

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 478

Would Jude be devastated if she found out about it? Wyatt thought. "Okay. Thanks. I know the person inside the ward, so please let her stay there." "A-Alright." The nurse gave in eventually.

As the morning sunlight filtered through the window and cast its glow on Satan's face, he opened his eyes slowly. He had a long dream, in which Jude kept whispering in his ear that she loved him.

Besides his hands, he couldn't move at all since he was covered in plaster. However, when he tried to raise his hand, he realized that someone was grabbing it. Turning his head, he saw that Jude was asleep with her hand grasping his.

Her long eyelashes fluttered in her sleep. Satan always knew that she had long eyelashes. He even imagined before that their daughter would inherit her eyelashes if they even had one together. Gazing at her, he realized that it wasn't a dream—she was really by his side.

When a nurse, who was about to take over the shift, saw Jude, she quickly got into the room and woke her up. "What's wrong with you? How could you come in without permission?"

Jude was jolted awake and stood straight up. "I'm sorry. I—"

"Do you know that your action is harming our patients? We're in the intensive care unit!"

Hearing the commotion, Wyatt dashed into the room and pulled Jude behind his back. "I'm sorry. I was the one who let her in."

Seeing him, the nurse turned milder in an instant. "Dr. Spencer, there are rules in this hospital."

Noticing how Wyatt was protecting Jude, Satan was heartbroken. He must love her so much that he's willing to protect her. What about me? I've never protected her before. That's the difference between us. I'd always thought that I loved her, but other than pushing her into a state of despair, I've never done anything for her.

"Jude, get out first."

Jude was surprised to see Wyatt here, but this wasn't the right place to have a talk. Just when she was about to leave the place, she took a glance at Satan and realized that he had opened his eyes. "He's awake!" she yelled.

The nurse and Wyatt shifted their attention to Satan at the same time.

"Please get out now. We have to check on him immediately." Upon finishing her words, the nurse pushed Jude out of the ward.

Standing outside the intensive care unit, Jude was elated that Satan had regained consciousness.

On the other hand, Helen had been brought to the detention center for further investigation. Without any expensive dress and make-up, she appeared to be much older now. People always complimented her that she looked young for her age, but that was no longer the case.

“1468, you have a visitor.”

Hearing her number, she raised her head and stood up before following the prison guard. Seeing the man of her dreams, she started tearing up before she even picked up the handset.

Grasping the handset with trembling hands, she said, “Yoel, you’ve finally come to see me. Please get me out of here immediately. I don’t want to stay here any longer.”

With a dispassionate expression, Yoel replied, “I told you to make up your mind and not dote on your son, but you wouldn’t listen to me. Look what happened now! If it weren’t because of your soft-heartedness, Fowler Corporation would have become ours by now!”
