Chapter 101

101 . Wouldn't it be easier for me to kill her husband?

Jessie's face instantly turned red, "Didn't we only meet today? Wouldn't the elders think that it was too fast to talk about marriage so soon?"

"Talking with them is just a formality. The wedding is our business." He threw the suit he took off into her arms. "Hang it on the hanger and bring me a set of casual clothes."

Jessie was prepared to obey him on these matters in the future, so she did not say anything else. She got up and naturally hung his suit on the hanger. She opened the closet and took out a light gray casual cotton T-shirt and a pair of pants of the same color.

When Jessie turned around and handed it to him, she found that he was only left with a pair of black underwear.

She turned around with a swoosh and her face was as red as blood. "Why did you take off your clothes so quickly?"

Alex walked in front of her with long legs and took the clothes from her arms. "It's not like you haven't seen it before. Why are you so shy?"

Jessie had no choice but to see his well-proportioned body again. He had long and straight legs, wide shoulders, and a narrow waist. The muscles on his strong chest had explosive power. The perfect scene made her face even hotter. She covered her face and ran to the window.

"You also hid from me like this after we got married?" He had already walked behind her and extended a clean and slender hand. "Help me buckle this sleeve."

"I didn't dodge." Jessie's face was still red as she reached out two hands to buckle his sleeves.

After the buckle was done, Jessie could not help but look at his arms a few more times before letting go, "It's done."

Alex did not take back his hands, but looked at her mockingly, "Do you really like it that much?"

Jessie's face was even more shocked. She raised her fist and punched him. "Who likes it? Narcissism!"

He deliberately put his strong arm in front of her, "You can touch it."

In the study, Grandma Restall dialed Grandpa Rudolf's number excitedly. "Alex and Jessie specially came to see you. Hurry up and come back! You can go to Restaurant and bring back a roast duck."

After Old Madam hung up the phone, she saw Nanny Lisa had returned. "Did you buy prawns?"

Last time in Tianji Residence, she saw Jessie and the two children had similar tastes and quite liked to eat big prawns.

"It's too late now. I went to two supermarkets and they sold out all their prawns. I found some at a small supermarket. "But they're not big." Nanny Lisa showed the prawns in her bag to her.

"They're so small. Send them to the kitchen first. Louis's family seems to have relatives doing seafood business. I'll call them and ask them to send some over."

After Alex finished changing his clothes, he led Jessie downstairs and saw Grandma Restall personally carrying a large net bag full of prawns in.

Jessie hurriedly ran over, "Auntie, I will help you!"

"No need. You and Alex sit and watch the television for a while. The meal will be ready soon." Grandma Restall smiled and carried her bag to the kitchen.

Jessie still wanted to rush to help but was pulled back by Alex. "Be more reserved!"

Did she not be reserved?

But she was still moved in her heart. She had been married to Mike for five years and Linda was half paralyzed. Usually, she would not even bend down to pick up a roll of tissue that fell to her feet. Instead, she directly ordered Jessie to pick it up.

In those years, as long as Jessie was at home, Linda was like the Empress Dowager and must order her around.

Jessie was already used to doing this. Later on, she thought that all the mother-in-law and daughter-in-law got along in this way.

After all, no wife was willing to work without dignity for the rest of her life, including Jessie. Most of the time, she was actually quite resentful towards Linda in her heart, but when she thought that she was her mother-in-law, she endured it.

But now that she saw what Grandma Restall did for her, Jessie finally understood that not all of the mother-in-law were like Linda and not all of the wives must treat their mother-in-law like the Empress Dowager...

When dinner was almost ready, Grandpa Rudolf carried a box of roast duck into the house.

Alex had been holding Jessie's hand on the sofa in the living room watching TV. This kind of situation where she waited for food at her boyfriend's house had never happened to her before and she felt a little uncomfortable. She wanted to go to the kitchen to help but Alex – held her hand tightly and did not let go.

When she saw Old Master Rudolf come in, Jessie was so nervous that she stood up. "Uncle, you are back."

Wouldn't it be easier for me to kill her husband?

Rudolf looked at her indifferently. He handed the bag containing the roast duck to her. "Take this to the kitchen."

Jessie saw that Rudolf did not want to be polite with her and was so excited that her face turned red. She quickly ran over and used her hands to take the roasted duck before sending it to the kitchen.

Alex looked at her excited expression and felt angry and pained at the same time.

Rudolf's face turned cold again as he glanced at her. He looked at Alex and said, "Alex, come with me to the study!"

Alex stood up and followed him in. In the study, Old Master Rudolf sat in the chair and pondered for nearly a minute before speaking in a deep voice, "How long have you two been together?" Alex sat down on the sofa across from him. "I can't remember."

Rudolf snorted and asked again, "Half a year?"

*Dad, why are you always thinking about this question? I brought her back today so that she can go through the motions. We will handle other matters as we see fit. You don't have to worry so much."

Before he could finish his sentence, a wireless mouse came crashing towards him.

Alex was quick and nimble. He caught the mouse in time.

Rudolf slammed his palm on the table, causing the computer screen on the table to tremble a few times. "Answer me properly if I ask you. What kind of attitude is this? Marriage is not child's play? You were born by me, why can't I ask? Or did you really do something shameful and want to muddle your way through?"

Alex frowned. "Did I do something shameful?"

Rudolf stood up and paced around the desk a few times before he stopped. He stared at him and lowered his voice. "You fell in love with a married woman and have separated her and her husband, right?"

Alex sneered. "If I took a fancy to a married woman, how could I try to separate her from her husband? Wouldn't it be easier for me to kill her husband?"

"You inhumane bastard!" Rudolf was furious. He grabbed a lamp and threw it at Alex.

When Rudolf heard the rumour at the golf course, he sent someone to check Jessie's marriage situation. He found out that she was really divorced less than half a year ago. He calculated the time Alex and Jessie spent together, and with his understanding of Alex, suddenly, he thought of the possibility of Alex forcefully breaking Jessie's marriage. He did not expect Alex to not refute a single word.

He really did not dare to believe that Alex would do something to seduce and force a married woman to do it, but at this moment, it was not up to him to not believe it.

With the current status of Laurent family, Alex could marry any kind of woman he wanted, but he used the advantage of his family to do something like this. Thinking about how outsiders might talk behind their backs, he felt very embarrassed.

This time, Alex did not reach out his hand to receive it. He only moved his body to avoid it.

The lamp broke on the ground.

"What are you doing now?" Madam Restall heard the sound and ran in. She closed the door again and ran to the back of the desk. She raised her hand and patted Master Rudolf's shoulder. "My daughter-in-law is still outside. Can you not scold Alex?"

Rudolf pointed his finger angrily. "Look at what he has done! We should not have spent so much effort to save him when he was seriously ill. We might as well let him die!"

Alex's face darkened. Without saying anything, he opened the door and strode away.

Madam Restall hit Old Master Rudolf again. "Are you confused? How can you say such vicious words?"

"If you don't know anything, then don't speak!" Rudolf also walked out.

Madam Restall, Old Master Rudolf, and Alex all went to the study room. Jessie had nothing to do in the living room. She took out her phone and was about to call Felix when Fia called her.

Her tone was mysterious. "Mommy, guess where brother and I are now?"

Jessie heard her crisp voice and all the uneasiness and nervousness were swept away. She gently smiled, "You guys are watching cartoons in the studio, right?"

Fia had told her more than once that there was a very large movie studio in Mountain and River Residence. She felt very comfortable watching cartoons and movies there.

"No, guess again."

"Are you eating in the restaurant?"

"It's still not right. Mommy, we are now on the way to Grandma's place. Are you happy? Are you surprised?"

Jessie's smile widened, "Really? Who sent you here? Driver Bart?"

"Yes, Mommy. We are almost at the door."

"I will come out to pick you up!" Jessie quickly walked out.

Jessie passed by the garden and ran to the main door. They had already jumped out of the black car.

"Felix, Fia!" Jessie squatted down and hugged them. "Why are you wearing so little? Are you cold? Let's quickly enter the house."

Driver Bart greeted them and returned to Mountain and River Residence.

Alex had told him to only bring the children back to Mountain and River Residence. He didn't ask him to bring them here, so he didn't dare to stay here any longer.

"Why did you ask Driver Bart to send you here?" Jessie led them into the garden and asked with a smile.

Fia sweetly rushed to answer, "Because I miss you."

"Mommy, in the future when you and my father go out on dates, it's better not to tell us the address. She was very angry when she heard that you came to grandpa and grandma's house to eat delicious food but did not bring her along. Housekeeper and the others had no choice. That's why they agreed to let Uncle Bart send us over." Felix sighed as he spoke. He looked like he really couldn't do anything to Fia.

Fia gritted her teeth and roared, "Felix, if you continue like this... Even if you are my biological brother, I will still beat you up!"

Chapter 102

102 . Did My Brother Force You?

The two little guys' joining made the atmosphere at the table unusually lively.

Because he had something on his mind, Grandpa Rudolf kept a straight face from beginning to end. He didn't even eat a few mouthfuls.

Felix and Fia sat on Jessie's left and right side respectively. Jessie drank a few mouthfuls of soup and put on gloves to peel the prawns for the children.

Alex's big hand reached over and took the gloves from her hand. He put them on his fingers that had clearly defined joints. He took the prawns and elegantly peeled them one by one. After peeling them off, he put them in her bowl and let her dip them in the sauce to feed them into the mouths of the two children in front of her.

Grandma Restall looked at the interaction between the family of four and felt as sweet as drinking honey in her heart. She did not even need to eat to feel full.

After eating, Grandpa Rudolf was the first to get up. He looked at Jessie with a complicated expression and said in a cold voice, "Miss Jessie, come with me to the study room."

Alex frowned, "Do you have anything to say to her?"

"You are not married yet. Why do you want to protect her? You are the one who did the wrong thing. What can I do to her?" It would be fine if he didn't say anything about protecting her. Grandpa Rudolf's tone became even colder when he spoke.

Jessie's heart was beating fast in fear. She quickly stood up. "Okay, Uncle. I will follow you to the study!"

Alex reached out and grabbed her wrist. He said in a deep voice, "You sit here. I will go."

Jessie's soft hand held the back of Alex's hand. She used a pair of beautiful big eyes to look at him and whispered, "I will go."

Alex stared at her for a few seconds and let go of her hand. He did not insist.

Felix and Fia blinked their eyes. They looked at this and then at that. They clearly felt that the atmosphere was not right. The two of them obediently did not make a sound. They lowered their heads and continued to eat their food seriously.

Grandpa Rudolf originally wanted to get angry when he heard Alex's words. Seeing Jessie walk out and follow him, he snorted and strode out of the kitchen.

Grandma Restall looked at the dark and gloomy face of Alex and sighed. "Marriage is a big thing. He wanted to know more about her because he wanted to care more about you. What do you think you're arguing with him about?"

Alex didn't say anything. He got up and left the kitchen. He walked past the door of the study and paused for a few seconds before walking out again. He went to the garden to smoke in frustration

In the study.

Jessie followed him in and saw Old Master Rudolf drawing on the table by the window. She stood one meter away from him and quietly waited for him to speak.

Rudolf drew bamboo. After drawing a few strokes, his heart could not calm down. So he simply threw the painting aside and did not draw anymore.

He turned around and saw Jessie standing not far away. He frowned slightly and then sighed. "You are so timid. If you follow him in the future, you will be bullied to death!"

Jessie could tell that he was talking about her son, Alex. She could not believe that he would hurt her son. So she smiled and said gently, "Alex did not bully me. I know I am far inferior to him. But our desire to be together is real. I hope that Uncle can fulfill my wish."

Rudolf looked at her gentle and obedient appearance and could not help asking, "Miss Jessie, tell me the truth. Did my son, Alex force you?"

Alex had finished smoking a cigarette outside and had yet to see anyone come out. He could not wait any longer and threw the cigarette butt into the room. He pushed the door open without knocking.

Jessie was just about to walk out when the two of them bumped into each other.

Alex subconsciously protected her and did not let her bump into his nose. He lifted his cold eyes and looked at Master Rudolf inside. "What did you guys talk about?" Jessie saw that his expression was not good. She was afraid that he would go against her father again. She pulled him out and softly said, "Uncle cares about me."

Rudolf looked at his own son who was protecting her and frowned. He originally wanted to scold him a few more times, but when he remembered Jessie's words just now, he suppressed his anger. Since the girl had already said that she was willing, as an old man, he was not suitable to say anything more. Furthermore, compared to the previous marriage, the second child now clearly had a lot of feelings for her.

The two of them went to fetch Felix and Fia back to Mountain and River Residence.

Grandma Restall still wanted to let them stay, but Alex directly refused, "Let's do this first, in case the old man gets angry and get hospitalized again."

Jessie heard what he said and quickly pulled his suit's sleeve.

Alex did not say anything more and took the car keys with a cold face and went out first.

"Jessie, his father is just stubborn in his words. In fact, he is quite happy in his heart. If he said something unpleasant to hear, just let it go. Since Alex is going back to Mountain and River Residence, I won't keep you guys here today. After a while, you guys can move back together for a period of time."

Jessie smiled and expressed her agreement.

Grandma Restall walked them all the way to the door and watched the car leave before turning back to the house.

Rudolf was just coming out of the study when she ran over. She patted his back and said, "Old master, tell me honestly, what happened to you today? You were hit in the head on the court. Did you become stupid? What a great occasion! The atmosphere was ruined by you!"

Rudolf pursed his lips and sighed heavily. He still did not answer her. He crossed his hands behind her back and was about to return to his room.

Madam Restall went in front of him again and stretched out her hands to stop him. "Why didn't you tell me clearly that I will not let you live peacefully tonight!" "Sir, this is a gift from Miss Jessie just now. It is not nutritional food, but clothes. It is for the two of you." Nanny Lisa walked over with two exquisite bags and passed the gift to them. Madam Restall immediately became interested and quickly went to take it, "Is it clothes?"

In the past, many young ladies came to the house to send fruit baskets or nutritional products. So they thought that it was the same this time and let Nanny Lisa take it as usual.

"Wow, wow, wow, what a beautiful dress! This color... This style is exactly the same as what I wanted. I was wondering why I liked Jessie, that girl. This little girl really knows how to give things away. She has practically delivered herself to my heart." Madam Restall was so happy when she saw the clothes that she forgot to ask Old Master Rudolf. She was like a child and was about to return to her room to change her clothes.

Master Rudolf snorted coldly in his heart. What little girl? She had already divorced once.

He carried his bag and went straight back to his room. After entering, he threw the bag onto the sofa and ignored it.

When he saw Restall come out of the changing room dressed in new clothes, he was a little stunned.

She was wearing a light purple dress and a white shirt with a lace collar on it. She was wearing a casual denim jacket and a white light hat on her head. Restall looked like she was twenty or thirty years younger.

Rudolf had liked photography since he was young. It was just that business was busier, and his family business was more important. He had no choice but to let go of the things he loved and focus on the company. However, he had collected quite a number of top-notch professional cameras. Whenever he had time, he would still take a few of them himself.

Now that he saw Restall in this outfit, his hands immediately itched. He wished that he could immediately take a photo of her with the camera.

Restall hummed a song in front of the mirror. She looked at herself in the mirror and could not bear to leave.

Seeing her like this, Rudolf could not help but be curious about what kind of clothes Jessie would buy for him.

He thought about it and could not control it no matter what.

He could not help but move to the front of the sofa and use two fingers to pick up the handbag. When he saw the color of the clothes inside, his face couldn't help but twitch.

"Old master, what are you still standing there for? Jessie, that girl, has good taste in choosing clothes. Quickly take out your clothes and put them on. It will definitely be very handsome!" Restall's face was radiant as she urged.

"What kind of eyes can she have!" Rudolf deliberately carried the bag and threw the bag back onto the sofa.

"You will know after you try it. You still love photography, What kind of taste is that? Didn't you see my outfit and she chose it especially suitable and beautiful? I haven't worn such a and bold style for many years. It feels like I have returned to my youth. I feel much more energetic now." Restall turned to the mirror a few more times. The more she looked, the more she liked it. "Old master, I want to go out like this. Will the return rate be 100%?"

"Return rate? It's not serious!" Rudolf sneered, but he could not help but pick up the bag again. He strode into the locker room.

Restall smiled and curled her lips. "You said I'm not serious? Didn't you also go and change?"

Rudolf wore a white casual suit, a custom-made Korean suit, and a pair of narrow pants. Although he was already in his fifties, his figure had always been well-maintained. After putting on the suit, he took off his usual calm and mature suit, and his entire person was clearly a few times more energetic.

Restall walked forward with a smile and pulled his arm. She leaned her head on his shoulder and said, "Let's go on a date. Wear this suit and your camera. Tonight, we will also learn from those romantic literary and poetic people and reminisce about youth. How about it?"

Rudolf looked at himself in the mirror and was very satisfied in his heart. However, he still said stubbornly, "How much wind has it been? If you still want a set, it will be a set. Alright, it's all up to you."

She knew that he was being stubborn again. Restall smiled and did not point it out.

On the way back to Mountain and River Residence, Jessie saw that Alex's expression was not good and thought that he was scolded by Master Rudolf. She reached out a small hand and gently shook the hand that was hanging by his side.

Alex looked at her lightly and shook her hand before focusing on the road in front of him again.

When the car turned at an intersection, Felix's butt accidentally touched something.

He took it over. It was a bag filled with clothes. "Whose clothes are these?"

Jessie looked back and then remembered. She quickly smiled and said, "I bought them for you two. They are biological clothes."

"Do I have one too?" Fia quickly threw herself onto Felix and snatched a piece from him. She saw Eldest Bear and Second Bear on her clothes and said with a smile, "So cute. Thank you, Mommy!"

Alex heard that it was a child's clothing. He glanced at the clothes in the rearview mirror and said softly, "You can only take yours. Mine is for your mother!" The two little fellows were good at catching prawns when they ate. They did not even know to wash their hands. He thought it was dirty.

Felix took out the clothes one by one and blinked. "There are only three. Mommy, which one of us dropped them?"

Jessie did not dare to look at the man's face beside her. She said weakly, "Sorry, there are only three pieces of this model of parental clothing. There are no father's pieces. I saw that the ones printed on it were Felix and Fia's favorite anime characters, so I bought them."

Alex: "... " After a while, he said coldly, "No need to apologize. Do you think I care about this dress?"

The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika

Chapter 103

103 . Awesome

Even though he said that, Jessie could see that he was angry. She quickly said, "No, that's not what I meant. I will definitely buy all four pieces of clothes next time..."

"You will buy them like this in the future. I will not wear these things. How childish!"

Felix and Fia were speechless.

Who was the first one to wear the white parent-child costume the last time?

Jessie became more and more regretful that she only bought three pieces of clothes but at that time she really saw that the design of the clothes was pretty. She thought that he was usually very busy and did not have a chance to wear the cloth with them so she didn't bought him.

Alex did not speak. His thin lips were tightly pursed into a straight line, and his dark handsome face clearly said, 'Don't come near me.'

They returned to the Tianji Residence. He went into the bedroom and closed the bedroom door.

They were all speechless in the living room.

“Mommy, why don’t you sleep with us tonight?” Felix looked up at Jessie and asked. Fia also nodded. “Yes, Mommy, you can’t sleep with my dad tonight. My dad is jealous. According to our experience, he definitely won’t let you have a good time! So, I think you’d better stay away from him!”

Jessie laughed and rubbed their heads. “Don’t worry about me. Your dad can’t eat me. Let’s go take a shower and sleep.”

Felix looked worried. “He won’t eat you, but I’m afraid he will hit you.”

Jessie was speechless.

How much psychological trauma did Alex leave for the children? How could he be angry and hit people?

After coaxing the children to sleep, Jessie went back to the master bedroom.

Only a warm yellow wall lamp was lit in the bedroom.

The man who usually took a shower and read e-mails on the bed was now lying down and sleeping.

Jessie lay beside him. Alex closed his eyes. The moment she got close, he turned around and left her with only her back.

She took the initiative to put her hand on his back and reached out to hug his waist.

The man silently pushed her hand away and moved out a little.

Jessie looked at his back for a while and also fell asleep on the other side.

After a long time, her shoulder was bitten by him.

“It hurts.” Jessie could not help but complain.

Alex did not say anything. He took a bite of her before his anger disappeared. Then, just like before, he held her tightly in his arms before continuing to sleep.

Jessie could not help but smile slightly in his arms.

Laurent Family Residence.

“Shall we go and watch a movie first?” Restall held Rudolf’s arm and suggested as she happily walked out.

"It's not like we can't watch a movie at home. Why should we go to a movie theater?"

"Can the house compare to the cinema? I'm going to a movie theater. When I was young, you begged me to go out and watch a movie. Now, I'm asking you to go with me, but you're not willing. Do you think I'm old?"

"You're just messing around!"

"Are you going or not?" Restall did not leave and insisted on him agreeing.

Just as Rudolf was about to agree, a blue car rolled to the entrance of the garden like a hurricane. The ear-piercing sound of the brakes made the silent air seem to start cramping.

"This is Fifi's car? Why is she driving so fiercely? What should we do if something happens?" Restall nagged as she let go of Rudolf's arm and quickly walked out. Rudolf also frowned slightly and followed her with his hands behind his back. Fifi ran out of the car. She did not even bother to close the car door and rushed into Grandma Restall's arms. She urgently said, "Grandma, something big happened. Do you know what kind of new girlfriend my uncle had? That woman was divorced and she loved to seduce men. When she was with her ex-husband, she cheated on another man. Now, circle of R City had spread. My uncle's reputation has been ruined by her. You should quickly think of a way to get rid of her. She was amazing. Until now, no man could escape from her. palm. If she insists on my uncle marrying her, then we'll be finished."

Grandma Restall frowned when she heard that. "Where did you hear all this nonsense from? F i, you can't speak blindly."

"I am not speaking blindly. Just now, I was attending the gathering and everyone was talking about this matter. It made me so ashamed that I no longer have the face to stay there. That woman really isn't a good person!" Fifi saw that they did not believe her and shouted even louder.

"Enough!" Grandpa Rudolf scolded her sternly, "You are also a member of Laurent family. You are not allowed to talk about these rumors anymore. From now on, you are not allowed to mention this matter again!"

Fifi originally thought that she would definitely make a great contribution by telling them about this matter. She did not expect that she would be harshly reprimanded. How could she be willing to accept it? She turned around and walked towards the car. "Alright, you guys are afraid of uncle. If you don't want to tell him, I will tell him myself. I can't let my uncle be harmed by her!"

"Where are you going? Come back! Fifi!" Grandma Restall chased and shouted.

Fifi's car rushed out in front of her.

Grandpa Rudolf was so angry that he flicked his sleeves and entered the house.

Grandma Restall looked at the back of the car that was about to disappear and then looked at the back of Grandpa Rudolf's car. She frowned.

She had seen Jessie several times. She trusted this girl's character. Although she had been spoiled by Grandpa Rudolf for more than half of her life, she had almost never suffered any grievances in a big family like Laurent family. But she had seen too many different kinds of people in so many years. She could tell that a person was good and bad.

However, Fifi must not be speaking without thinking. There were so many rumors outside. There must be a reason behind it. Otherwise, not many people would dare to spread rumors about the Laurent family.

What exactly was going on?

Jessie was really divorced?

But she still looked like a university student. How was that possible? If she had been divorced, then how old was she when she first got married?

She suddenly remembered that Alex met Jessie alone. Could it be...

"Old master!" The more she thought about it, the more she felt that something was wrong. She turned around and walked quickly into the courtyard. "Rudolf! Rudolf!"

Rudolf smoked in the west prefectural hall.

After he officially abdicated from the company, he quit smoking. It had been many years since he smoked.

Restall's heart tightened when she saw the smoke.

"Do you know something?"

Rudolf did not say anything.

"Tell me!" Restall became anxious.

Rudolf extinguished the cigarette butt and lit another one. He repeatedly wasted a few cigarettes before he coldly snorted, "It's all because of your good son!"

The next day, Alex drove the children to school and then sent Jessie to the coffee shop.

"I have something to do tonight. I will send someone to help you move." Alex parked the car in front of the coffee shop.

"No need. I have nothing." Jessie knew he wanted to help her move to Mountain and River Residence.

Alex turned his head and looked at her. He did not say anything else and waited for her to get off the car.

Jessie was not in a hurry to open the car door. She took out an exquisite black square box from her bag and handed it to him. Her face was red. "Here you go."

Alex glanced at the box. His cold and handsome face had obviously eased up a little, but he still pretended to be casual. "What?"

Jessie had never taken the initiative to give any man a gift. Her face became hotter and hotter. "You will know when you see it."

Alex had already received the box. He lifted the lid of the box. Inside was a man's watch with an Omega embedded in it.

Jessie saw him close the box again and asked casually, "Don't you like it?"

"Why do you want to buy this?" Alex put the box into the cart and said softly.

Jessie did not hear what she wanted to hear. She felt a little disappointed in her heart, but she quickly felt relieved and said, "It's nothing. I bought it because it looks good. If you don't like it, I will go and get another one."

As she spoke, she stretched out her hand and prepared to take it back.

Her wrist was lightly held by him. His eyes were deep and no one could tell what he was thinking

"Let's go to the coffee shop." He leaned over and helped open the car door.

Jessie saw that his meaning was that he did not want her to change the watch. Although she was unable to express the disappointment in her heart, she did not continue to ask.

Alex went to the company's underground garage and parked his car. He specially took out the black box from the garage. He had been holding it in his hand the whole time when he returned to his office.

After passing through president's office, the people inside stood up and greeted him as usual.

Alex raised his right hand, which was holding the box, and responded to them.

Everyone was stunned. They sat down and jumped up again, smiling and nodding at him.

Rick saw this strange scene when he came up. He followed Alex into the office and closed the door behind him. "Boss, what good news did you have this morning?"

Alex was in a good mood. He smiled. "What is it?"

Rick saw that he was smiling and became bolder. He grinned and said, "It has been a long time since I saw you being so friendly."

"How was I like in the past?"

"Like hailstones!" Rick blurted out.

Alex had a faint smile on his face. "Assistant Rick, have you found out anything about the Q City branch that I asked you to investigate yesterday?"

"Not yet."

He turned to Assistant Rick and said, "Give me the results before you get off work today."

"But didn't you say you would give me a week's time yesterday?"

"I'm in a hurry to ask for it now. Do you have an opinion?"

Rick looked bitter. "I have no objections. I will go and investigate now!"

After leaving president's office, Rick couldn't help but slap his own mouth, "You talk too much!"

Rick walked for a while and Alex took out the brand new watch from the box. He took off his Rolex and threw it into the drawer. He put the new Omega model that Jessie gave on his wrist. He looked at it again and again and smiled.

During the meeting in the morning, he often pushed open the sleeves of his suit to look at the watch.

This made his subordinates' hearts tighten. They thought he had something urgent to do. They spoke faster and faster.

Usually, meetings that lasted for more than an hour were all finished within half an hour.

Rick helped to collect the documents and looked at Alex carefully. "Boss, do you have something urgent?"

Alex shook his head and looked at his watch again.

Rick saw that there was a new watch on his wrist. It was a new model of Omega that had just been released. He sincerely praised, "This watch is beautiful. You just bought it, right?"

104 . I'm Going to Pour Black Dog Blood on Your Face

Alex's facial expression didn't change, "Not bad?"

"Not only is it not bad, it is really very beautiful. It matches your aura very well." As the chief assistant, Rick was well-versed in currying favor.

Alex glanced at him indifferently and did not say anything else.

When the two of them left the meeting room together, Alex seemed to have thought of something and said casually, "Don't worry about the Q City branch. I'll give you a week to investigate carefully."

"Yes, Boss!" Cold sweat broke out on Rick's forehead. He subconsciously looked at the new watch on Alex's wrist. (This novel will be daily updaed at)He seemed to have vaguely understood something.

In the coffee shop.

Jessie told Sally about the watch she gave to Alex She repeated the same thing twice to Sally, saying that Alex did not respond.

She could not help but ask worriedly, "What do you think? Did he accept many women's gifts, so he did not have any feelings for the gifts I gave him?"

"It's normal. People like Boss Alex don't lack women who give him gifts, let alone watches.(This novel will be daily updaed at) However, that depends on who gave him the piece he accepted. He didn't return the watch to you. Don't worry." Sally said patiently as she made the flowers on the coffee.

"But I asked if he liked it. He didn't answer anything. I was actually worried that I didn't give him a good one. He didn't even want to wear the watch I gave him."

This was the first time Jessie gave him something. Seeing his unhappy expression, she was worried that his horizons were too small and she didn't want to give him something.

In that case, she might as well not give him a gift and save her face in front of him.

"A few hundred thousand watch is not good enough? Dear, gifts are not important, especially for a man like Boss Alex. What he doesn't lack the most is money. As long as he cares about you, even if you give him grass, he will cherish it. Don't worry. He must really like it. He's a man." Sally rolled her eyes.

Then she laughed with longing. "But to be honest, I really can't imagine what your Boss Alex would look like when he's happy. Would he laugh? Isn't it very fun?"

Jessie did not see him laugh out loud either. That man was very reserved. Other than when he was angry, he kept all his emotions very well. It was hard to figure out what he was thinking.

Although she had never seen him so happy before, she had seen him when he was in a very bad mood. He only knew one thing, and that was to pull her and have sex with her. He was very fierce.

"What are you guys talking about? Why are you guys so happy?" Rafael made a new cake and brought it out for Sally and Jessie to taste. "I added a new thing to this cake. It will make people feel better. You two try it and see if you can eat it."

Jessie took the small fork and was about to put one piece into her mouth when a rustling sound came from the door.

The originally transparent and clean glass was suddenly splashed by a bucket of black-red stuff.

The customers at the several tables in the restaurant were also frightened and several white collar girls screamed in fear. (This novel will be daily updated at)The waiter quickly ran over to appease them.

Jessie and the others quickly ran out. A pungent smell rushed towards them.

This kind of thing did not look like paint, but more like some kind of dirty blood.

Sally, who had a fiery temper, directly scolded, "Which immoral person is it? Daring to splash paint on my shop, he doesn't want his life anymore, right?"

Fifi threw a red bucket onto the ground and with her hands on her hips, she scolded Jessie." You are the one who is wicked and short-lived! Do you think no one can see your true face? I am here today to warn you to stay away from my uncle. If I see you pestering him again, I will pour black dog blood on your face!"

"Are you crazy? Which mental hospital are you not from? You ran out before taking the medicine today, right?" Sally could not take it anymore and took a few steps forward. Her voice was sharper than Fifi's, "If you are sick, then hurry up and get back to the hospital. Don't bite innocent people like a mad dog!"

Fifi came from a good family and the people she had met since young all held her in high regard. It had always been her scolding people but she had never been insulted by others.

Moreover, Sally had scolded her for being crazy and calling her a dog. Fifi was in disbelief for a few seconds and quickly reacted. Both of her eyes turned white from anger and she lifted her hand to grab Sally's hair.

Jessie was behind them and saw it before Sally. She immediately reached out to grab Fifi's hand and calmly said, "Miss Fifi, my friend said some unpleasant words but you came here without asking any questions. You scolded and spilled dog blood. It was your fault first. You should apologize to my friend!"

"Do you still remember who I am? Then you still have the face to ask me to apologize? If you did not seduce my uncle, do you think I would be willing to do such shameful things?" Fifi pulled Jessie's arm. She tore Jessie's clothes and shouted as she tore them. "Look, everyone. This shameless woman. She acted recklessly in the marriage, but her ex-husband didn't want her. After her divorce, she has come again to seduce my uncle. She forced my uncle to marry her and kept it from us. She thought we didn't know anything about her. You're just a vixen!"

Fifi had seen many videos of shredding a shrew's clothes in the news before. At that time, she felt very comfortable. (This novel will be daily updated at)In addition, she was here to stand up for her uncle, so she became more and more excited.

Fortunately, this was the high-end office building area. Not many people found out about the farce here.

But no matter what, this kind of fight between women had always attracted a lot of attention. No matter how high-end the place was, there would still be a few people who would pass by in a hurry. All of them would look over in this direction.

Jessie did not pay attention and one of her sleeves had already been torn off by Fifi.

Fifi still wanted to tear it off. Jessie backhanded slapped her face.

A crisp sound.

Both of them were stunned.

Jessie did not really want to hit her. After all, she was Alex's relative. It was only because she could not shake her off that she accidentally hit her, so she was stunned.

Fifi did not expect that this lowly woman who spent so much effort to marry her uncle would actually dare to hit her. She was also stunned.

Sally clapped her hands and shouted, "Good beating! She should be beaten!"

Jessie was the first to react but because of Fifi's actions just now, she was not prepared to apologize to Fifi.

She said calmly: "You also know that that is your uncle. Since that is the case, the matter between me and your uncle, no matter what, it is not your turn to interfere. This is your first time scolding someone and splashing dog blood. I will not mention it to your family for the time being. Now, please leave immediately!"

When Jessie met this Miss Fifi in Laurent Residence, Jessie thought that she was a spoiled young lady. She did not think that Fifi was such an unreasonable person. She could curse, splash dog blood and tear people's clothes. She was not a lady from a prestigious family and was clearly a shrew.

Under Jessie's stern words, Fifi did not make another sound.

She slowly walked towards the car parked at the side of the road. After walking for a while, she suddenly turned her head and rushed straight in Jessie's direction.

Jessie and Sally thought that she would give up and leave. They did not expect her to suddenly counterattack.

No one was prepared at all..

Jessie's ponytail was suddenly grabbed by Fifi. She gritted her teeth and dragged Jessie's hair to the side.

Before Sally could get close, Rafael who was by the side could not watch any longer and ran forward to grab Fifi's wrist. With a light pinch, Fifi screamed and let go of Jessie's hair.

Rafael would often personally rub the dough. The strength of his hand was huge. (This novel will be daily updated at)This pinch could make Fifi feel pain for at least ten days or half a month.

He pulled Jessie behind him and said sternly with a cold face, "If you don't leave now, I will call the police immediately!"

Fifi saw a handsome boy coming out to protect Jessie and became even more furious," Everyone saw it, right? She used my uncle's money. So she was still secretly raising a gigolo! Jessie, just wait. I will tell my uncle now, you dirty woman. Don't even think about entering my uncle's house for the rest of your life. You're not qualified!"

"Fifi, what are you doing here?" A man in a dark blue suit with a refined temperament walked over from a few people. He frowned and glanced at them. Finally, his gaze landed on Fifi. "What happened to your hand?"

"Dad, these people are the ones who bullied me!" When Fifi saw the person who came, the arrogance and despotic attitude from before disappeared in an instant. It changed into a pitiful look of grievance. "Dad, my hand is broken. It hurts. It was caused by them. You must help me get justice. It hurts."

Jessie felt that this man was somewhat familiar and after thinking about it, she was unable to recall who he was.

He was Fifi's father, and that was Alex's brother-in-law.

Jessie did not know if she should greet him or not, so she kept quiet and did not take the initiative to say anything.

After Fifi finished crying, Shawn lifted her hand to look and frowned, "What exactly is going on?"

Fifi pointed her finger at Jessie, "It's this woman. She slapped me. The man and woman beside her were her accomplices. They joined hands to hit me!"

"Why would they hit you?" Shawn continued to ask as he pinched her wrist and turned it around. He realized that it was not a big deal. Fifi was making a big fuss.

However, he only had such a precious daughter right now. She had always been spoiled. (This novel will be daily updated at) Seeing that she had been wronged, he knew that it might be his daughter who caused trouble first, but he still put on a stern face and questioned Rafael. "Did you hurt my daughter's hand?"

Jessie quickly walked out from behind Rafael. "It has nothing to do with him! Mr. Shawn, right? Before you seek justice for your daughter's injuries, shouldn't you first ask what your daughter did to us? Did you see the black dog blood on my door? And my sleeve. These are all your daughter's creations. Before this, I only met your daughter once, and I have never done anything bad to her. There's no reason for her to do all of this, but she did all of it!"
