

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 573

Sure enough, Hades booked a private room in the best restaurant for lunch. By the next afternoon, everyone was ready to leave for the restaurant. Hades went to his brother's room before their departure. "Satan, are you coming to celebrate Jude's birthday with everybody?"

"I'm not going." Satan wasn't planning on joining the occasion. "Give this to her in my stead." With that, he took out the ring box.

"Satan, I don't think this is a good idea. It's better to hand Jude the present in person, especially when you're aware that she came all the way here for your sake. Besides, your subordinates will feel down if you aren't there. I know you aren't planning on requiting her feelings, but you should at least give her face during her birthday." While standing by the door, Hades was patiently convincing his brother to come with everybody else.

Satan's silence over the matter prompted Hades to go on. "Satan, you should come with us. We'll only be having a meal and a few drinks. Ever since you were disabled, everybody was feeling down, so it's about time that we have a gathering like this."

Knowing that his condition had affected a lot of people, Satan relented. "Alright."

Everybody from the base was gathered together, only to find out that Jude had yet to come out from her room. After a lengthy wait, she was finally out. She was in a red gown and a pair of 10cm heels as she walked out of her room elegantly. With their mouths agape, all of the men present had their eyes on her. Never had they ever expected the woman who mingled with them every day could look so feminine.

The red gown she wore accentuated her sexiness. Both the ornamental feathers and the cutting of the gown that revealed her shoulders showcased her boldness and sexiness that enchanted all that laid eyes on her. Without a doubt, she could dominate the whole place with just her looks. The back of her gown was hollowed out, which revealed her charming back and shoulder blades. The mere sight of it was enough to give the men nosebleeds.

Satan averted his gaze. Upon noticing that his subordinates were lusting after Jude, he got riled up without reason. "Who are you all gawking at? Have you never seen a woman before?" Inexplicably, he lashed out at them.

"Of course they're looking at me! While they have seen their share of women, they have never seen someone as beautiful and sexy as me, have you?" Jude winked at them. However, everybody had averted their gazes quietly as they dared not stare any longer. Instead, they were stealing glances at her from the corner of their eyes. It made them look lecherous, which was a sight that only served to further rile Satan up.

"It's getting late. Let's go." With a turn of his wheelchair, Satan left for the car, after which his subordinates carried him into it.

When Jude arrived in front of the car, she rolled her eyes. "I don't want to be in the same car as him. His sullen look will only sour my good mood."

Jude had been speaking to Satan in such a peculiar tone during the past few days, so he ignored her. "Close the door," he ordered the driver, which the latter obeyed. Sticking her tongue out to make a face at Satan, Jude got into another car alone.

When the car was driving on the road, Satan was looking closely at the car in front of him. What is she thinking about by dressing like that? The more he thought about what happened just now, the more pissed he was. I shouldn't have come today! However, he was also feeling fortunate that he decided to come, or else he was certain Jude would make more of a fuss.

Both cars were driving at a close distance to each other, so Satan could almost see what she was doing in the car. While checking herself out using the mirror in her hand, she seemed to be admiring her own beauty.

All of a sudden, the car screeched to a halt. It sent Satan crashing into the seat in front of him, the impact making him dizzy. When he finally regained his senses enough to lift his head, he saw the car in front of him was rammed into by another car.

"Jude!" he cried out loud. Although he wanted to stand up, he realized he couldn't. "Jude!"
