

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 732

This neighborhood was rather exclusive, so it was difficult to come in without owning a piece of property. In order to facilitate access, Satan also bought a house here. He had just turned his car around when he saw Jude standing in front of him with her arms crossed. I clearly watched her enter the house! This woman!

Satan acted as if he was a child who was caught red-handed stealing candy. After a long time, he finally got out of the car because he knew that he could not avoid it. Then, the two people stood facing each other, but no one spoke.

Satan really did not know what to say. In fact, he had come by several times. His legs were not well, so he drove. Even so, he also wanted to see her.

“Why didn’t you come in?” Jude deliberately asked. Of course, she knew why Satan did not go in.

“I’m just passing by.” This reason was really awkward to the extent that Jude laughed out loud. Satan was also a little embarrassed; he had never been so embarrassed before.

“Come in and have a seat.” Jude tilted her head.

Satan really wanted to refuse, but he could not find a reason to, so he had to follow Jude. As soon as he entered the door, Jude suddenly turned around and pushed Satan, who had just stepped in, against the door that had just been closed, startling him. Looking at his astonished expression, Jude was a bit smug. “Did you miss me?”

Satan did not know how to answer. Yes, I miss you. I miss you so much that I’m going crazy.

He thought that with the passage of time, he would slowly forget about her, and he even tried to numb himself with work. Recently, he had taken up a lot of tasks at Zephyr Organization. However, all of this was useless, as the more he wanted to forget her, the more he couldn’t forget!

Without waiting for Satan to answer, Jude directly kissed his lips, which took him unaware. He hugged her tightly in his arms and deepened the kiss; he really missed her too much. In fact, he had never missed someone like this before.

With overflowing passion and unending yearning, they locked lips, turning all their thoughts into hormones that kept gushing out. Next, Satan picked Jude up and gazed at her while she looked back up at him. Then, he carried her slowly upstairs and went into the bedroom. There were no lights on in the bedroom, and the darkness allowed their affection to grow unchecked.

It was early dawn, and everything was silent outside, but inside the house, the wild movements had just ceased. In the darkness, Satan held Jude in his arms, his heartbeat still rapid. Jude’s hair was disheveled as the darkness hid her blushing face.

Nevertheless, at this moment, Satan was filled with regret! He really had been overwhelmed with passion just now and had forgotten that Jude was soon getting married to Wyatt. In fact, he had slept with someone else's fiancée. To be exact, that other man was his lifesaver because, without him, he wouldn't be who he was now.

"Sh*t!" Satan cursed. And so, he was ready to get dressed and leave. Seeing that, Jude propped herself up under the quilt, looking at the man who was acting like a cheater preparing for his escape.

"What? After sleeping with me, are you preparing to deny all of it?" The way she looked at him was filled with amusement. Since Satan did not know what to say, he simply continued putting on his clothes.

"Hey, I'm talking to you! I'm getting married soon, so now that you've done this to me, you should at least give me an explanation, right? How am I supposed to explain this to my fiancé?"

At this moment, Satan finally stopped. It was true that if he left, Jude could not explain it if Wyatt noticed something.

"You followed my car in the middle of the night, then came over to hook up with me. Now that you've had your fill, you're planning to escape. How could you do this?"

The more Jude looked at Satan's awkward appearance, the more enthusiastic she was about it. "I'll go tell him that I forced myself on you."
