

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 480

Helen's hope, dreams, and longings were crushed into pieces at that instant. Like a mad woman, she started laughing in her room.

Perhaps Yoel had become sick of her the moment she made love with John. He didn't reveal it to her because he hadn't gotten his revenge yet. Now that John was dead, he did not hesitate to dump a woman who had slept with another man.

"1468, quiet!" the prison guard shouted. After laughing for a while, Helen turned to the prison guard and said, "I plead guilty. I plead guilty. Hahaha..."

The investigators were having a headache because of her reluctance to plead guilty, and all the evidence had been destroyed. Unless she pleaded guilty herself, it was hard for them to solve this case.

Since Satan had regained consciousness, he was sent to a general ward, while Wyatt was assigned to him as his doctor. Wyatt didn't want to accept the job at first because Satan was his love rival. However, he had no other choice because only he could perform the operation on Satan's leg.

Ever since Satan was transferred to a general ward, Jude had never visited him again. She was too embarrassed to face Satan, and she wasn't sure how she should explain herself to Wyatt. After all, she had lied to him.

Since becoming Satan's doctor, Wyatt had to work in the general hospital for the time being. On this day, Jude sent him a lunch box. Wyatt was surprised that she was acting in a way as though nothing had happened. "Jude."

"Look what I've gotten for you!" Jude shook the lunch box in her hand.

Wyatt sat down and took the lunch box from her. "Thanks. I'm hungry now after working for the entire morning."

"Have you been busy recently?" Jude took a seat across him and rested her chin on her palms.

"Not really."

While Wyatt was having his meal, Jude stared fixedly at him. After a moment of hesitation, she said, "Wyatt, I'm sorry. I didn't mean to lie to you. I just—"

"It's fine. I understand." Wyatt interrupted her. "Pay him a visit later. He's been lethargic recently. Maybe he'll get better when he sees you."

The smile on Jude's face froze. "I'm here to send you a lunch box, not visit him."

"I know. Please visit him for me, alright? I'm his doctor. If he's in a good mood, I'll be able to get him to recuperate quickly." Wyatt extended his hand and stroked her head.

Jude understood the reason he said so—he was doing this for her. “Alright. I’ll meet him for you.” Then, she rose from the chair and left his office.

Wyatt’s chewing speed slowed down in an instant. He wasn’t sure if he had done the right thing; he just didn’t want Jude to keep worrying.

On the other hand, Jude stayed outside the ward for a long time because she didn’t know what to tell Satan. Nevertheless, Satan had noticed her through the window. When their eyes met, Jude pushed the door open and took a seat beside him. “Are you alright?”

Satan blinked at her. “Yeah.”

“Wyatt is the best doctor here, so he’ll definitely get you treated. Don’t worry.”

Satan knew that the man’s name was Wyatt. He was his doctor as well as Jude’s boyfriend. Not knowing how to reply to her, he grunted in response.
