

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 467

“That’s right. Miss Yard, please trust us. I have to tell you the risks because I’m lawfully required to do so.” After summoning her courage, Selena raised her hand and signed her name on the agreement. She had signed many documents before, but it was the first time she found it so hard to sign her own name, so the signature was rather crooked.

“Alright, we’ll get ready for the operation now.” Selena didn’t even know how she got out of the doctor’s office. As she watched the kids entering the operating room, they were holding hands and smiling at each other, but she wasn’t as cheerful as they were. After the door was closed, she fell on her bottom and started wailing. Both of them are my kids!

In the past, when the nurse told her that both of her boys were dead, she wasn’t so sorrowful because she still didn’t understand what it meant to be a mother. However, it was different now because she had watched them grow up, and they were her treasures now.

Jude had to expend a lot of energy to help Selena up and put her down on the bench. “Selena, be strong and trust the doctor. He’ll definitely save your kids.”

Without uttering a word, Selena curled up and rested her forehead on her knees. At that moment, she was utterly helpless and wished that Pierre could be by her side. She was just an ordinary woman and a mother after all.

Just then, she saw a pair of shoes through her blurred vision. She was most familiar with the shoes because she was the one who bought them, and Pierre was wearing them before he left.

After wiping away her tears, she raised her head and saw the man she missed dearly. She thought she was dreaming, so she rose from the bench and touched his face. Upon making sure that he was really Pierre, she started tearing up again.

Pierre pulled her into his embrace while she sobbed and thumped his chest with her fists. She understood the situation he was in and supported him, but she still felt aggrieved. How could he not be by her side when she needed him most? Before marrying him, she knew that the road ahead would be bumpy, but it turned out to be more difficult than she had imagined.

“I’m sorry for coming back late.” Pierre hugged her tighter while Jude and Wyatt left the place to give them some personal space. After they took a seat, Selena rested her head on his shoulder while Pierre helped her brush away her tears. He felt sorry for her.

The firearms in transit were hijacked, so he had to bring his subordinates to get their stuff back. The mission was dangerous, and some of his people were killed. He also almost lost his life there. However, he didn’t want to tell Selena about it so as to not make her worried.

After the mission was completed, he rushed home without taking a rest, but he didn’t expect that so many things had happened to his family. His father was dead, Selena became the suspect, and Juniper was stricken with an illness. Why was God so unfair to his woman?

“How was your mission?” Selena came to her senses. Knowing that he couldn’t tell her the details, that was all she could ask. “It was successful.” “Were you hurt?”

“No.” Selena stared at him. “I thought you would never come back again.”