Helena nodded earnestly, and then said: "MR. Wade said, the invitation will be sent in a few days, then you can go to Aurous Hill to participate in the auction, and participate as a VIP. ."

"Oh, yes, MR. Wade also said that he might come to Northern Europe in the future and join hands with our Northern European royal family to hold an auction of Rejuvenating Pills!"

The old empress was ecstatic and said with excitement and excitement: "It's great, it's really great! Even those billionaires who are worth hundreds of billions of dollars have no chance to get a VIP status. Charlie can give me a VIP, then this Once our Nordic royal family will surely attract a lot of people's admiration! If we can jointly hold an auction of Rejuvenating Pills in the future, then the reputation of our Nordic royal family worldwide will skyrocket by a level!"

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 3969