

The Amazing Son In Law (The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 3992)

She clenched her fists suddenly and said excitedly: "It really is him!"

After all, she tapped Charlie's photo portrait with her finger lightly, and muttered: "Hello Master Wade, finally meet again!"

After that, she immediately began to check Charlie's official information, but after a cursory glance, she was surprised and said: "This Charlie doesn't have any family background information?! No parents, no grandparents, grandparents, or even Without any relatives, did he jump out of a crack in the stone?"

skuna nodded and explained: "Miss, Charlie's life experience is rather pitiful. Official information shows that he was abandoned when he was born and then adopted by the Aurous Hill Welfare Institute. The household registration management was also chaotic. He has been in the orphanage until he is eight years old. After he is eight years old, the orphanage has applied for collective household registration for a group of orphans, and he is considered to have a household registration."

This is Stephen Thompson's brilliance.

Charlie actually entered the orphanage at the age of eight, and his household registration is not a native of Aurous Hill.

In order for Charlie to be absolutely safe, he must give Charlie a brand new identity, a local identity in Aurous Hill, and an identity that can withstand scrutiny and will not be seen through in the future.

Therefore, he invented Charlie's background and let his official information show that he was abandoned by his parents after he was born and could not find his biological parents. He stayed in the orphanage until he was eight years old and registered his household registration through the orphanage. .

In this way, basically it can be regarded as perfect.

After all, many abandoned babies who cannot find their parents will eventually have to have their own household registration. This operation can be regarded as a routine operation.

When Fei Kexin saw this, he didn't have any doubts, but couldn't help but exclaimed: "This Charlie's life experience is so miserable? And I think he seems to have dropped out after graduating from high school. He did not go to university for a year until he got married. Book, and I don't have a degree certificate yet."

"Yes." skuna also sighed: "It looks very miserable, and after he got married, his household registration was moved out of the collective household registration of the orphanage and entered into Jacob's household household registration. If I am not mistaken, He should be the son-in-law of the Wilson family."

"My son-in-law?" Although Fei Kexin has lived in the United States since she was a child, she was born and raised in a Chinese family after all, and she knows many Chinese customs very well.

She couldn't help frowning and murmured: "This Master Wade is actually a door-to-door son-in-law? If he really has such great abilities, why should he be a door-to-door son-in-law? Moreover, this Wilson family seems to have very, very average strength..."

In her impression, the identity of a door-to-door son-in-law can be said to be the lowest label in Chinese society.

Only those whose family is very difficult, or whose family strength and status are far worse than those of women, will give up their dignity and become the son-in-law.

After all, just being a door-to-door son-in-law means giving up the face of a man, or even giving up his original family.

Moreover, many Chinese families Fei Kexin knows because they have no sons or want to be more prosperous, so their daughters recruit door-to-door son-in-laws. Although these door-to-door sons-in-laws are well-dressed and pampered, they are in front of his wife and his wife's family. , Hardly any dignity, often called around and insulted.

Even the children born must follow the name of the woman's family.

It was precisely because of these impressions that Fei Kexin was very surprised. She really couldn't understand. If Charlie is really good, why should he be a small family and a son-in-law?

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 3992