

The Amazing Son In Law (The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 3980)

Not to mention a master with aura, even the more powerful martial arts like Abbas, this kind of amulet is useless.

The refining of a few amulets was very easy, Charlie made ten out of them in one breath, planning to put those two out for auction, and the rest would be given to his wife's friends.

After the amulet refining was completed, Charlie was ready to refine a stronger talisman for himself.

Although the previous thundering order can summon the sky thunder, if you really encounter a master, it may be difficult to kill the enemy with a single blow as before.

Therefore, Charlie planned to upgrade the Thundering Order.

The original thundering order was made by Wannian Clayton and Lightning Strike Wood, but because Charlie had less aura at the beginning, only a relatively simple talisman was added to it.

Now, Charlie's aura is much stronger, and it is entirely possible to stack multiple layers of talisman seals in this thundering order to double its effectiveness.

Therefore, Charlie spent a lot of spiritual energy to superimpose the thunder-inducing talisman seals in the thunder-thunder order to ten layers, and also added the wind-inducing and rain-inducing talisman seals. After the success, this thunder-inducing order can not only lead to a stronger one. The sky thunder can still call the wind and call the rain.

Moreover, the thunder-thundering command with multiple layers of talisman seals can be used as strong or weak as you want, and can be retracted freely.

When using it again, Charlie can activate only one layer, or multiple layers, or all the talisman seals according to his needs.

After the production of the new Thunderbolt, the whole has become more compact and transparent. Some of them resemble ice-seed jadeites, but they seem to be more hydrated than jadeites. Charlie couldn't put it down.

However, he also knew very well that this kind of thunder order should not be used indiscriminately at ordinary times, and it should not be used as a last resort, let alone use it with all its strength.

When I thought that the thunderbolt would only be triggered, even if it was only the most basic layer of talisman, it would be thunder on the ground, so Charlie began to wonder whether he should prepare a silent weapon for himself.

He is not a special agent or a special soldier. He can neither use guns nor love guns. He fights with people on weekdays, either by thundering orders or relying only on fists and feet. After thinking about it, he always finds shortcomings and safe offensive methods.

Charlie couldn't help but think of the ninjas he had encountered in Japan. These ninjas were two extremes opposite to him.

I don't wear any weapons when I go out, and the Japanese ninja can't even wear weapons in his throat.

In addition to the useful darts, sleeve arrows, blow arrows, and shurikens, there are also various long knives and short blades, and even the toes of the shoes have to be stuffed with two daggers, which can be said to be armed to the teeth.

Among them, Charlie was most interested in shuriken.

This kind of thing has almost the same meaning as Xiao Li's flying knife. The weapon is short and powerful, easy to hide, and can be unexpected when it is fired.

So Charlie followed this line of thought and found a magic weapon that was very suitable for him in the "Nine Profound Heavenly Scriptures", the Soul Blade.

Soul-piercing blade and thundering order are both a kind of magic weapon.

The thundering order uses aura to urge the thunder-attracting talisman to draw the sky thunder from the sky, while the soul-piercing is to use the aura to urge the flying blade talisman inside it, turning the aura into a silent and invisible flying blade. .

What Charlie valued most was the silent and invisible.

The reason why Shocking Lei Ling's appearance rate is not high is because this thing is too dynamic.

For Charlie, if the soul-piercing blade is refined, if he is provoked by the Four Great Wars of the Wanlong Palace, he does not need to kick the gravel, and he silently urges the soul-piercing blade to reach hundreds of meters. Take his head outside!

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 3980

