

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 748

While Pierre's words made Jocelyn feel humiliated, she was surprised by his blunt character. Therefore, her expression turned to one that was unpleasant. "You can't just take someone away by force in broad daylight, can you? There are laws that govern the society, so you can't just do as you please."

Pierre curled his lips upward and said, "Then, you should thank me. The reason she is still breathing right now is that I'm taking this matter into my own hands. If it were up to the law, she would have been dead long ago."

When Jocelyn shifted her gaze to Linda, the latter shivered and shook her head at her. "Save me, Aunt Jocelyn!"

Upon hearing the way Linda called Jocelyn, Pierre couldn't help but frown in confusion. How did Linda become a part of the Murray Family now?

In the meantime, Pierre's menacing look told Jocelyn that it wouldn't end well for Linda if she was taken away by him. "Mr. Fowler, I've already said this once. We're the Murray Family from Yucaria. Although we've moved there for years, our roots are still here in Digton City.

Thus, if we're really going to do this the hard way, I think the Murray Family is capable of giving your Fowler Family a run for your money. Think about the loss and collateral damage, or we can just wait until my son's operation is over. By then, I'll take Linda to your home myself and make her explain everything." Jocelyn stood up for Linda, protecting her from Pierre.

"No can do!" Pierre would, of course, not want to pass up the rare opportunity to capture Linda after all the trouble and hassle he went through. Therefore, he insisted on taking Linda away with him no matter who stood in his way, including the Murray Family. "Bring her away!"

"No! Don't let them take me away, Aunt Jocelyn! Help me!" Linda pathetically cried for help.

Soon, the situation spiraled into chaos, with more and more people surrounding them closer to investigate what was going on. Meanwhile, Pierre's frustration took over his patience and prompted him to capture the lady right away.

At that moment, loud footsteps were heard along the corridor in the hospital before Jerry was seen walking in the forefront with a few men behind him. Although the old man was already in his 80s, his steady footsteps still sounded like those of a young man.

While Jocelyn was merely just the Murray Family's daughter-in-law, Jerry was still the true master in the house. Therefore, she was over the moon as soon as she saw the old man.

Then, Linda ran up to Jerry and begged for his help. "Save me, Grandpa." Standing in front of him, she burst into tears and sobbed. "I don't know what I have done to deserve this from Pierre. You must help me, Grandpa!"

As Jerry stared at Linda in bewilderment, Pierre was taken aback by the old man's unexpected arrival, but because of Jason, he couldn't really place his face.

Jerry looked at Linda and turned his attention to Pierre. "Who might you be?" "Pierre Fowler!" Pierre proudly revealed his name. "What has she done to deserve this?"

Pierre smiled sinisterly and said, "You might want to ask her yourself. She's been trying to kill my wife again and again, and she even tried to kidnap my daughter. So give me a reason why I should spare her! If you can't do that, she is coming with me no matter who stands in my way!" Pierre clenched his jaw intimidatingly when he said the last few words.

Jerry remained rather calm, while Linda kept shaking her head in denial behind him. "No, that wasn't me, Grandpa! I didn't do that!" "May I know who your wife is?"

"Selena Yard," Pierre decisively answered. "Where is she now?" Jerry agitatedly asked. "What does it concern you?!" Pierre ran out of patience in listening and snarled, "Give me who I want, or I take her myself but be warned—you're outnumbered, so it won't be hard for me to get what I want. Besides, you look like you're in your 80s, right, old man? For that, I'd hate to hurt you or accidentally break your bones in the process."

Jerry's face darkened as he signaled the two men behind him to subdue Linda before they went ahead and acted on his order. "What are you doing, Grandpa...?"