

BABY MAFIA 941

Chapter 941: "A Dispute With The Mercenaries"

In the end, joining the mission was equal to representing the Irregular Tamer guild.

This would bring honor to the guild and to the members as well.

No one could refuse the sense of honor, not even these charm ability users.

Thus, on the second day of Ainsley's stay at the capital, there were already 200 members entering the capital city, bringing the banner of the Irregular Tamer guild.

At the same time, other powerhouses also summoned their forces, and various ability users came to the capital with different banners.

Such a lively day, of course, Ainsley had to greet the 200 members personally.

And this is just the beginning. There would be more members entering the capital in these seven days.

But one should remember. When there are a lot of forces, there would be a sense of rivalry between the parties.

This cleaning up operation had always been a place for each powerhouse to show off its might.

It wasn't uncommon for forces to have slight friction. As long as they didn't kill people, it would be okay.

But breaking legs, injuring people and such were all 'common'.

Of course, if the victim was injured so badly that they couldn't fight in the upcoming battle anymore, that would be a big problem.

Thus, there was a tacit understanding among the powerhouses' elite forces.

You could compare abilities with others. You could also beat up people but do it moderately.

After all, if the subordinates made troubles, the boss would be the one shouldering the blame.

If the relationship between these bosses suddenly soured even before the important mission, that wouldn't be good for everyone!

After all, although these bosses would have enemies and beef among them, this event was a place for a truce.

Everyone would temporarily forget the grudges between forces and tried their best to chase away the beast and monster tide first.

Against an external common enemy, everyone had to band together to fight!

Well, but infighting among these forces was still common and it also happened to the Irregular Tamer guild.

The Irregular Tamer Guild's first batch had just entered the capital city along with other forces when one force from a free mercenary team came to tease them.

Because most of the guild members were beautiful women and even the men were charming, the Irregular Tamer guild really catches everyone's attention so easily.

The boorish mercenary team that wasn't a part of the mercenary guild yet was considered strong couldn't help but approach these beautiful ladies and men.

The free mercenary team had around fifty members, and in terms of number, they couldn't be compared with the Irregular Tamer guild members.

The irregular tamers had around 200 people!

But these mercenaries still dared to approach a group of irregular tamers that were already divided into countless smaller groups.

Nalisha broke the huge crowd into several small teams of five, and there were 40 teams in total.

Ten mercenaries approached a team of five irregular tamers with 100% female members.

This group was the closest to the mercenary group's position while entering the capital city's inner circle.

Not to mention that the five women were all beautiful with various different charms.

They were one of the best members outside of the guild's core members.

The ten mercenaries had been eyeing this group of women, and when they weren't so far from each other, the ten mercenaries immediately struck.

"Yo, who is this beautiful sister?" One of the mercenaries laughed wantonly as he strode to the five beauties.

The mercenaries had always been a place for wild men and women. Most of them pursued strength and were very frank.

Usually, they were famous for being mannerless and a troublemaker.

Especially mercenaries that weren't registered to the Mercenary Guild.

No matter what they did, the guild couldn't punish them, and only the victims could retaliate to these unscrupulous mercenaries.

The five beauties heard the man's wanton teasing, and they couldn't help but frown.

All of them had successfully contracted a mid-level monster and a small-sized beast, so they weren't really afraid of these mercenaries.

A pity the mercenaries didn't see their tamed monsters because all of the monsters or the tamed beasts were gathered somewhere else.

After all, this queue to enter the capital city's inner circle was only for humans and not the tamed beasts or monsters.

It's all to avoid infighting.

One of the five beauties, apparently the strongest one, cast a disgusted gaze at the ten mercenaries and snorted.

She pretended not to see these men and even brought her four team members to avoid the mercenaries.

Such a move undoubtedly offended these mercenaries with big egos.

They saw the five beauties' badges on their chests and knew they were members of the Irregular Tamer guild.

But so what? Without monsters and beasts, these tamers would be as weak as chickens!

The person who was ignored immediately flared up and caught up with the leader of the five beauties.

The man flicked his hand, and barbed metal rods instantly popped out in the air.

The barbed metal rods lined up neatly and surrounded the five beauties, trapping them in just a few seconds!

The barbed rods were as tall as these beauties.

It's impossible to run away without breaking the metal rods, but the barbed rods would tear everyone who tried to touch it.

The five beauties instantly changed their faces, and the leader glared at the men behind the metal rods with cold eyes.

"What is this? Are you provoking me?"

The ten mercenaries heard the beauty's cold voice, but none of them felt that she was intimidating.

Another person in the small group of ten mercenaries immediately approached the metal rods and sneered.

"Provoking a slut like you?"

Chapter 942: "The Ladies' Counterattack"

"Just a bunch of sluts. Why should we provoke you? Aren't you guys the ones provoking us first? Shameless."

The men laughed maliciously along with that man and immediately mocked the five beauties while secretly eyeing their bodies.

"Going around with that kind of clothes. Aren't you guys just asking for it?"

"Hahaha. What Irregular Tamer. Just a bunch of prostitutes still wants to act all high and mighty."

"Without beasts or monsters, what can you do? Twist your body to seduce your opponent?"

"Heheheheh. Sluts will always be sluts. What's the use of playing hard to get?"

The men's words became more unbearable, and even those not involved in this ridiculous infighting couldn't help but look at the mercenaries with cold eyes.

There were a lot of powerful women in the line, and they were also offended by these mercenaries' words.

But when they wanted to help, their team leaders would immediately stop them.

"What are you doing? Don't go there and provoke other forces."

"But, leader—"

"I know you're mad. Even a man like me also can't bear to see their behavior."

The leader wrinkled his eyebrows and sighed

"But remember that team is strong. If you go there and fight— you will only drag our whole force to fight, which won't be good for us."

The weaker forces knew not to find trouble with other strong forces, so usually, only the strong forces would provoke other strong forces.

A case like this one where a group of powerful ability users bullied the 'weak' was actually uncommon.

After all, most other women were mixed with a group of men, and these men wouldn't let other forces' men tease their comrades.

A pity...the Irregular Tamer guild had 90% female members, and the number of male members was extremely small.

Even those who could come to the capital to join the mission were primarily women.

The weaker forces didn't dare to step up to support the irregular tamer guild members while the strong forces didn't care about the weak.

They ignored the commotion and only thought of watching a fun fight.

The five beauties felt like monkeys in a zoo where a lot of people could come and go as they pleased while laughing at them behind the cage.

The team leader's face darkened, and she locked eyes with one of the mercenaries closest to the metal 'cage'.

If this was before she joined the Irregular Tamer guild, she might have to seduce her opponent, and the impact might be minimal for powerful enemies.

But now...she learned a few tricks from the guild founder and successfully obtained a unique skill.

She was a type of woman that could seduce people with her fox-like gaze. Her strength was in her peach blossom eyes with pupils full of stars.

The woman only looked at the target's eyes and blinked softly, but her charm ability already madly rushed into the man's eyes.

The moment it hit the target, the woman used her newly obtained skill– 'One Gaze to Freeze You'.

There was a saying that when someone was enchanted by someone or something, their brain might freeze and stop working.

Then, the whole body also froze.

The person would be as stiff as a wood statue and wouldn't be able to do anything. Only the beauty would be in their eyes.

This woman was enlightened after receiving Ainsley's training and got such a skill.

One glance and the person charmed by her charm ability would only look at her foolishly and couldn't move at all.

Yes. In just seconds, the person suddenly stopped moving. His face was like he's in a trance, and his eyes were blurry.

There's a foolish smile on his face, as if he has lost his mind.

"Hehehe. Beautiful lady...hehehe..."

The person kept mumbling and he already started to drool like an idiot.

No one noticed this scene but the other four ladies immediately knew that their leader had signaled them to counterattack.

Each of these women gained their own charm skill, and it could be used against humans too!

The second lady was a typical elegant and gentle big sister.

She flipped her hair elegantly, and the target she locked on suddenly felt his knees weakening.

She had used the 'Fall Head Over Heels' skill!

When someone was charmed, there were cases where they felt they had no strength, simply because the other person was too charming.

This skill was inspired from that situation.

The targeted mercenary really lost his strength and fell to the ground on his knees.

"Ouch!"

Even his head almost touched the ground to kiss someone else's heels.

But because he wasn't close to the metal 'cage', none of his friends noticed his strange move.

Not to be outdone, the third lady puckered her lips and sent a flying kiss to the nearest mercenary from her position.

She was a typical naughty and lively little lady who had a bit of a teen's immature charm.

She used the 'Heart Stop Beating' skill!

It was said that when people fell in love or were dazzled by beauties, their hearts would stop working for a second.

The targeted person felt his heart stopped beating for real, but it's not only for a second.

It really gave him a real, physical heart attack.

"Ah!"

Bang!

The man fell to the ground while clutching his chest.

Then, the fourth and the fifth lady immediately launched their attack on the person who created the metal rods.

This person was stronger than other mercenaries, so the beauties decided to attack him together.

The fourth lady was a type of sweet girl with a beautiful smile.

Her smile was called the crescent moon smile because when she smiled, her eyes became like a crescent moon, so beautiful and dazzling.

Then, she used her smile to attack!

Chapter 943: "Offending Someone Who Can't Be Offended"

The lady beamed a smile at the mercenary, and in that moment she activated the skill 'A Blinding Smile.'

It was said that when a person's smile was so bright and dazzling, the other party would be momentarily blinded by the bright smile.

The mercenary really was blinded, but it wasn't a metaphor anymore. It became reality.

His eyesight instantly blackened, and he didn't know what had happened!

"Ahh! Ahhh! My eyes! My eyes!" The man roared in panic and ran around to find his people.

A pity, before he could do anything, the fifth lady had already launched her offense.

The lady was a sexy and dangerous type of beauty. She's like a poisonous yet beautiful flower.

Of course, beautiful flowers had thorns, and this flower had poison.

The fifth lady just twisted her waist seductively and licked her lips while looking at the blinded mercenary.

Strangely, she didn't rely on her sexy appearance to subdue others but relied on her sensual fragrance.

When she twisted her waist and licked her lips, a dizzying fragrance swept over the blinded mercenary and even affected others around him.

She used the skill 'One Sniff K.O!'

The moment the mercenaries inhaled this sweet yet dizzying fragrance, they all felt like they were drowning in alcohol.

They didn't drink alcohol, but they acted as if they were drunk!

They couldn't use their strength anymore, and their brains felt mussy.

Especially the blinded mercenary.

When your eyes can't see, your sense of hearing and smell becomes stronger.

This kind of sexy and enchanting fragrance had double the effect on him.

The moment he inhaled the fragrance mixed with the lady's charm ability, he instantly fell to the ground unconscious.

He was so drunk in the sweet fragrance that he fainted!

Once he fainted, the metal rods instantly disappeared, and the five ladies were free.

Each of them hastily whistled and called their small-sized beasts or monsters from far away.

The mid-sized or large-sized monsters and beasts couldn't accompany their masters to queue here, but the small monsters and beasts could.

The five ladies summoned their beasts and monsters at the same time, and various small war pets instantly ran to their masters.

One of them was even a flying-type beast, an owl.

It flew sharply to its master's shoulder and stood there with eyes full of arrogance.

The commotion just now was so big that when almost all the ten mercenaries were down, the others noticed the infighting.

A fellow Irregular Tamer guild member also saw the scene and hurriedly went to the scene with other members, but the mercenaries also came.

200 irregular tamers faced 50 mercenaries, and they surrounded the scene.

"What's going on here?! Why are my people on the ground?"

The leader of the mercenary team came forward and looked at the ten mercenaries.

Each of them looked as if they had been affected by something, and none of them was sane!

Some were screaming. Some were like fools. The others were either kneeling or wasted to the bone.

The heck?! Just what happened?!

Anyone with eyes could see that these mercenaries were defeated even before they could use their abilities.

The mercenary leader was so ashamed and mad that he became aggressive.

He looked at the Irregular Tamer team's temporary leader and roared.

"What is this? What's going on? Explain! How can you attack others so wantonly?"

The leader didn't know that his people were the first one to offend others, but the temporary irregular tamer leader knew.

She was close to Nalisha and could be said as her junior.

She was chosen to lead these 200 members to meet Nalisha and the others after entering the city's inner circle.

Who would have known that some people would covet her people and even acted as rogue?

The leader was surprisingly someone with a baby face and had a loli charm.

She was eighteen years old, but she looked like she was only in middle-high school.

The baby-faced leader also had a cute and milky voice but her tone of voice was extremely cold.

"What? You want to put all the blame on my people? Who doesn't know that your dog men are the ones who offend us first?!"

The short, baby-faced leader folded her arms in front of her chest.

She lifted her chin and looked down on others even when others were taller than her.

Her back was straight and her bearing was exactly like a princess, but this one wasn't a weak princess.

Surprisingly, her aura wasn't inferior to the muscular and tall mercenary leader in front of her.

The mercenary leader had tattoos on his face, and his bald head only made him look scarier.

Still, the baby-faced leader's momentum was on par with this scary thug!

Oh, this leader had learned well from Ainsley.

The mercenary leader's face changed when he heard that it was his people who first offended others.

He wasn't really unruly, unlike his men. After all, the real leader of their mercenary team was not him, and he was just a temporary leader.

He knew who to offend and who not to offend, especially when the boss had sent him a list of people he couldn't offend last night.

There's one person he remembered very clearly because of the person's unique identity.

It was the baby mafia boss— Ainsley Sloan.

And the force she summoned to the capital was her newly built Irregular Tamer Guild.

Looking at these people's uniform cloak and their badges...

Aren't they the irregular tamer guild members?

The mercenary leader's fierce momentum suddenly deflated like a balloon.

No, no, even if their free mercenary group was large and powerful, it still couldn't be compared to a tenth of the Sloan Family or the entire Irregular Tamer guild!

Oh, no. Help! They're done for!

Chapter 944: "End Of Commotion"

The low-level people like the ten mercenaries might not know about their opponent's true strength, but his boss knew and especially warned him about this.

The leader's face blackened, and he suddenly wished he could kill these useless men.

They offended these tamers, but they were also even beaten black and blue while the women were still as graceful as before!

It immediately proved that what his boss said was true.

Just look at these defeated men.

Which of them weren't dual ability users and elites among the mercenary team members?

But they were defeated by mere charm ability users!

The temporary team leader was so terrified that he almost fainted on the spot.

He looked at the 200-ish irregular tamers, and he got goosebumps.

"This...I think there is a misunderstanding."

The temporary mercenary leader rubbed his palms together as he smiled apologetically to the tamers in front of him.

His tone was soft and humble when he spoke, totally unlike his arrogance before.

The leader's sudden change of attitude caught the mercenary members off guard.

Why is their leader like this? Why so humble?! What's wrong with these 'weak' women??

The other mercenary members that didn't know what happened with the ten mercenaries felt that their temporary leader was too strange.

So, the vice leader immediately approached the leader and whispered.

"Leader, why are you so polite to them? They're just weak women! And they messed with our people."

The vice leader frowned as he peeked at the women with eyes full of disgust.

"We have to teach them a lesson!"

When the leader heard this, the veins on his forehead were already throbbing and bulging to the point of almost bursting.

What did this idiot say? Teach these women a lesson? Sorry, I don't dare!

The leader gritted his teeth and jabbed the vice leader with his elbow.

"Shut up, moron! Don't you know the Sloan Family is the one backing this irregular tamer guild?"

"Our mercenary group can't be compared to the Sloan Family at all!" The leader added.

The vice leader was also taken aback.

He did hear the rumors about the irregular tamer guild and the Sloan Family.

However, he had just realized that the women in front of him were irregular tamers!

He thought they were free tamers who didn't belong to the monster tamer guild's active members of the beast tamer guild.

It turned out they were irregular tamers?

But a lot of their people already knew that these women were charm ability users thanks to their good appearances.

What they didn't know is that...they were irregular tamers!

The vice leader suddenly broke into a cold sweat, just like the temporary leader.

Fck. Fck. The Sloan Family backs the irregular tamer guild.

Who doesn't know that the Sloan Family is a new gigantic powerhouse nowadays?

No one dared to provoke them.

Even the Aretha Family suffered when they attacked the Sloan Family, and that was when the Sloan Family was still way weaker than now.

Their free mercenary group was indeed a powerful organization belonging to the top 200 powerhouses in this country.

They were also invited to join this event because a lot of their members had unique abilities that were effective against monsters and beasts.

But compared to the Sloan Family, they're not even equal to the Sloan Family's toes!

The vice leader looked at the temporary leader and hurriedly stepped up to apologize!

"These ladies, I think our people provoked and harassed you first. We sincerely apologized for their beastly behavior!"

When it was the vice leader's turn to speak, and he immediately apologized, the mercenary group members were all stunned.

...now the vice leader is also crazy??

Before they could think further, the vice leader already looked back and glared at them.

"What are you looking at? Hurry! Apologize to these ladies!"

...now he wanted us to apologize?!

The mercenary members were dizzy with shock, but no matter how dissatisfied they were, they had to listen to the leader and the vice leader.

Thus, they were forced to drag their ten companions to the group and then apologized to these women.

"We apologize for offending you!"

After that, the leader and the vice leader gave a lot of items and money to the loli temporary leader of the irregular tamer guild.

Once they gave the ladies a bunch of items as compensation, they ran away with their tails tucked between their legs.

All the people who were watching the fun couldn't help but gasp in awe at such an ending.

"Hey, hey, this group of ladies are awesome, okay? They chase away that bunch of mercenaries without fighting!"

"Well, that's because the guild has a strong backer. This guild will be included in one of the top guilds in our country."

"True, true. The Sloan Family backed the guild. No one can mess with them!"

"You see, the Sloan Family is already a giant and will soon be comparable to the 7 great or 7 sacred families."

"I think they're already on par with the lower level members of the 7 great or seven sacred families."

"Agree, agree."

"Huft...thank God we have eyes and don't rashly offend these beautiful ladies and gentlemen. If not...I don't know what will happen."

The top powerhouses' forces were also silently noting down the Irregular Tamer guild as a force that could be their rivals.

Since the irregular guild tamers had shown their might under Ainsley's teaching, no one could easily offend them again.

Unless they wanted to compare abilities with a friendly intention.

Thankfully, the commotion wasn't that serious, and many other forces also fought for fun.

Otherwise, the authorities here would catch them and ban them from entering the inner city!

Chapter 945: "Mysterious Woman"

Thank God the irregular tamer group could advance smoothly and not get caught in trouble.

But what they didn't know is that not far from their place, Ainsley and the other powerhouses' leaders were watching the whole commotion!

When these bosses first saw Ainsley's people get into trouble, all of them were curious to see how these ladies could survive.

"Say, little boss. Your people are women and charm ability users."

Scob nudged Ainsley gently as he pointed at the people below the city's inner wall.

"Mi know they're good when facing beasts and monsters, but what about humans?"

The other bosses who came to the inner city wall to look at their people were also attracted by this commotion.

It was the first time they would see the irregular tamer guild in action!

But Ainsley was calm when facing this trouble and even smiled proudly on behalf of her people.

"Don't worry. I've taught them how to deal with humans using charms. I'm also a charm ability user, and I can even kill people using my charm."

Ainsley laughed but her laughter was really eerie...especially when she said she could kill using her charms.

But that's true!

The bosses here knew about Ainsley's marvelous charm ability and how she could even use it as an offensive skill.

If she taught these tamers how to use their charm abilities against humans, they would be as deadly as Ain!

Indeed, after watching the commotion, the bosses felt they were enlightened.

"So the charm ability can be used like that! Oh gosh, little boss. You're really awesome." Scob wasn't stingy to praise Ainsley to the moon.

The others who weren't a part of Ainsley's small team were also amazed.

In their mind, charm ability users were one of the lower-level ability users in their society.

It was already good for them to be able to charm and tame monsters or beasts, but if they wanted to fight other ability users...

That would be hard.

However, who would have known that Ainsley could change all of this?!

Looking at the Irregular Tamer guild members' actions just now, these bosses were impressed.

"Little boss, your guild will really become one of the top guilds in our country and even abroad."

Scob shook his head as he felt a bit overwhelmed.

His guild was invited to this yearly event not because they're strong but because they're unique, and the government needed them in this plan.

On the other hand, Ainsley and her guild were invited solely because they're strong!

Ainsley didn't even bring the Sloan Family people with her, only the Irregular Tamer guild members.

But this alone could already show others how much power Ainsley had in her hands.

The other bosses finally witnessed the irregular tamer guild's strength and immediately told their people not to mess with these beautiful men and women.

Beautiful things either had poison or thorns!

Ainsley only smiled at these bosses as they praised her guild members.

Of course, she was proud of her people, and even the Godfather couldn't help but praise her too.

[Lil Lass, you really did great. If you keep continuing to develop the guild, they will be a good force in your hand sooner or later.]

Then, Ainsley had another powerhouse that could be her backer instead of merely backing the irregular tamer guild.

The day the guild could be considered a top powerhouse in the Godlif country or even across the human continent....

That's when Ainsley would be ready to fight those people...

The Godfather didn't say anything further, but Ainsley was already happy to receive his praise.

[Thank you, Godfather!]

The baby grinned from ear to ear as she walked back to the inner city.

Currently, there are so many people around Ainsley.

All of them were bosses or individual ability users who came to take a look at the forces that had just arrived.

Because of this, Ainsley came with her shadow guards to avoid anyone launching a sneak attack on her.

But well, bumping into people here and there was unavoidable.

When Ainsley was walking with Nalisha in her moving vehicle, a woman wearing a black hoodie that covered her whole face suddenly bumped into the baby.

She only lightly bumped into Ainsley, but her hand touched Ainsley's face by mistake.

The moment the woman's hand touched Ainsley's cheek for a second, Ainsley felt the cold sensation creeping into her skin.

It was either the woman who had a cold hand or she had a cold attribute ability.

Ainsley didn't pay attention to this and just strode forward with her three cats just like usual.

But the Godfather and Code-L, who were resting around Nalisha's nest, suddenly reacted.

[Sh*t– catch that woman!]

[Lil Lass, this lord will be back soon!]

Both people suddenly rushed out of the crowd and chased after the woman in a hoodie!

All of this happened so fast that Ainsley, Nalisha and even the shadow guards only reacted after they entered the city's inner circle.

The baby looked back and saw the Godfather's transparent figure far away from her place.

Then, Code-L also went missing.

The baby instantly felt that something was wrong.

[What's going on? Where is the Godfather and Code-L??] Ainsley asked Cellino and Bello, but both sacred beasts were also confused.

[I-I don't know, nyaa~ but Code-L shouted to catch someone?]

Bello heard Code-L's shout in their mind and couldn't help but notice that something was wrong.

Even Cellino felt the same way,, but both Code-L and the Godfather didn't say anything and just chased after someone!

Ainsley's face darkened as she thought of the worst case possible.

Could it be when she bumped into people, one of them secretly poisoned her?

Or they might have done something far more dangerous?!

Chapter 946: "Poison Tester Machine"

Ainsley immediately whistled and called her shadow guards to appear in front of her.

August, the leader of Ainsley's shadow guards, popped out in front of Ainsley in mere seconds and immediately kneeled on one knee.

"Your order, master?"

August's voice was flat and had no emotion at all, but even Ainsley could see that he was a bit in panic.

Yes. Someone might play tricks on his master, and he didn't even realize!

As a shadow guard, he's useless!

Ainsley didn't blame August at all because even Bello and Cellino didn't know what was going on.

But Code-L and the Godfather, the strongest among them, noticed something amiss.

Ainsley was afraid she would be poisoned or something, so she immediately asked August to help her.

"Send some of your people to find Code-L. Then, the others go back to Jake's mansion with me. Bring me tools to check for poison and such."

Since Ainsley didn't bring her super assistant Elliana, she could only ask August to do these chores.

But August would still stay around Ainsley to protect her while he asked the other shadow guards to do what Ainsley asked them to do.

"Alright, master. I'm on it."

The shadow guards in the dark dispersed in seconds.

Some went to find Code-L and others went to find a reliable poison detector.

Ainsley and Nalisha themselves went back to Jake's mansion while the irregular guild tamers checked in to their assigned hotels.

On the way back to Jake's mansion, Nalisha couldn't help but worry about Ainsley.

"Boss...will you be okay? What if you're poisoned with a poison that has no antidote? Should we call the doctors, some healers and other ability users..."

Nalisha thought that Ainsley was poisoned but thinking again if it's just getting poisoned...

There's no way the Godfather would disappear to chase after the culprit.

The same goes for Code-L.

The two of them seemed to have a tacit understanding, and they must have sensed something different.

Maybe not a simple poison.

Ainsley was also skeptical whether she's really poisoned or encountered bigger trouble but for now, she patted Nalisha's back to calm her.

"It's okay, Nal. Believe in the Godfather and Code-L. They will catch the culprit, and we will be able to know what's going on."

Ainsley's mentality was really good. She knew that she was in danger for no reason, but she could still keep her calm.

Zev, who was watching all of this, couldn't help but feel proud of Ainsley but also worried at the same time.

He knew what was going on because he was also as capable as the Godfather and Code-L.

But he's just a system spirit. Could he tell Ainsley this information?

Zev bit his lips as he floated above Ainsley's head.

If he told Ainsley...would she panic?

Or just wait until she realizes what's going on and then calm her down by saying he knew what to do to solve the problem?

Well, even the Godfather and Code-L already rushed out because they knew what was going on simply from their intuition and the ability aura they felt.

Yes. The woman who bumped into Ainsley had just used her ability against Ainsley and the baby didn't even know!

Zev was restless, and the others were also tense.

After waiting for an hour for the poison detection machine to arrive, even Jake had heard of what happened this morning.

When he returned to his house to see Ainsley, his face was pale, and his breathing was chaotic.

His handsome face was haggard, as if someone had just punched him.

"Ain! What's going on? I heard that you're poisoned??"

Jake didn't know the truth yet, but when he asked Ainsley's shadow guards, they said that Ainsley might be poisoned.

Ainsley was sitting on the couch in the living room and was startled by Jake's sudden shout.

The baby hurriedly ran to Jake with her short legs, and Jake also immediately scooped the baby into his arms.

"What happened, Ain? Are you okay? Have you called the healers, doctors or the priests?"

Ainsley could feel Jake's anxiety through his words alone, and the baby suddenly felt distressed for Jake.

She patted Jake's cheek gently and hugged the young man's neck.

"I'm okay, dad. We haven't checked whether I was really poisoned or not. Don't worry. Even if I was poisoned, we could immediately find the cure."

Anyway, she still kept the elixir made from her body parts when she borrowed the legendary healer's special ability.

The elixir could definitely dispel poison too.

Jake himself also had a lot of items that could detoxify a variety of poisons.

Thus, he took a deep breath and calmed down.

"Okay. Let's wait for the testing machine and then if the result isn't good, we will immediately call the doctors, healers and priests."

The Billios Family had their own family doctors, healers and even priests.

Each of them was loyal to the family because they had been working for the Billios Family generation after generation.

Thus, even if they became healers, doctors or priests, they never joined the healer guild, the temple or the special doctor association.

Because of this, the Billios Family could be way more stable than the Sloan Family, who didn't have healers from one generation to another.

Knowing this, Ainsley didn't contact the Sloan Family and really depended on Jake and his Billios Family.

Anyway, it was emergency and Jake was the closest to her right now.

After waiting for another ten minutes, Ain's shadow guards finally came back with the latest and best poison-testing machine for humans.

The machine was a huge capsule that could fit one human adult for a thorough body inspection.

It could even scan the soul to see if there were any wounds or soul poison!

Chapter 947: "Synchronized Memories"

Of course, when Jake asked Ainsley whether she would check her soul too or not, Ainsley immediately refused.

"I know my soul condition, and the three sacred beasts are like my personal doctor. No need to scan my soul too."

Well, she's not joking. If the machine scanned her soul, what if it was high-tech enough to know that she's not from this world?!

Ainsley couldn't let such a risk to happen!

Since Ainsley refused, Jake followed whatever Ainsley wanted and then guided her to the large capsule bed in the living room.

"Just lay down and close your eyes. The machine will scan your whole body to see whether you have a hidden illness or not."

Since this machine was special, it could also see wounds and illnesses that were inflicted by special abilities.

However, it couldn't see a rather delicate and unique hidden effect from rare abilities such as memory loss and so on.

Nodding her head at Jake, Ainsley was put into the capsule, and the baby immediately laid down without moving.

Then, the capsule bed's opaque lid slowly went down, closing the gap between the bed and the capsule lid itself.

In no time, the capsule bed was completely closed, and Ainsley was trapped inside.

But the others weren't worried. Ainsley wouldn't be trapped for real.

Once the capsule bed was sealed, Jake turned on the machine, and the capsule lid started to glow in soft green light.

[Starting scanning ???]

The machine's AI spoke in a cold voice as it started to scan Ainsley's body from head to toe.

The scanning would take around 5-10 minutes, but Ainsley felt as if it had been years inside.

When she closed her eyes, memories that didn't belong to her suddenly jumped out, yet the sense of immersion was so strong that Ainsley almost thought she was experiencing this for real.

Lying on the same capsule bed, the baby could feel the machine scanning her body from head to toe, but it even checked her soul!

It was as if something cold had just penetrated her heart and her soul trembled.

Then, the machine's cold voice sounded outside.

[Detecting a foreign soul. Confirmed: Dave Mailoor is a transmigrator.]

Ainsley's eyes widened as she listened to the noises outside of the capsule bed.

The capsule should be soundproof but maybe because this memory belonged to someone with sensitive hearings.

She could hear what the people outside of the capsule bed were saying.

"Look, this Godfather is really a transmigrator!"

"Oh, my. No wonder the organization insists on catching him."

"Yeah, they did a good job. Although it sacrifices almost half of our people."

"Since that's the case, we should use his soul for the sake of the living beings in this world. We can't make our comrades' death be useless."

"Right. But I heard that it's hard to extract his soul?"

"It's hard. His soul is really strong, and the connection with the body is also super strong. He has been using this body for more than a decade."

"Ah, that's why it's hard to separate his soul from his body, right?"

"Right."

"By the way, where is this body's original soul? Did this transmigrator devour the soul or something?"

"My cousin is one of the higher-ups' soul experts."

"He said that generally, the original soul would have been reincarnated and then it sucked this transmigrator's soul to the body."

"I see, I see. I thought this alien ate the original body's soul, hahaha. So it means he's less evil, right?"

"Hush. Don't be fooled. He's still an evil alien. A foreign soul like him can destroy our world!"

"Yeah. The leaders are all wise to capture these foreign souls and use them for the sake of our world."

"Okay, okay, let's stop talking. The scanning is finished. Let's pick him up and send him to the experts."

"Will he wake up and then kill us or something? I heard he's strong."

"No worries. We have taken all his abilities and given them away to other people in our organization."

"I just don't know whether they can use his abilities or not."

"So he's now completely weak?"

"Yeah. Even his body has been weakened. After all, we only need his soul."

"Good. Let's go."

Then, the capsule lid was slowly opened, and Ainsley also felt her capsule bed's lid open on its own.

The two scenes overlapped, but what greeted her wasn't strangers.

What she saw was Jake, Nalisha, August, and the two sacred beasts.

All the people that she knew.

The baby's heart thumped for a second and she broke in a cold sweat.

Even when Jake dugged her out of the capsule bed, Ainsley was still in a daze.

'Those memories...they are the Godfather's memories...?'

Ainsley had inherited the Godfather's whole memories for months now and had been dreaming of his memories every time she slept.

But she had never felt anything like this.

She wasn't sleeping just now, yet the memories suddenly jumped out and brought her a stronger immersion effect than other memories in her dream.

Not to mention that looking at the timeline, the memories should still be at when the Godfather had just transmigrated.

But the one she saw just now was nearing the end of the Godfather's memory!

It means...it was a few moments before the Godfather died.

After all, his memories as spirits were marked with a transparent line in Ainsley's mind.

If this was a movie, the spirit's memory part was like the season 2 of the movie.

And Ainsley was now in the first season but the last few minutes.

Such an abrupt jump...was it because she's experiencing something highly similar to the Godfather?

That's why the related memories suddenly jumped out?

Chapter 948: "The Ability Is Gone"

Ainsley was still in a daze, but Jake and the others didn't realise it just yet.

They looked at Ainsley's data scanning results and suddenly sighed in relief.

"Thank God. Ain is not poisoned. She's completely healthy."

Yes, yes. There are only a few traumas in her body because of various abilities' after-effect."

"Then, according to your story, why did Code-L and the Godfather go out to chase someone?"

Jake patted the back of Ainsley's head as he asked Nalisha, August and the two sacred beasts.

Because Ainsley's face was buried in Jake's nape, no one saw the baby's dazed and unfocused look.

Nalisha, August and the two cats looked at each other before Nalisha opened her mouth.

"The guild founder said that the Godfather and Code-L are chasing someone who did something to our guild founder..."

As for what the person did...no one knew.

After all, Ainsley wasn't poisoned. Her body was also normal.

So...is it a unique, rare ability or something that had an effect so strong the machine couldn't detect it?

Jake also had the same thoughts.

After all, it was weird if both Code-L and the Godfather ran to chase someone at the same time for no reason.

Let's say that Ainsley was now under someone's special ability, and no one knew what the effect could be!

Jake's face was pale as his usually calm self slowly crumbled.

He had never panicked all his life, but this case involved his beloved daughter.

The unknown was often more dangerous and terrifying than the known.

Jake didn't know what happened to Ainsley, and no one knew except for the Godfather and Code-L.

But Ainsley couldn't contact them at all, as if they just disappeared like that.

This was strange, and Jake rarely felt panic.

"What to do now? Wait until the Godfather comes back? What if he's not back before the annual event starts?"

Jake was afraid that the hidden 'injury' would be triggered when Ainsley fought the wild monsters and beasts with her people.

Wouldn't that be super dangerous?

Nalisha, August and even the two sacred beasts instantly had grim faces.

Especially Bello and Cellino.

Both of them didn't feel anything wrong with Ainsley, but their intuition as sacred beasts told them that something was indeed amiss.

But what? What's wrong with Ain?!

The people slowly looked at Ainsley, who seemed to be in a daze and decided to ask her.

"Guild founder, how is it? Do you feel anything strange or unusual?"

Nalisha and the others hoped that Ainsley could realise what was wrong with her body, and they could immediately help her.

Only then did Ainsley snap out of her daze.

Her first instinct was to find Zev and ask him what was wrong with the memory she had just received.

But when she caught Jake and the others' worried gaze on her, the baby suppressed her impulse to ask Zev.

"This...I also don't know what's going on." Ainsley bit her lips and sighed. If she knew what's going on, she wouldn't be so anxious.

The baby couldn't help but give everyone an idea.

"If my body is fine, maybe there's something wrong with my energy core or something?"

Maybe there was a crack in her energy core or it became unstable or it shrunk...

But the machine could also scan the energy core's condition, and it was alright.

Still, Ainsley insisted on checking her abilities one by one and whether her energy core had any weird reactions when she's using her abilities.

After all, they had to try everything to see what went wrong with her body.

Maybe it had something to do with her soul too! The machine didn't check that just now.

Thus, Ainsley started to use her abilities one by one except for the shaman ability because the Godfather wasn't here.

She first used her luck manipulation ability and only manipulated Nalisha's luck by a level.

As usual, it worked. Nothing seemed wrong and actually she didn't feel so painful anymore when using this ability.

It seems that she's even healthier than before?

Ainsley looked at the people in front of her and reported the first experiment.

"My first ability is fine. I don't feel any discomfort when using it."

Jake knew what Ainsley meant by her first ability but didn't expose her. He just nudged her and asked her to hurry and try the other abilities too.

"Try the other abilities too, Ain."

Thus, Ainsley tried the second ability which was her radar ability.

It also worked well. Every single detail was there and there was no discomfort either.

Then, next...the shaman ability...oh wait.

The Godfather wasn't here so Ainsley could only activate her shaman ability first and see if there's any body discomfort.

So far, everything went well and the baby didn't feel any discomfort until the last ability Ainsley tested—
The charm ability.

Usually, if she used her charm ability on people around her, she could order them to do anything.

But after trying it for a few times...nothing happened.

Wait. No one was even charmed!

At that moment, Ainsley's face changed.

"This...this...I...my charm ability...I can't charm you guys..."

It's gone. The charm ability was gone.

Yes. It's not that her charm wasn't effective anymore but...but it was simply gone!

At first, Ainsley thought that this was just an illusion or a trick. She should have checked her energy core first.

Ainsley immediately checked her energy core, wishing that everything was just a lie.

But she saw the pink area disappear without a trace.

The pink area represented Ainsley's charm ability but suddenly, it didn't exist. As if it was never there.

It really disappeared!

Ainsley's unique baby charm...didn't exist anymore.

!!

Chapter 949: "It Is Really Gone"

Just as Ainsley's words dropped, Jake and the others staggered on the spot.

Jake even had a panic attack, and his chest went up and down violently.

"W-what did you say? Your charm ability...is gone? Is it real? Disappear just like that??"

Jake hugged Ainsley tightly and was really nervous for her.

Ainsley's charm ability was her everything, and it also helped her to build her current guild.

If it was gone, how could she convert more charm ability users to be irregular tamers?

The irregular tamer guild would be done for!

Ainsley was also sweating bullets, and her palms suddenly cooled down.

Her body was so rigid that she felt as if she was inside an ice cube.

Impossible. There's no way her charm ability could disappear.

She's still a baby! The baby charm should still be there!

Even if she's not a baby anymore, her charm ability should only evolve and not disappear like this!

Ainsley's face was really pale as she gripped Jake's shoulder with all of her strength.

"D-dad, dad...my ability is really...really gone...there is no charm ability in my energy core. I-it just disappeared..."

Ainsley didn't realize that she was slowly shedding tears. The baby spoke while choking on her tears, sounding really miserable and aggrieved.

Her eyes reddened and her nose was runny. Her voice was hoarse and she couldn't stop trembling.

The blow was really huge.

Even Nalisha almost kneeled on the floor, and August lost his expressionless face.

Both of them had ghastly faces full of fear and extreme worries.

"I-Impossible. There haven't been any cases where an ability user loses their ability for no reason. Unless....unless..."

Nalisha bit her lips and it had already started to bleed.

"Unless...it was done by another ability user..."

Nalisha's words instantly enlightened all the people in the room, including the two dumbfounded cats.

When they heard this, they recalled Code-L and the Godfather, who suddenly ran to chase after the mysterious woman who bumped into Ainsley.

Yes. It must be a special ability user who could make other ability users lose their abilities!

Jake instantly woke up from his panicky state and immediately ordered his shadow guards to move.

"Find me all cases and documents related to ability users losing their abilities!"

If what Nalisha said was true, there was a chance that a malicious person made Ainsley lose her charm ability.

The question was...whether the ability loss was permanent or not.

If not, when would the ability come back?

And what's the mechanism behind this phenomenon?

Is it simply destroying the ability? But the energy core was still there, intact.

Oh well, some unique ability users could destroy someone else's ability without destroying the energy core...

Or was this malicious culprit just blocked the ability so that Ainsley couldn't use it? Maybe it was just sealed?

But Ainsley said the pink area in her energy core was gone!

It means her ability really disappeared.

Is there a way to take it back? Maybe if they killed the ability user who harmed Ainsley, the charm ability would be back?

But if the charm ability was already destroyed, could it return if they killed the culprit?

Very unlikely.

So Jake needed more information to know what exactly happened to Ainsley.

They couldn't panic. Maybe Ainsley's ability didn't really disappear.

"Ain, calm down. It will be okay. Since Code-L and the Godfather ran after the culprit, they must have known what was going on."

Jake stroked Ainsley's head and wiped her tears with his slender fingers.

"The Godfather and Code-L are trying to catch the culprit. It means there is still a way to solve this case, okay?"

Ainsley was still sobbing quietly on Jake's chest, yet when she heard Jake's gentle words full of encouragement...she miraculously calmed down.

Yes. There's no use crying over spilt milk.

What she could do now is to wait for the Godfather and Code-L while trying to find a solution together with Jake.

Ainsley wiped her tears with the back of her hand and spoke in a muddled voice.

"Thank you, dad...let's read the documents first. I think we might find a clue to restore my charm ability."

Even if she couldn't, Zev might be able to do something. After all, he was a system with many miraculous items, right?

Thinking like this, Ainsley looked up at the floating toddler, and her heart was so much calmer than before.

Seeing that Ainsley stopped crying so soon, the people in the living room sighed in relief, yet their hearts also felt sour.

The cute little boss is too sensible, right?

Obviously, she could cry longer, and no one would blame her, but she quickly realized that crying would bring her no result.

Then, she just decided to stop crying like that...

Jake felt that Ainsley's attempt to be mature was so heart-wrenching.

Maybe she did this because, in the past, no one cared about her even when she was crying.

That's when she learned that her tears wouldn't matter, and she had to stand up alone if she wanted to survive.

Just imagining the scene already broke Jake's young daddy's heart.

This is the cute little daughter he got after waiting for so long.

Although he was young at heart and knew that he wasn't really a daddy material, he really loved Ainsley.

Knowing that her childhood memories were terrible and it actually affected her future decisions, Jake really wished he could kill Leroy.

Why would you destroy such a cute child?!

Ainsley, who was misunderstood, didn't know anything and focused on reading the documents that Jake's people sent a few minutes ago.

The baby calmed her mind and tried not to grieve too much over her lost charm ability.

Let's go find out the truth!

Chapter 950: "A Stealer"

As a transmigrator, Ainsley's mentality was good enough to survive in a world without a single person who knew her true identity.

In such a lonely world, she could keep a positive mindset, so how could this trouble stump her?

Ainsley even thought that if she couldn't get her charm ability back, she might as well trigger a new charm ability.

Maybe this one's charm would be stronger, who knows?

Thus, the baby led the people in the living room to read the related documents on their own phones or tablets.

After a few hours, the group finally concluded a few key pieces of information.

"Let's see...it is said that if the representative color of a certain ability disappears from the energy core, it doesn't mean that the ability is destroyed."

Jake recalled what he read and was finally sure that Ainsley's ability wasn't forcefully destroyed.

If it was destroyed, there would be marks on the energy core.

Even when the core wasn't damaged, there would be faint marks indicating that a certain ability used to be a part of the core.

But Ainsley's energy core really didn't have this faint mark, as if it wasn't forcefully destroyed but disappeared.

Ainsley also paid attention to the word 'disappear' and had a hunch in her heart.

"Other data said that when one's ability suddenly disappears but the energy core is fine without a single mark, it means the ability is actually..."

Ainsley paused before looking at Nalisha, August, Jake and the two sacred beasts with a solemn face.

"It means it's actually stolen."

Jake and the others were stunned for a few seconds before they realized what was going on.

"Stolen...? Someone stole your charm ability?" Jake was in disbelief.

He knew a lot of things related to ability users, but this was the first time he knew there was someone who could steal someone else's special ability!

"Yes. Someone stole my charm ability. I think it is that woman in a hoodie."

Ainsley nodded at Jake and the others before mentioning the two people who weren't in the living room.

"Code-L and the Godfather are chasing her now, so it means once we catch her, we can force her to return my charm ability."

The information in books and other media said that a stolen ability could be taken back.

After all, the stealer usually could only place the 'ability' inside their own unique space and could use it from time to time.

But once it exceeded the limit, the ability would return to its original owner on its own.

Well, what if the stealer didn't use the ability at all?

A better stealer could actually sell their stolen abilities to others who wanted the power, and they could give the ability away!

This was what Ainsley feared.

"We have to make sure she can't meet her customer, if there is," The baby added.

"I also think that she has accomplices so it will be hard to find her anytime soon. Dad, we have to borrow your influence to search the whole capital."

Because of the upcoming annual beast and monster tide, people who could come to the city were only those with invitations or the forces invited by the big bosses.

Still, even these bosses weren't allowed to leave the capital city, no matter what the reason.

After all, if the bosses were allowed to leave, they could leave anytime, and the plan to fight the beast and monster tide would be a mess.

For the citizens' safety, they also weren't allowed to enter or leave the capital city until the monster and beast tide stopped completely.

The capital city became a huge barrier that chased away wild monsters and beasts, but it also became a cage for whoever was inside.

"Oh, right. I also have a hunch that this woman is one of the individual ability users invited by the government."

Ainsley told Jake her suspicion about the woman's identity and recalled when the woman met her a few hours ago.

"She was around the inner city's checkpoints back then."

"Nowadays, those who can come and go around the checkpoints are only people related to the annual monster & beast tide, right?"

"Yes, you're right." Jake nodded at Ainsley's words and slowly brought her to sit down on the sofa in the living room.

Nalisha, August and the two sacred beasts also followed quietly, each with their own plans and thoughts.

"Good. It means we can just focus on finding her among the invited guests."

Ainsley's eyes were bright as she saw hope for the first time.

Yes. She could get her charm ability back soon! As long as she worked hard!

"Right, dad, do you have a connection to peek at the guests' list or something?"

Ainsley subconsciously asked.

She believed that Jake could have the authority if he wanted to.

But usually, Jake was too lazy to do this when he wouldn't get any benefit.

However, it was extremely important!

Jake's eyes lit up at Ainsley's question, and the young man immediately fished out his cellphone from his chest pocket.

"I can do this. I have a wide connection, and oh! I can even see which guest has a stealer ability!"

The people who could steal other ability users' special abilities were called the stealer.

Their ability was also called 'stealing others' abilities.'

It would be easy to find this person among the guest lists, especially when they already knew her gender.

"I'll find her information now. Maybe we can assist Code-L and the Godfather."

The two big bosses could pressure the stealer so that she couldn't easily meet her customer or do anything she had planned.

At the same time, they could work on catching her!
