

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 460

Furthermore, Ruby had two kids. She would be put behind bars if anyone found out about it, so it wasn't possible that she was so foolish. Therefore, the only explanation now was that Helen had given her some benefits to make her the scapegoat.

When Helen stepped out of her room and saw Chris, she said, "Chris, why are you still here? I've prepared a suit for you, so get changed now. We're going to be late!"

Emotionlessly, Chris followed his mother and got changed into his suit.

While tying the tie for him, Helen said proudly, "You look so handsome in a suit. From now on, you are the President of Fowler Corporation, so you have to be more mature."

Without any emotion on his face, Chris asked, "Mom, did you give some money to Ruby and tell her to surrender herself?"

Helen's chest tightened as she stopped what she was doing. A moment later, she replied, "Yes."

"Why did you choose her?"

"We need concrete evidence to make the police believe it. Ruby is beautiful, so it's reasonable that she claims to have been sexually assaulted. Furthermore, she needed money, which was why she stole stuff from us. More importantly, she was the personal servant for John." Helen spoke in such an indifferent way it was as though it was the truth.

Seeing that she had admitted it, Chris became agitated. "Mom, how could you do that to her?"

Helen raised her head and stared at her son.

"She's pitiful enough. How could you..." Chris recalled Ruby's swollen eyes last night. He was still thinking about how he could get more money for her to get through this crisis.

"In fact, she's lucky. After she surrendered herself, her husband and her kids wouldn't have to worry about medical bills and money again. Isn't it great?"

Chris fell silent and shook his head at her dispassionate expression. "But my dad..." At the mention of John, he realized he wasn't sure how he should address him. John wasn't his biological father, so it was inappropriate for him to call him 'dad'. "He's dead, so how could you still slander him?"

"He should have known this would be the outcome when he decided to kill my family members! It was because of him that my family was ruined, and I had to go through unimaginable hardship. There were times when I almost lost my life!"

Faced with the refutation, Chris fell silent and hung his head low as though he had done something wrong. A long while later, he said slowly, "Mom, this isn't good."

"What do you think is good, then? Should I go to the police station and tell them I'm the culprit? Is this the outcome you want to see?"

Her words agitated Chris again. If Ruby weren't the scapegoat, my mom would be the one going to jail. Moreover, she might be sentenced to death. In the end, he decided to give in as there was nothing else he could do. "It's getting late. Let's go." With a heavy heart, he got into the same car with his mother.

Helen kept looking at him as she understood the conflicts in his heart. It was because she had always doted on him that he didn't understand the power of hatred. Grabbing his hand, she said, "Let the past stay in the past and stop thinking about it, alright?"

"Can I really do this?" Chris felt his heart growing heavier as he didn't think he could ever forget it.

"As long as you're willing to do this, you can do this." Helen clapped his shoulder and stopped speaking.
