

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 742

Joaquin shouted excitedly, "This bomb won't even be detonated because the so-called detonation device is fake. It doesn't have a detonation program in it at all! It will never explode!"

Selena looked at Joaquin in shock. How was this possible? Linda was not a fool; she was desperate to kill her, so how could she make a bomb that would not explode? Or was it precisely because she knew that this bomb would not explode that she tried to make her commit suicide?

A smile of relief appeared on Pierre's face as he stroked Joaquin's little head and then walked straight toward Juniper. At that moment, Selena was still very nervous. She was afraid that Joaquin had made a mistake in judgment, and her heart leaped to her throat. Then, Pierre calmly untied the ropes on Juniper and peeled off the seal on Juniper's mouth. In an instant, Juniper burst into tears.

"I don't want to play anymore! This game is not fun!" Juniper thought it was a game at first, but then somehow, she sensed that something was wrong. Thus, she was probably traumatized.

Finally, Joaquin showed a smile from the side. He did the right thing, and he had saved his sister!

Suddenly, a bodyguard ran in. "Mr. Fowler, we didn't manage to catch anyone."

"Rubbish! Didn't I tell you to seal off the whole place, and not a single place should be missed? Why couldn't you catch anyone?" Pierre growled. He thought he had cast a wide enough net, but he didn't expect the other party to still get away.

"But we didn't see anyone even after every area here was sealed and combed by our people!" The bodyguard also felt aggrieved.

Pierre calmed down and looked at Selena. "You take the children back first. I must catch that b*stard!"

Carrying Juniper, Selena nodded and followed the bodyguard out. On the way back, Juniper hugged Selena tightly. "Mommy, I'm sorry. I shouldn't have played such a game with you. Did I scare you?"

Juniper, who was back to normal, looked at Selena pitifully. She still thought she was playing games with Selena even now.

"Juniper, don't play such games with me in the future, okay?"

"Mmm!" Juniper nodded vigorously. "Never again. I'm sorry, Mommy. Will you forgive me?"

"Of course I will forgive you. Juniper, you're a good child, and it's not your fault."

"It's all Miss Linda's fault! She said she wanted to play a game with you before she took me away. Where's Miss Linda? Mommy, why don't I see her?"

Selena looked at Juniper's innocent eyes and didn't know what to say. Juniper thought that Linda was still the same Linda as before; the latter just wanted to play a game. Therefore, Selena didn't know how to explain to Juniper.

“She left? Where did she go?” Juniper pouted and looked at Selena. “She said she would play with me! Why did she break her promise?”

“She has other things to do.”

“Then will she come back for me?”

“Maybe, maybe not. Juniper, this world is like this. Everyone in your life is just passing through. They will come and go. You have to get used to the fact that you may never see some people again.”

Juniper’s head drooped in disappointment and she did not speak again; perhaps she needed some time to digest this.

After returning home, Selena settled the children down, but she could not sleep. For one thing, Pierre didn’t come back, and for another, Linda’s affair made her feel something was fishy.
