

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 736

A long-distance relationship was hard work. Satan gently rubbed Jude's cheek and replied, "I will visit you often."

He wanted to take Jude away, but he couldn't be that selfish, as he knew she had her own dreams. She hadn't finished what she had promised her father, plus she was safer here than staying by his side.

"I'm warning you. When you return there, you can't touch another woman, not even her finger!" Jude lectured with a stern face. "Do you hear me?"

If he was like before and looked for women to vent his physical needs whenever he needed, she would never spare him. Speaking of which, Satan felt very sorry for Jude. He was aware that she gave him her first time, but he had had sex with other women early on. In fact, he didn't even remember what the first woman he had sex with looked like. "I'm sorry, Jude."

"Good to know that you're sorry!" Jude snuggled into Satan's chest. "Don't be with other women in the future, or I'll get jealous." At the thought that she had witnessed him making out with another woman before, she felt a little upset. So, Satan hugged Jude very tightly and answered, "No, I won't."

"Then let's make a pinky promise." Jude playfully stretched out her hand. "If you dare to have an affair with another woman, I'll slice your throat!"

With that, Jude made a hand gesture, and Satan laughed out loud with her. Despite the two of them being reluctant to part with each other, they had to be separated after all, so Satan left after Jude fell asleep.

When Jude woke up, she found the side of her bed empty, and her heart felt hollow too. She didn't think she would be so dependent on someone, but now she found that even though she had only spent a few days with Satan, she was already a little dependent on his presence.

Stretching her body, she felt awake for the first time in a long time. Yeah, no matter what the road ahead is like, Jude, you have to go on. Cheer up!

Selena got up at 4.00 AM, as every Saturday, Juniper would leave at this hour to go to Andy's house to study medicine. At this moment, she couldn't keep her eyes open at all. Selena gently patted Juniper's head and said, "Juniper, when you reach there, you should study well and not be lazy, okay?"

"Hey, Mommy, you've said that several times! I'm so sleepy. I'm going to the car to sleep." After saying that, Juniper turned around and got into the car.

Taking a deep breath, Selena felt reluctant for Juniper to have to suffer at such a young age. After sending her daughter, she went back to the bedroom and stared at the empty bed in a daze. She was unable to sleep now, and she did not know what dire situation Pierre was facing this time.

On Saturday, only the two of the usual trio were in the house. Joaquin was fiddling with his computer whenever he had time while Jameson, who had nothing to do, begged, "Mommy, why don't you take me out to play? I'm so bored."

"My boy, it's like you're the only one left in the house, huh?"

"Yeah, Mommy, why don't you let me learn something too? My brother is working on his computer every day, and Juniper has gone to study medicine, so I'm the only one left." Jameson pouted. It seemed that every Saturday, everyone was busy, and only he felt bored. In the past, when he was younger, he ate good food and played with puzzles and blocks to pass the time, but now these were no longer enough to satisfy him.

"Okay, then what do you want to learn?" Selena knew that Jameson had a photographic memory, but she really didn't know how she could help him develop this area. Besides, she and Pierre had never discussed Jameson's plans for the future either.
