

The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika Chapter 10

1. Meeting Him Again

In the elevator, Mike took off his sunglasses in a huff. He gritted his teeth and growled, "Jessie, are you done messing around? I have no feelings for you. But I still let our marriage last for five years. I have done very well! Is it meaningful for you to mess around like this? Do you want money? Don't forget. Back then, we had nothing when we got married. Now, everything I have is earned by myself. These are my personal property after marriage. You don't have the right to split it, do you understand? Don't even think about splitting a cent from me!"

Jessie was so angry that her body was trembling.

She knew that he was an actor and he cared about his image. All these years, she had never dared to look for him in public.

Just now at the hotel entrance, he had forced her to such an extent, and she had only threatened him, not directly saying that the two of them had once been married. He said that he was already very good to her?

Where was his benevolence? And where was his loyalty?

Since he had said so much, there was no need for her to show any mercy. She took a deep breath. She calmed down and said, "You said I was messing around, right? Okay. Then I might as well really mess around. Six years ago, The ten million I earned from selling eggs, and the house in the suburbs... Give it all back to me. Otherwise, I'll expose the fact that you abandoned me to the media."

Mike's face was ashen. He wanted to slap her.

At this moment, Jessie was not afraid of anything. She stared straight at his palm and continued. "Don't think that just because you have gotten the divorce certificate, you will not be able to cause any more trouble. The record of our marriage is still in the Civil Affairs Bureau!"

Before she finished speaking, her neck fell into Mike's hands.

His face became ferocious, and he gritted his teeth. "You haven't had enough of messing around, have you?"

Jessie could not breathe and her eyes were dyed red. She sneered coldly, "If you have the ability, then you can kill me. Otherwise, I will definitely get back the ten million yuan and my house!"

People often said that one day one's wife was indebted to him. They had been husband and wife for five years. And now he wants to kill her.

Her heart had already fallen into despair. The little bit of longing she had in the past had turned into an illusion. She would no longer be soft-hearted towards him now.

"You're courting death, I'll do as you wish!" Mike's eyes turned scarlet. The fingers that were pinching her neck tightened even more.

Ding.

The elevator door slid open.

Mike felt the figure at the door and regained his senses. He violently threw Jessie out and quickly pressed the elevator door again. He turned his back outside so that the people outside could not see his face.

Bang.

Jessie crashed into a sturdy wall.

She did not bother to look at the person who hit her. She hurriedly apologized and rushed to the tightly shut elevator door. She screamed, "Mike! Mike, come out! Don't think I don't dare to make it public. I will do what I say!"

The elevator had already gone down and Jessie was lying on the tightly shut door. Angry and powerless tears flowed out “Threatening, intimidation, selling, are all people in your line of work doing the same as you?” The man was cold and heavy. A disdainful sneer fell from the top of her head.

Jessie turned her head in a daze.

What entered her eyes was the collar of the man’s black business jacket. The two buttons on the same dark shirt were opened, and one could vaguely see the strong muscles inside.

She looked at his cold face with tears streaming down her face.

When she saw his sharp and distinct facial features, her teary eyes widened even more.

It was him!

That man!

Her body trembled slightly. She reached out and grabbed his wrist. Her fingers were touched by his steel watch. She did not care about the pain. She turned her head and shouted, “Security guard! security guard! Someone come!”

Two security guard ran over. When they saw Alex, their steps froze.

Alex’s cold eyes sharpened. The two security guard could not help but shiver when they saw him. They quickly bowed to him and ran away with a swoosh.

Jessie broke down and shouted, “Don’t go! You guys catch him and help me catch him!”

She was in a panic, but the man had not moved at all. He looked at her like he was looking at a trapped beast.

His gaze came into contact with the faint kiss mark on her sweater collar. It was his masterpiece from last night.

The man's throat slid.

His slender fingers suddenly exerted force, and he turned around to hold her wrist tightly. He pulled her up and strode towards the suite inside.

"Let go of me!" Jessie was frightened and struggled with all her might.

When she saw that it was him just now, Sally's report immediately flashed in her mind. Without thinking, she reached out and grabbed him and called security guard to help.

She never thought that when security guard saw him, not only did he not help, they even turned around and ran.

She was dragged into the nearest suite and pressed against the door.

"You call what happened last night a crime?" The man's eyes were dark and ruthless, and his expression was even more sinister and terrifying. "You pretend to be pure. Is that so? Sure. I'll just treat you as pure."

Now, I'll really do it once and let you understand what a real crime is?"

He just wanted to tease her and dampen her arrogance.

Jessie's chest rose and fell violently. Her tearful eyes were red and she tried hard to remain calm. "Let go of me! My husband lives here. If he knew, he would never let you go!"

"Your husband wants you to have sex with someone else? He's quite open-minded." Alex sneered and pressed even harder against her. His big hand suddenly pulled hard and the buttons on her jeans flew off.
