

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 700

Moments later, one of them placed their fingers below Selena's nose and realized that she was no longer breathing. "Alright. Our mission has been completed."

"Doesn't that person want the corpse? We'll leave it to them."

"How troublesome!" The person fished out their phone and sent the client their current location before leaving a voice message. "We'll leave the corpse here. Pay us in full now, and you can take the corpse away."

Upon hearing the voice message, Meredith was over the moon.

The 50 million spent is totally worth it! After Selena's death, everything will come to a perfect end. No, it's not perfect yet. I won't let her corpse perish just like that. I have to do something on her body so that she'll be shamed forever and Pierre will hate her!

With this thought in mind, Meredith transferred the remaining money to the assassins and drove to the location they had just sent her. It took her several hours to reach the destination.

It was the first time she was doing such a thing, so she was anxious. Nevertheless, knowing that Selena was dead, she was extremely excited. That woman is dead! I've finally gotten my revenge!

Seeing a figure lying on the ground in the distance, Meredith slowly approached the corpse. Earlier, she had contacted someone to come over and take off all of Selena's clothes. Then, her corpse would be raped and put in the busiest street in the city. They would also put cardboard signs beside her with the words 'Slut! Homewrecker!' written on it.

Simply thinking about it was enough to make Meredith thrilled.

I have to make Selena go through what I had experienced in the past. We're sisters, so I should let her share my experience. Haha, by then, everyone will think she's a homewrecker who was killed by the man's wife, and they'd despise her. I wonder if Pierre will go mad after he finds out about the fact that Selena had cheated on him! Apparently, he was interested in sleeping with me previously, which went to show that he and Selena were no longer in love with each other. Maybe he'd find Selena embarrassing and wouldn't even hold a funeral for her. Without Selena, I can also get together with Pierre.

Just then, Meredith saw the corpse moving a little. With a frown, she approached Selena to ascertain whether she was still alive. All of a sudden, Selena leaped to her feet and clenched Meredith's neck.

Flabbergasted, Meredith started screaming. "Ah! Y-You..." Anyone would be terrified to see a corpse getting up suddenly.

"You want to know whether I'm dead or alive?" Selena put on a smile. "Well, I'm a ghost. Are you afraid now?"

Feeling Selena's strength and warmth, Meredith knew that she had been fooled. "Selena, you!"

“Yeah, I’m still alive. You wanted to seek help from an assassin organization to kill me, but I happened to be a former member of that organization. So, do you think my fellow comrades would really come to kill me?”

Last night, seeing that Pierre was asleep, Selena snuck out of the bedroom and called back the person who had miscalled her—it was Hades.

Hades hadn’t contacted her for a long time, so Selena knew that something must have happened. Otherwise, he wouldn’t have called her. As expected, Hades told her that someone wanted to kill her and asked her whether she had offended anyone.

Initially, Selena didn’t know who the person was, but she had a feeling that it was the same person who plotted the incident near the kindergarten and hired Rick to seduce her. Therefore, she and Hades decided to go along with it and put on a show.

Meredith stared disdainfully at Selena and snarled, “You’re such a sly woman! You’re such a sly woman!”