

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 613

Jason gazed at her sternly. "Pierre will most definitely be enraged. We have Grandpa and Grandma to take care of here. If Pierre gets serious, we'll never leave Astoria. Even if we do, he's going to find us, and he's going to kill us."

Linda stared down, sobbing. "I'm sorry, Jason." "You're lucky Miss Yard and I noticed something was off right off the bat."

"D-Does she know I'm behind this, then? Jason, she's a cruel woman. If she knows I'm behind this, she's going to kill me!" Linda held his arm. "You have to help me, Jason!"

"We were planning on waiting until the culprit showed herself, but then you and Grandma came. Don't worry. I'll settle this. She won't find out it's you."

Linda felt relieved. "I don't want her to know I'm here, Jason. Can you keep this a secret? There's bad blood between us. She'll kill me if she knows I'm still here."

Jason frowned. He wanted to know more, but since Linda didn't want to explain, he didn't ask further. She must have her own reasons. "You're my cousin. Of course I'll help you, but Linda, please don't take our grandparents' love for granted. They're too old for any trouble now. Come to me if you need anything. I'll do everything I can to help."

Linda nodded. "Thank you, Jason."

"It's getting late. Go to sleep." He left her room.

Linda could finally relax. That was close. I could have been exposed.

Jason was going to call Selena, but he found out she'd blocked him on all social media, and he couldn't even give her a call for some reason. He thought about it for a while and decided to just pay her a visit.

When he came to Fowler Residence the next day, Pierre was the one welcoming him, as if expecting his arrival. He didn't even go to work.

Jason asked, "Where's Miss Yard?"

"She's exhausted after what happened last night, so she's sleeping in." Pierre arched his eyebrow. He wanted Jason to know that he was Selena's husband.

Jason ignored that. "I'll wait for her, then."

"Nope. We got a little bit too much into it last night, so she can't get up. Just tell me what you have to say." He was trying to say that their marriage was going well, so Jason should back off.

"Mr. Fowler, this matter concerns Miss Yard, so I need to explain it to her," Jason answered politely.

"Mr. Murray, I need to make one thing clear. Selena's my wife, but you've been calling her 'Miss Yard' ever since you came in. Why? Do you think she's still single?"

“No, I am not.” Jason thought Selena looked too young to be a wife, so he preferred to address her as ‘Miss Yard.’

Pierre raised his hand, refusing to listen to further explanation. You’re just making it harder for yourself, so stop explaining. Not like I want to hear it anyway.

“If it’s about what happened last night, then you can tell me all about it. My wife’s problem is my problem as well. She tells me everything anyway, so you can just come right at me. Saves her time as well.”

Jason wondered why Pierre insisted on keeping him away from Selena, then he realized something. If even Linda thinks I like her, then it must be the same for Pierre.

I’d better not dwell on this. “A competitor did that. I crossed someone in a deal, so they wanted to get me embroiled in a scandal. I’ll settle this. I’m sorry for all the trouble M... Mrs. Fowler had to go through.”
