

The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika

Chapter 50

/ The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika

1. Fia Looked at Her Seriously

Because of Yura's crazy stubbornness and vengeful heart, her family wished that Jessie could disappear from R City in a minute.

Time was pressing and Jessie only had time to pack up the necessary luggage. Hannah had been monitoring her as she took a taxi to the airport.

Along the way, Jessie placed a large backpack to security guard's place at Felix and Fia's school and instructed them to pass it to the two children.

There were Phone Watches inside, a set of Page dolls that the two children liked. There were also clothes and hats that they had left at home and she had also bought for them.

Fia's Phone Watch seemed to have broken and Jessie bought another piece. Originally she went to the kindergarten door to wait and wanted to personally give it to her but in the end she did not manage to give it to her. No matter what, she owed that child. Although this could not make up for anything, but if she did not give it to her, Jessie kept feeling sad and anxious in her heart. (This novel will be daily updated at)

Before boarding the plane, Jessie called Sally. "Sal, I am going back to my hometown."

"You are taking your annual leave? Why is it so sudden?"

"No." Jessie pursed her dry lips, "I might not come to R City again."

"Why?!" Sally had just woken up not long ago. When she heard her words, she immediately sat up straight from the bed, "You have a good job. Why did you not come to R City again? Wait a minute, isn't it Mike again? He was the one who threatened you, right? He was afraid that you would expose his scandal here, right?"

Jessie looked at Hannah who was staring at her not far away, "Sally, actually I have always felt that you are still suitable to be a painter. But no matter what you do, I will still support you as always. Don't you like eating lobsters? In the future when you have time to come to my hometown, I will treat you to a meal."

She paused and looked at the blue sky outside the departure hall. "I decided to leave by myself, it has nothing to do with anyone." (This novel will be daily updated at)

Even if her mother was in the hands of the Yura's family, they only wanted to force her to leave. They would not really do anything to her mother. Jessie was clear about this point. It was not because Hannah was staring at her that she could not call the police. Instead, in the ten plus minutes that she was packing her luggage, Jessie thought of all the things that had happened during this period of time. She suddenly felt that she could actually leave R City.

Work? She worked very hard, but in the end, she was only a low-class waiter. Because of Alex's help at the banquet that day, she was able to gain the favor of the company.

Marriage? Mike? Her heart had long since turned to ashes.

Felix, Fia? Indeed, as long as she thought of never seeing them again, she would still feel empty in her heart. It was as if she had lost the most important thing in her life, but they had met by chance. No matter how deep her attachment was, she would pass by them sooner or later.

As for Alex...

Thinking of him, Jessie felt that there was nothing wrong with leaving R City.

Jessie's hometown was in a small town called Nanchuan in Hai City.

It was thousands of miles away from the capital city, R City.

About an hour after arriving home, Jessie finally saw her mother.

Although she suffered some fright, it was good that she was safe and sound.

That night, after Jessie sent a WeChat message to Sally, she took off the R City's phone card from her phone and held it in her palm for a few minutes.

She put it back on but before it turned on, she took it off again. Without any hesitation, she got up and ran to the back door in one go and threw the card into the lotus pond not far away.

Ever since they met Jessie at the school gate that morning, the first thing Felix and Fia did every day when they went to school was to find a circle in the hundreds of meters around the school gate. It was only when the school bell rang again and again that they rushed into the classroom. (This novel will be daily updated at)

During class, Fia's head drooped. She did not listen to a single word of what the teacher said.

The teacher was already used to Fia being like this. This young lady from the Laurent family had always been the teacher's most troublesome student. But Fia had a good family background, and she was still young. The teachers did not dare to really punish her. Usually, they would call her parents many times. So as long as she did not cause too much trouble in the classroom, the teachers might as well pretend that they did not see her.

What surprised the teachers was that Felix was obviously not in good spirits either. It wasn't because he didn't finish his homework and couldn't answer the questions. He was a genius with high intelligence and the teacher had specially tested him. Now, he was already familiar with the fourth grade's curriculum. Sooner or later, he would jump ranks again and again.

The content of the kindergarten's curriculum was very simple for him.

However, other than doing his homework as usual and answering the questions as usual, he also answered them. Other times, Felix was just like his sister, completely out of his state of mind.

Sometimes, when Teacher Mirna asked him to tidy up everyone's homework, he would have no reaction even after she called him a few times.

Teacher Mirna looked for him to have a heart-to-heart talk. "Felix, do you have something on your mind recently?"

Felix pursed his lips, his small face full of melancholy. "Teacher, have you ever felt empty?"

"Empty?"

"Yes, as if I lost something very important. My heart is empty."

"Felix, what did you lose? Do you want us to help you find it?"

"We can't find it."

Teacher Mirna nodded. "I see. Felix, don't be sad. If you can't find it, I will buy you another one."

"This thing can't be bought."

"Felix, what did you lose?"

"A woman, a woman who lies."

Teacher Mirna suddenly felt very confused. In the English class, Fia brazenly lied on the table and slept. The young English Teacher Hendrick walked over and knocked on her table.

She took a look.

Then she changed directions and slept again. (This novel will be daily updated at)

Teacher Hendrick knocked on the table again.

She raised her head and her eyes narrowed into a slit before closing again.

Teacher Hendrick could not bear it anymore and pulled her up, "Fia, you translate the text. What do you mean by yes?"

Fia drooped her head, "I don't know."

Teacher Hendrick was very persistent. "Take a good look. Look at what's on both sides of my nose."

Fia narrowed her eyes and looked at him seriously for a while, "It is old age spots."

"You stay behind after school! You are not allowed to go back until it is dark!"

At lunch, with Kenny in the lead, a group of classmates gathered together to discuss the delicious food and snacks their respective mothers had cooked.

Fia was originally in a bad mood, but when she heard this, she lost her appetite even more.

Putting down the chopsticks, she walked out of the classroom and went to the sports field to look at the sky with her hands in her pockets.

The blue sky and white clouds that she had always thought to be pretty were all very ugly.

I'm so annoying. I'm annoyed by everything I see.

oa

Kenny finished his meal and hid in a corner of the field to eat his candy.

His face was full of sugar when he ate.

A bee came out of nowhere and pounced on his face.(This novel will be daily updaed at)

Kenny could not chase it away. When he saw Fia, who was the closest to him, he ran over and pulled her. "Fia, there are bees on my face. Help me."

He had not finished the word yet, but he received a slap on his face instead.

Fia really did not want to beat him up, but he had to bring his face in front of her. She had to give him a slap

Kenny's chubby face instantly turned red.

He cried loudly.

Teacher Mirna rushed over. When she saw that it was the two of them, she felt a headache." What's wrong with the two of you?"

"Fia hit me!"

"Who hit you? Didn't you ask me to help you beat the bees?"

"You hit me. Teacher Mirna, look at my swollen face." Fia rolled her eyes, "Coward!"

"Who are you calling a coward?"

"I'll scold whoever answers me!"

"Fia!" Teacher Mirna was very angry, "Call Aunt Jessie over after school to come over!"

Fia was like an angry little lion as she stared at her and shouted, "Don't mention her to me!"

"Fia!"

"I can invite the parents to the school, but you're not allowed to mention her to me!" Fia turned around and ran.

Teacher Mirna was speechless.

What had happened to these two children of Laurent family during this period of time? Teacher Mirna felt very tired.

After school, Fia stayed in the classroom until the sky turned dark.

Felix also accompanied her until the sky turned dark.

Driver Bart only came in to pick them up after getting permission from the English teacher.

The two little fellows walked out dejectedly.

After passing the security room, the security guard who had helped Jessie store things, happened to be on shift at this time. When he saw them, he ran out of the security room with his backpack. "Young Master Felix, Young Miss Fia, there is a package for you here. It was left behind by Miss Jessie who came to pick you up earlier."

When they heard Miss Jessie's name, Felix and Fia both stopped in their tracks and ran over together. Both of their small faces were shining.

When they opened the backpack, they saw something familiar inside and the toys that Jessie had promised to buy for them. For some reason, for a moment, the two little fellows suddenly wanted to hug these things and cry.

Felix opened the Phone Watch on his wrist, "I'll call her now and ask her to come and pick us up."

Fia smiled and nodded heavily

"The number you have dialed is an empty number" Hearing the voice from the other end over and over again, the two little fellows were both stunned

Alex had been on a business trip in London for the past few days.

It took him three days to finish the original one-week plan with his team He left the rest of the work to Rick, who had come with him. He booked a flight back to R City at night

The next morning, he arrived. The driver who came to pick him up sent him back to Mountain and River Residence according to the usual rules.

He had been working overtime all day, but he had not slept well on the plane. Alex's temple could not help swelling and hurting.

He closed his eyes and leaned on the back of the chair. His voice was obviously tired. "Driver, go to Tianji Residence."

When the car arrived at Tianji Residence and entered the deserted apartment, Alex could not help but feel that his heart was just like this apartment. It was empty.

This was a very strange feeling.

In the past 32 years, there had never been a situation like this.

In fact, he didn't want to admit that shortening the travel time was all because of a certain concern and longing that had never disappeared even though it was very light in his heart was

Conce

Even though he was so busy that he only slept for less than five hours a day, he still couldn't hold it in. From time to time, he would think of a woman, a woman who didn't know what was good for her, but was also a heartless woman.

That woman took the initiative to meet him and seduce him. He slept with her as she wished and he was willing to fall into her trap. But then? There was no news from her.

Not only was this detestable woman skilled, but she was also especially dishonest. She actually liked to do things half-assed from beginning to end!

The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika

Chapter 51

/ The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika

1. It Was as If She Had Completely Disappeared from R City
She said she didn't like him? But she had sex with him.

A second ago, she had hugged her ex-husband, and then a second later, she had sex with him. Then, in the next second, she disappeared without even a message. She was extremely detestable!

He sat down on the sofa, picked up his phone, found the unsaved number, and clicked on it.

In the next second, he quickly cut off the phone, threw the phone onto the sofa, and got up to take a shower.

He didn't have a good rest these few days, so he came here to make up for his sleep. He laid on the bed, tossing and turning, not feeling sleepy at all.

He took his phone, dialed Sammy's number, and spoke in a casual tone. "Why didn't you say you were going to Jiya Island recently? You were dumped by that woman?"

Sammy was having sex and was panting as he answered. "I'm busy. I'm hanging up!"

"At this time?" Alex looked at the time. It was not even seven o'clock in the morning. He snorted coldly.

If Sammy could work so hard, his father would not be willing to accept his adopted son as his successor, not his own son as his successor.

"You know I don't have time, yet you still call me!" Sammy fiercely answered his question with action.

The woman called out.

Alex understood. He was silent for a second and hung up the phone.

He lit a cigarette and smoked. A few minutes later, he made another call.

Sammy was at a critical moment. He was so angry that he cursed, "Alex, do you want something?"

Alex slowly smoked the cigarette. "Do you still want to borrow Jiya Island?"

10

"I have broken up with that woman a long time ago. Now this woman doesn't want the island. Don't call me again. I have turned off my phone!"

Alex didn't care about his threats and continued to ask, "You broke up? You were dumped?"

"How is that possible! My skills are good, the women I've loved all begged me not to abandon them!" Sammy looked at the woman beneath him with an evil smile. "Baby, come and prove to my brother. Will you be willing to leave me?"

He asked as he hit her hard.

"Disgusting!" The woman shyly hugged him even tighter.

"Did you hear that, Alex? As long as I have good sex skills, I will never be abandoned by a woman!" Sammy suddenly thought of something and stopped. "Wait, Alex, what do you mean? Do you have a woman you like?"

He hung up.

Sammy was speechless.

A few phone calls had ruined his sexual intercourse. He was not careful when making friends!

Alex threw away the phone, smoked, and paced around the bedroom.

If he had good sex skills, women would not abandon him.

So Jessie was gone because he did not have good sex skills?

Nonsense!

That woman had clearly been made to cry the entire night, and she was begging him not to have sex again.

With his super powerful combat power, (This novel will be daily updated at) How many in this world could be compared to him?

He would actually ask Sammy this kind of question. His brain was also flooded with water.

The more he thought about it, the more irritated he became. He sat back on the bed and took his phone again

He took out the number and stared at it for a long time. He opened the message box and typed: (Aunt Jeje, I am Fia. I borrowed Dad's phone to send you a message. What are you doing now?)

After writing, she repeatedly confirmed her tone and words before clicking Send.

After he saw that he had successfully sent the message, he continued to stare at the phone screen. He did not get a reply until the screen became black.

He refused to give up. He carefully recalled the expression and tone of his daughter when she was with that woman. His fingers, which were clearly defined, once again typed on the screen: (Aunt Jeje, you have not come to pick me up these days. I miss you. Can you reply to me?)

Still no reply. Alex angrily threw his phone to the side and grabbed the blanket to sleep.

Ten minutes later, he picked up his phone again. (Aunt Jeje, my father is going on a blind date again. This auntie isn't pretty, but my dad promised to meet her.) He typed halfway and pressed the delete button again.

He retyped: (My dad will send us to school later. When he first ate breakfast, he said that the coffee you grinded was delicious. I think my dad seems to have fallen in love with you.)

He had just clicked on the send button. He suddenly bounced up and hurriedly turned off his phone. Then, he forcefully split the phone into two pieces.

After a while, he reinstalled the phone and turned it on. (This novel will be daily updated at)When he saw that the message on the phone screen had failed to be sent, he heaved a sigh of relief.

After he calmed down, he found Rick to get the number of Director Yosua from Midnight Company. He called him and said in a business-like tone, "Director Yosua, let your company use it alone. We have to receive a distinguished guest who knows coffee today. Last time, barista's name was Jane or something. I'm sorry to bother you to let her come to our company at 8 o'clock."

When Director Yosua heard that it was him calling, he immediately became very enthusiastic. After listening to the request, Director Yosua felt a little disappointed "Boss Alex, I'm really sorry. I originally wanted to do what you told me to do, but Jessie has been away for a few days. Her phone number is also empty. We can't contact her even if we want to

After the call, Alex did not hesitate to call Jessie's number.

As expected, it was the same as what Director Yosua said, the number was empty.

Alex's handsome face was instantly covered with tens of thousands of layers of ice.

Good! Very good! This woman is really amazing!

He suddenly got off the bed, put on his suit and shirt, and went out

There was no one in CnX Apartment.

Mike pasted the sale on the door of her house.

After sleeping with him and making his heart race, that woman seemed to have completely disappeared from R City.

Nanchuan Town.

It was the autumn harvest time, and Jessie had helped out in the fruit garden on the outskirts of her home for a few days.

It was raining today, and the whole family was resting.

Jessie went to the bank in town to cash the two million cheque that Hannah gave.

That house was built by her many years of hard work in R City. This was the property that she should have and she would not take it.

After storing all the money in her bank card, she went to buy some things that she needed.

The Mid-Autumn Festival was coming, and the home appliances in the town's largest shopping mall were doing promotional activities.

Jessie wanted to buy a juicer. Because her grandmother's teeth were getting worse and worse, many of the slightly crispy fruits could not be eaten. There was no juicer at home and Jouvita used her hands to make fruit juice for her to drink. Making a cup of fruit juice was very tiring for her. (This novel will be daily updated at)

A few brands of juicers were doing activities. Just as Jessie was comparing, her phone rang.

Other than Sally and her family members who knew the new number, there was no one else.

She did not look at the phone number and continued to pick up the juicer as she put the phone back to her ear. "Hello."

"Aunt Jeje, it's Felix."

When she heard the familiar sound of a clean child, Jessie's eyes turned red for a moment and her voice could not help but choke. "Felix, you are finally willing to talk to me..."

At this moment, she had forgotten that she had changed the number. She was not curious that they had her new number.

"Aunt Jeje, Fia and I just got off the plane and now at the Hai City's airport, the people here said that they must have relatives to come and pick us up before letting us out of the airport. Originally we were planning to go to Nanchuan to find you but now it seems like you have to come here to pick us up."

He spoke calmly, as if he was in a kindergarten when he came to Nanchuan in Hai City.

Jessie was so scared that her face turned pale, "Only you and Fia?"

"Yes."

Jessie was speechless.

When she was five or six years old, she had not even taken a step out of Nanchuan. They actually came all the way to another city!

Jessie directly hailed a private car and drove on the highway. After more than an hour, she finally arrived at Hai City's airport.

After rushing into the terminal, she was about to call Felix when a surprised child's voice passed through the layers of figures, "Aunt Jeje! Aunt Jeje!"

Jessie suddenly turned her head and saw two children standing beside a staff member. They were still wearing the navy blue school uniform and carrying school bags. Their faces were filled with happiness and Fia kept waving her little hands at her.

Jessie's eyes immediately became moist.

She ran over and the two children immediately threw themselves into her arms. Jessie tightly hugged them and the high hanging heart finally landed safely on the ground.

The staff at the side felt injustice for the two children who had waited for a long time. "When you pick up the child, you should come and pick it up on time. You are a few hours late. Do you know that this might cause psychological trauma to the child?"

Jessie did not explain. She kept apologizing and thanking the staff. She held the hands of the two children tightly and went to the resting area to sit down.

Fia saw Jessie's red eyes and carefully asked, "Aunt Jeje, are you still angry because of what I said last time? I'm sorry, I shouldn't have ignored you and shouldn't have lied to you that Auntie Miranda is gentler than you. Actually other than you, I don't want any other aunts to accompany me to the parent-child meeting. Can you not be angry with me?" (This novel will be daily updated at)

Felix also raised his head and looked at Jessie. Although he was embarrassed to open his mouth, the meaning in his eyes was the same as Fia's.

Jessie looked at the two children's clean and white faces. Even though she was still scared and angry, at this moment, she could not bear to say those words of reproach.

"Why did you guys come here? Did you buy the tickets?" After a while, Jessie asked. "Yes, after buying the tickets, we found an auntie who knows her father and arranged that there was no one to accompany her. I told her that you were here to pick us up, so we took the plane and came over." Felix answered honestly.

"Did you tell your Dad?"

They shook their heads at the same time.

If they told dad, how could he agree to let them come? (This novel will be daily updated at)

That day, they did not get through to Jessie's phone number, so they went to Louisdin's coffee shop to find Aunt Jeje's friend Mrs. Sally. After they knew that Jessie had returned to Nanchuan and changed her number, they carefully discussed with each other in Mountain and River Residence's movie studio last night, and finally decided to come to Nanchuan to find her!

The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika

Chapter 52

/ The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika

1. A Majestic Black Land Rover Was Parked in the Alley

They're going to tell her personally that they've forgiven her for not going to their parent child meeting that day, and they're going to make her their new mother.

Early this morning, the two little fellows had planned it at night and pretended to be sick and did not go to school.

When their family members weren't paying attention, they snuck out of Mountain and River Residence. They took a taxi to the airport. The airport staff saw that they were two children and didn't want them to take the plane alone. Coincidentally, an auntie knew them and couldn't stand the sweet talk of the two kids. The auntie acted on impulse and completed the unaccompanied procedures for them. She made them come to South Sea to see their father who was on a business trip as they wished.

Just like that, they flew all the way to Hai City.

Jessie sucked in a breath of cold air when she heard that.

She really didn't know if she should praise Felix for being too smart or scold him for being too bold.

"Felix, give your father a call."

Felix looked at Fia.

Fia threw herself onto Jessie and wrapped her arms around her neck, acting like a spoiled child. "Aunt Jeje, I'm hungry, I'm so hungry..."

Jessie rubbed her little head and then touched Felix's head. (This novel will be daily updtaed at) "I will bring you guys to eat something delicious right now. But you still have to call your father, do you understand?"

Last time, when the two little fellows went to the coffee shop to find her, the people of Laurent family were very anxious. Now that they had disappeared for a day, they might be very anxious.

Fia raised her head in her arms. "Aunt Jeje, do you want Dad to bring us back and not let us g o to your house?"

"How can that be?" Jessie kissed her forehead, "But if your family knows that you are not at school but have disappeared, they will be very worried. Furthermore, you two are still at school, how can you delay your studies? After the winter vacation, when the time comes..."

"I don't want to! I want to go to your house right now!" Fia hugged her tightly again and put her little face on her shoulder. After a few seconds, she looked up again and her big eyes were shining. "Aunt Jeje, I will just go to school in your hometown. Go and sign up for me tomorrow. In the future, you can take me to school and leave school. That way, I won't have to delay my studies."

Jessie was speechless.

Fia pursed her lips. She looked like she was about to cry. "Aunt Jeje, don't chase me away, okay? Kenny and the others all have a mother. I just want you to be my new mother..."

Felix licked his lips and said, "Aunt Jeje, I will call my father. Don't send us back immediately, okay?"

He and Fia actually thought the same thing. He also wanted to go to Aunt Jessie's house...

Jessie looked at the two pairs of pitiful eyes looking at her and was very willing to accompany them in her heart.

CC

During the most difficult time for her, it was these two children that gave her sunlight, making all the gloominess no longer scary.

She had no fatherly love since she was young. Although the two children had a superior family background and were destined to be rich from birth, no matter how good the conditions were, they could not make up for the lack of a mother. Not to mention, both of them were only five or six years old children.

It was precisely because of this that she wanted to treat them well. She wanted to do her best to make them less regretful.

However, it seemed like it was also because of this that the misunderstanding between them deepened.

The motherly love that they wanted, that Miss Miranda wasn't able to give them...

Seeing her hesitation, Fia cried out sadly, "Mother, don't leave us behind! We will be obedient and never make you angry again. Don't leave..."

She acted as if the sky was about to collapse and immediately attracted everyone's attention at the airport.

Even the staff rushed over. When they heard Fia's crying, they scolded Jessie. (This novel will be daily updated at) "If you have a problem with your marriage with the child's father, you should first discuss with the child's father about the problem of the child's alimony and not leave the child unresponsibly with another man!"

Jessie's pretty face immediately became as red as blood and she lowered her head to wipe Fia's tears. "Fia, don't cry, okay?"

Felix also did not make a sound and quietly looked at her.

Fia continued to howl. "Mom, don't go with others, don't leave us behind, we don't want to follow dad..."

All kinds of criticisms and accusations were getting more and more frequent.

Jessie's face went from red to her neck and she could only agree, "Okay, I won't send you guys back. Don't cry, Fia."

"Pull the hook and stamp!" A second ago, Fia who was howling until the sky and earth split turned from crying to laughing. She even pulled Jessie's finger to forcefully stamp.

Jessie was speechless.

She had clearly been tricked by this little ghost spirit for a long time. She did not expect that she would be tricked again.

The crowd dispersed, and Jessie also held their warm little hands and walked out of the airport

Felix called Alex and repeatedly told him not to come and pick them up.

Only then did Alex know that the two little fellows actually went thousands of miles away to find that woman.

Jessie brought the two little fellows to a restaurant not far from the airport to eat.

She ordered a few dishes that the little fellows liked to eat.

Jessie busied herself and pampered the children. The people around thought that she was their mother.

When she had almost finished eating, she still picked up her phone and sent a message to Alex, (I am Jessie. Felix and Fia have come to my place. I will send them back to R City tomorrow. Don't worry.)

Although Felix had called, she was still afraid that he would be worried. Jessie sending a message like this made him feel more at ease.

After waiting for a while, she still did not receive a reply.(This novel will be daily updated at) She could not help but curse in her heart. Whether they were his biological children or not, he was not worried at all.

Seeing that he didn't reply, she also ignored him.

In any case, he already knew that the children were safe, and she would send them back tomorrow.

Because they had to stay here for a night, after eating, Jessie brought them to buy clothes to change into, the children's daily necessities, and so on.

After buying the clothes they needed, Jessie brought them to the supermarket and bought a lot of snacks and toys for the children.

There were a lot of things, so it was not easy to take them. Furthermore, she also felt sorry for the two little fellows who were living a comfortable life. She was afraid that they would get tired of taking the long bus, so Jessie got another private car and drove all the way from the city to Nanchuan Town. This kind of car was several times more expensive than long distance cars, but it was also much more comfortable than long distance cars.

or foreign countries as R City during the winter and summer vacation. It was the first time they had seen a small town like Nanchuan.

The car drove into the small town. The two of them were very curious about everything outside the window. Fia was lying on the window and chattering excitedly all the way. She wanted to call Felix to see everything she saw.

If it was R City, Felix wouldn't even bother with her in this kind of situation. But the buildings, streets, shops, and different foods sold on the streets were also fresh to him, so he followed Fia's instructions and kept looking outside the car window.

Jessie looked at their happy smiles, and even the gloom in her heart was swept away. It was as if just looking at them like this, those empty places in her heart were filled.

The car stopped all the way to Jessie's house.

.

Jessie's house was a two-story building with a circle of small courtyards.

Usually, Jouvita was the only one living there. Her grandfather and grandmother had a house in the fruit garden in the suburbs. Jessie got off the car first and saw a majestic black Land Rover parked in the alley to the left of the courtyard.

This car was similar to Director Yosua's, so Jessie recognized it.

But no one around her house had such an expensive car.

She did not care much about it. She got out of the car and brought the two little fellows to take out the big and small bags from the trunk of the car.

The yard door that was painted in blue was wide open. Jessie walked in and called out her Mom but no one answered for a long time.

Jessie thought that since it did not rain anymore, Jouvita went to the fruit garden to help again, so she ordered Felix and Fia to carry big bags and small bags into the house.

Just as she opened the door, she smelled the fragrance of food coming from the kitchen behind.

Fia put down the things and followed the fragrance of the rice. She pulled Felix and ran towards the direction of the kitchen. As she ran, she shouted happily, "Grandma! Grandma! Grandma Jouvita!"

Although it did not rain anymore, the sky was dark all day. This evening, it was even deeper.

The lights were on in the room. Jessie went in first and saw a coffee colored LV suitcase behind a row of wooden sofas on the right side. There was a man's black trench coat on the suitcase.

When she thought of the car outside, Jessie's heart inexplicably jumped.

She also followed the two children back to the kitchen.

The food was warm on the kitchen stove.

Fia wanted to eat. She looked at the large wooden cover and let Felix take it off.

Felix was more mature than her. He looked at it and shook his head. "It is very hot and needs to be heat-resistant. I will go and find Aunt Jeje."

"Coward!" Fia pulled over a small chair and prepared to climb up and personally remove the cover.

Jessie saw it when she came in and immediately rushed over to carry her down, "Little thing, don't be like this anymore. What if you fall?"

Fia stuck out her cute little tongue. She was very obedient. "I won't."

Felix narrowed his eyes and smiled. "Aunt Jeje, this lid is for eating, right?"

"Definitely! Definitely! It smells so good!" Fia surrounded the stove and swallowed her saliva.

Jessie looked around but did not see anyone. She could not tell if the disappointment in her heart was because she did not see Jouvita or not...

She put away her thoughts and touched the two little fellows' heads. (This novel will be daily updated at) "That's right, it is food. Come, you guys sit at the table, I'll get it for you."

The two little fellows immediately ran back to the dining table and sat down. Their four eyes were staring at her.

Jessie opened the lid and a fragrance hit her face.

In the large steamer, there were plums of cabbage, chicken wings, steamed fish, and other seven or eight dishes.

"Wow!" Fia and Felix were so hungry that they stood up. Their small faces were full of surprise.

Jessie was wearing a pair of heat insulation gloves, and she was carrying dishes to the dining table one by one.

There were hot voices coming from the front yard.

The voice gradually approached.

Jessie turned her head and saw a few people chatting and laughing. Grandpa, grandma, mom, and a handsome man who looked especially tall and straight among them.

He was wearing dark casual long pants and a light gray thin sweater. (This novel will be daily updated at) He rolled up his sleeves and the famous watch on the wrist bone flashed with a cold light. His two big hands were holding bags filled with persimmon, orange, plum and other fruits.

The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika

Chapter 53

/ The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika

1. What You Do, Our Family Doesn't Need It

After that night in Tianji Residence, Jessie saw him again a few days later.

When she didn't see him, she pretended to forget everything that happened that night.

When she saw him now, those scenes immediately swept over like tidal waves. Her face instantly flushed uncontrollably, and her heartbeat was chaotic to the point of being disorderly.

When the man's deep gaze swept over, Jessie's hand trembled and quickly turned her face to the side. The Coke chicken wings in her hand almost fell over.

At this moment, she really did not know how to describe her feelings.

While she warned herself to stay further away from him, she shamelessly took the initiative to go and have a relationship with him...

But how good could he be? He was clearly already engaged. And with his experience, how could he not know that something was wrong with her that night? However, he did not kick her out of the house. Instead, he let nature take its course.

She was shameless, and he was not a gentleman either.

However, in the end, the one who was most wrong was still her. She wasn't a pure student without feelings. From his actions over and over again, She could feel the subtle feelings he had for her. She also knew what he wanted, but she still allowed herself to accept his help time and time again. Even when she found out that he was already betrothed, and that she had been bewitched by those medicines, She even had the absurd idea of using her body to repay Alex's kindness. She had committed a heinous crime.

"Alex, just put it on the ground. Thank you for your hard work." Jouvita kindly asked Alex to put the fruit in the corner of the main house.

"It's okay. You don't have to be polite with me." Alex smiled modestly and kindly.

The calm charm of a man who had been training in the business world for many years could not be compared with ordinary people. Furthermore, he was very good-looking. He was born in a prestigious family and had a good self-discipline from a young age. It could be said that anyone who saw him would be subdued by him. Naturally, he was also liked by the elders of Jessie's Family.(This novel will be daily updated at)

Grandpa patted Alex's shoulder. "Come, let's drink at the back!"

"You guys have been busy for so long. It's time for dinner." Grandma followed them to the kitchen to cook.

Fia saw Alex and pouted. "Dad? Why are you here? Didn't Big Brother tell you not to come?"

Felix also stared at his father in dissatisfaction.

Alex ignored them and went to the tap to wash his hands.

"Jessie, come out." Jouvita shouted towards the kitchen.

Jessie had no choice but to bite the bullet and walk out of the kitchen door. She accidentally bumped into Alex who had finished washing his hands.

He was very tall. When Jessie lowered her head, she could only see his collar.

The familiar cool Auras on the man's body brushed past, causing her heart to be in chaos.

When she brushed past him, she subconsciously avoided him.

Alex did not have the slightest intention of getting close to her. No matter how far she hid, he brushed past her, not stopping at all.

After walking out, Jessie could not help but turn her head to look.

The tall and mighty man had already reached the dining table. He was slightly bending his back and politely talking to his maternal grandparents. They were preparing the bowls and chopsticks together. The table was very lively and peaceful.

"Go to Elder Zeng's house on the street and buy a few bottles of good wine. Buy some drinks for the children." Jouvita passed some cash to Jessie.

Jouvita was not afraid that Jessie did not have money, but she saw that Jessie always paid with her phone when she was in R City. She thought that she did not have cash in her hands. Since the town was not as advanced as R City, many small shops did not support paying with their phones.

"I have brought the drinks that Felix and Fia like from the city. I have just given it to them. I will go and buy more wine. I have the money." Jessie did not receive the money. She turned around and walked out of the house.

She had just walked out of the courtyard when she heard steady footsteps behind her.

Jessie turned around and saw Alex with one hand in his pocket and the other hand holding the car keys.

She quickly retracted her gaze and continued to walk forward. (This novel will be daily updated at)

The man's voice was low and indifferent. "Follow me."

There was no one else here. Jessie knew that he was calling her, so she pretended not to hear him and continued to walk forward.

Her wrist tightened and she bumped her head into the man's hard chest.

The tip of her nose hurt so much that her eyebrows tightened. "What are you doing? Let go!"

"Aren't you going to get the wine?" Alex's expression was not good, and his tone was even worse. He let go of her wrist and walked towards the Land Rover in the alley.

Jessie was stunned.

Alex had already opened the trunk of the car, which was filled with gift boxes.

There was wine, Maotai, ganoderma and ginseng in the car, as well as some mobile phones, tablets, top quality tea leaves, and even a lot of chocolate and candy.

Jessie saw his posture and did not dare to hesitate anymore. She quickly ran over to stop him. "What are you doing? Our family does not need it!"

She had already made up her mind to never interact with him again in the future. Now that he had given them so many expensive gifts, what should she do?

Was it because he slept with her that night as compensation?

She wasn't going to sell her body, nor did she intend to continue pestering him like before. Actually, this was also the main reason why she decided to leave R City that day.

"I didn't say I wanted to give it to you!" Alex put the lightest few things in her hands, and the rest were arranged neatly. He stretched out his long arm and lifted them all up, and strode into the house.

Jessie was speechless.

If he did not give them to her, why would he move them into her house? Even if it was for her grandparents or her mother, they were all her family!

Jouvita's shout came from the room, "Jessie, what are you still standing outside for? You bought the wine and brought it over. Your grandfather is anxious."

Jessie just realized that Alex had just stuffed a few bottles of wine into her hands.

Initially, she did not want to go to the kitchen anymore, but she could only bring the wine in again.

Seeing that it was Mao Tai, her grandfather was so happy that his face lit up. "I didn't pamper my granddaughter for nothing. The wine that my granddaughter bought for me is getting better and better. Alex, you are in luck today. You can also drink the good wine that my granddaughter bought!"

Jessie wanted to explain, but the man who was opening the bottle had already smiled and said, "You are indeed in luck!"

The old man was in a good mood after hearing these few words.

He was very good at coaxing the old man and Jessie admitted that she was not a match for him. She just pursed her lips and did not say anything. She sat between Felix and Fia and quietly picked the fish bones and peeled the prawn shells for the two little guys.

Alex looked over a few times and saw that she was taking care of the two little fellows. She practically did not eat a mouthful of food.

While drinking with his grandfather, he took some time to look at his son and daughter." Felix, Fia, you two did not grow hands?"

Felix was smart. He immediately realized that Aunt Jeje had given him the fish and shrimp he had eaten. He also thoughtfully picked up a prawn, peeled it, and put it in Jessie's bowl." Aunt Jeje, I am full. I will peel it for you."

Fia saw that her brother was sensible and was afraid that he would be more liked by Jessie than her. She had not even swallowed the fish meat in her mouth and immediately grabbed a large lobster in a fluster and muttered, "Aunt Jeje, I also know! I will also help you peel it!"

"Thank you, Felix, Fia. You guys peeled it that it becomes so delicious!" Jessie's heart warmed as she looked at the little fellows smiling sweetly in satisfaction.

Seeing Jessie finally start eating, Alex's heart dropped. He was even irritated by the smile on her lips.

Then he realized that he was still concerned about this cold blooded and heartless woman. He could not help but feel annoyed.

He couldn't help but look at her from the corner of his eye again. (This novel will be daily updated at)

She didn't even look at him from the beginning of the meal until the end.

He raised his cup and drank the wine in one gulp, but his chest was still stifled.

It was best to starve her to death, a heartless person!

"You're leaving just like that? It's getting late. Can't you stay here with the children for the night?"

After dinner, Alex wanted to leave and bid farewell to the elders.

Alex smiled modestly and used the reason that the children had to go to school tomorrow as an excuse to bring them back to R City overnight.

Felix looked at his father's large luggage in the room, then looked at his father silently.

Since he came and wanted to leave, wouldn't it be tiring to bring such a large suitcase?

Alex automatically ignored the doubt in his son's eyes. He picked up the suitcase and said, "Felix, go to the back and call your sister."

"Do you have to leave?" Although they had only seen him for a while, the elders had always been hospitable. Now, they really did not want him to leave.

Jessie brought Fia over and just happened to hear Jouvita's reluctant tone and said, "Felix and Fia's father are very busy with work. Grandfather, grandmother, mother, don't keep them.

Alex glanced at her and the anger in his chest became even stronger and his expression could not help but become serious.

Fia did not know what was going on. She raised a small hand and waved it with a sweet smile. "Goodbye, father! Drive carefully!"

The last sentence was said in the tone of the female lead in Korean dramas. That playful tone was cute and funny.

Felix mercilessly told her the cruel reality: "Dad said that we also have to go back with him."

Jessie could not bear to see the smiling face of the little girl slowly disappearing. She bent down and touched her tender little face, "Fia needs to go back to school properly. Only in the future can she be a useful person."

"Liar!" Fia looked at her and curled her lips. Tears rolled out, "You clearly promised to let us stay here for a night and send us back tomorrow! I don't want to go back today!"

Aunt Jeje had clearly bought so many things for her and was prepared to let her stay here. But now, her words did not count. When the little girl heard that she was going to leave now,

Before coming here, she had discussed with Felix that they would maintain an obedient and sensible image in front of Aunt Jeje's grandfather and grandmother. But at this moment, she shut her eyes and opened her little mouth. She shouted and started to cheat.

The elders wanted to persuade Alex to stay for a night, but Jessie said that he was busy, so they could not force him to stay, nor could they persuade the little guy.

Jessie's heart ached and she was conflicted, but she still thought of ways to persuade her. (This novel will be daily updated at)

Alex's handsome face was black with anger. The whole family was keeping them, only this damn woman did not keep them. Fia still had to stay here. In a fit of anger, he walked over and forcefully picked Fia up with his arm and walked out with big steps.

Felix wanted to go and pick up his father's chest but that chest was taller than him. Jessie quickly ran over and picked up the chest to send them out.

Jessie's family sent them all the way to the door. Alex put Fia in the backseat with a sullen face and came over to pick up the box in Jessie's hands.

The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika

Chapter 54

/ The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika

1. 5 After You Had Sex with Me, You Wanted to Take away My Children
Jessie's heart almost jumped out when she thought of her's family looking at her. She almost subconsciously wanted to pull her hand out.

However, Alex held her hand even tighter.

Alex's fingers were slender and his joints were clear. The sleeves of the sweater touched her wrist bone.

She was so anxious that her face turned red, and she pulled harder.

He suddenly took a step forward and drew close to the distance between the two of them. Jessie was so scared that she kept stepping back. Alex suddenly let go of his hand. Jessie could not hold back and fell backwards.

When she thought she was about to fall to the ground, he made a move. He held her wrist firmly again and pulled her back.

Jessie stared at him with wide eyes. She simply could not guess what Alex was thinking in his heart.

Alex's eyes were as dark as an ancient well, deep and bottomless.

When Jessie saw that she was about to slam into Alex's chest, a sound came from the car.

"Fia, where are you going?" Felix suddenly shouted, attracting everyone's attention.

Jessie also turned her head and saw a small blue figure flying towards the alley like a little bird.

"Fia!" She pushed Alex away and chased after him.

"How did you take care of Fia?" Alex gave Felix a cold stare and also turned around to chase after her.

Felix felt wronged, but he was not familiar with this place and it was already night time. He was also worried that Fia, that reckless girl, would be in danger, so he also followed closely with his short legs.

Jouvita was originally suspicious because of the subtle movements between Alex and Jessie just now.

At this time, seeing the child run away, she did not bother to think too much and supported the other two elders to chase after the child.

Alex's legs were long. After turning two corners, he first saw Fia.

"Fia, when are you going?"

Fia turned around and saw that it was her father. She ran even faster.

In front of them was a small alley that no one had stepped into for a long time. The limestone floor was covered with aged moss.

When Jessie chased from the other side, she heard Fia screaming and then there were no more footsteps.

She was shocked and quickly ran over.

Fia's small body softly laid on the mottled wall. Her small face was pale and blood was slowly flowing out from her arm.

At that moment, she was shocked.

Alex was faster than her. He calmly picked Fia up from the ground.

Jessie also rushed over.

Jessie saw that Fia's right sleeve was cut by a sharp stone edge and there was a long wound that was bleeding

That blood made Jessie's heart stop beating. Jessie could not help but cover her mouth and tears flowed out.

"Where is the nearest hospital?" Alex's usually calm voice also had a slight tremble.

Jessie only woke up from her daze now. "Quick, I'll bring you there!"

As she ran forward quickly, she held her tears and comforted Fia who was constantly trembling. "Fia, don't be afraid. We will go to the hospital now!"

Jessie comforted Fia while her's own tears uncontrollably flowed out uncontrollably.

Jessie really wished that the deep wound was on her body and hated herself even more. If she did not go home, the children would not have followed her here and Fia would not have suffered such a serious injury.

Fia, who wanted to stay and cry out was very quiet at this moment. Her body was trembling because of the pain and her small mouth was pale. She bit her lips hard and did not cry out in pain. She even forcefully nodded at Jessie weakly to show that she was not afraid.

Felix and the three elders of Jessie Family were also shocked when they saw Alex, whose hands were covered in blood, coming out of the small alley with someone in his arms.

They rushed to the hospital as fast as they could and entered the emergency room.

The emergency room did not allow too many people to stay inside. Jessie had to stay inside. Alex did not agree and asked the nurse to push her out.

Alex was worried that she would not be able to take it. Jessie almost collapsed when she saw Fia was injured. If he let her stay inside to see the doctor treat the wound, she might faint inside.

Jessie did not know why, but when she saw Fia fall and bleed, she was extremely frightened. Even when she almost died when she was young, she had never been so afraid.

Outside the emergency room, she still could not suppress the fear in her heart and her entire body was filled with coldness.

When Felix and the others came over, Jessie immediately hugged him tightly, as if this was the only way to slightly ease the endless panic in her heart.

The door opened and a nurse ran out quickly. "How is it? How is Fia?" Jessie was the first to rush forward.

"This small patient has lost too much blood and needs blood transfusion. Now, we need to go to the hospital to gather the blood immediately." The nurse was worried and anxious.

"Take mine!" Jessie almost did not think about it and immediately said.

Jessie's mother and her grandparents also walked over. "We can also give Fia a blood transfusion. Nurse, think about it. How much blood do you need?"

The nurse interrupted them. "We can't just take it casually. Fia has AB negative blood type. The blood type is special. It doesn't even fit her father's blood type."

"I have AB negative blood type!" Jessie almost roared out.

"Really? Then quickly follow me!"

Jessie followed into the emergency room and saw Fia's face turn even paler. Tears fell down her throat once again.

Alex's handsome face became colder and he sternly shouted at the nurse. "Didn't I say that we can't let her in?"

"I will give Fia a blood transfusion." Jessie's voice was very hoarse.

"Your blood type matches?" Alex frowned.

"Yes, match." Jessie had never felt so fortunate that she had a special blood type since she was young. It was the same as Fia's blood type. That was great!

She rolled up her sleeves and urged the nurses to quickly draw blood.

The blood was drawn out from her slender arm.

Alex stared at her with a deep gaze. In an instant, countless things that made people unable to see clearly appeared in the depths of his dark eyes.

Knowing that Fia had finally escaped danger, Jessie also seemed to have come back to life from the brink of death. Her mind and body relaxed and her vision turned black. She softly fainted.

Before she completely fainted, she felt Alex's strong arm firmly hugging her.

Deep in the night(This novel will be daily updated at)

Jessie was still sleeping.

Alex asked the elders to go back and he stays here to take care of Jessie, Fia, and Felix.

Jessie's mother, Jouvita had also suffered a lot of shock today and her grandfather and grandmother were worried that there would be an accident, so they followed Alex's orders and went back first.

Fia was lying in the ward at the side. Originally she wanted to wait for Jessie to wake up and tell her. When Fia recovered, she would not feel much pain anymore. However, Fia did not wait for Jessie to wake up before she fell asleep.

Felix had been waiting by the bedside, waiting for Jessie to wake up. At the same time, he took care of the sleeping Fia and did not let Fia accidentally press down on her injured arm

Alex sent the three elders out of the hospital and returned to the ward.

He saw that Felix was so sleepy that he sat on the chair with his little head hanging up. He patted the little fellow on the shoulder and said, "Go to sleep."

Felix forced himself to open his eyes. "I will wait for Aunt Jeje to wake up before sleeping."

"When Aunt Jeje wakes up, I will wake you up."

"I don't believe it."

Alex's face darkened. "Go to sleep!"

Felix curled his lips and obediently climbed onto the other empty bed. He originally wanted to stubbornly not fall asleep, but it did not take long for his eyelids to become heavy and he fell asleep not long after.

Alex sat beside Jessie's bed and stared deeply at her. After a long time, he lifted his hand and pushed away the few strands of hair on her face. He carefully sized up her fair little face and then turned his eyes to Fia beside him and Felix who was also on the other bed.

The two children's exquisite facial features and the contours between their eyebrows were exactly the same as Jessie.

After a long time, he got up and left the ward. He found the emergency doctor and asked him to use the blood samples left by Jessie and Fia to make a DNA test report.

Jessie woke up at midnight and immediately went to look at Fia.

She only relaxed when she heard the little girl's fine and breathing. She sat by the bedside and kept looking at the little girl's pretty face. She could not bear to avert her eyes.

Alex came back and opened the door. He saw her staring at Fia in a daze. His eyes could not help but deepen.

He pushed open the door and walked in. "She's fine. You go and rest."

Jessie did not move and continued to quietly look at Fia's face.

Fia turned over in her sleep. Jessie had already stood up at the same time that she was about to flip over. She reached out her hand and carefully helped Fia block the injured arm, not letting it press down on her own arm.

It was only when Fia slept quietly again that Jessie sat back on the chair again.

Just as she sat down, her body suddenly fell into Alex's wide embrace.

Alex carried her up and put her back on the bed. He used one leg to hold her and his strong body was only a few centimeters away from her. He said in a low voice, "Rest well, listen to m

E

"Fia will accidentally press her wound. I need to take care of her!" Jessie said and wanted to get up from him.

Alex pressed down on her a little bit more so that she could not move. His thick eyebrows were tightly knitted. "I will protect her!"

Only then did Jessie stop struggling and did not move.

With such close contact, the madness of that night naturally flashed in Alex's mind. Instantly, his throat felt a little dry. He originally wanted to let go of her hands and legs, but he was reluctant to move them again.

Jessie saw that he still did not move and looked at him with annoyance.

Seeing Jessie's anger, Alex's chest ignited again and he did not care whether she was willing or not. He just ignored her at this moment and suddenly, he did not care whether she was willing or not. He lowered his head and was about to kiss her lips.

Jessie saw his handsome face approaching and the scene of him and Miranda getting engaged suddenly flashed in her mind. She instinctively turned her face away.

Alex saw that she turned her head and did not continue to kiss. The flames in his black eyes burned more and more violently.

He forcefully grabbed her jaw with one hand and used some force to force her to turn back to face him and kiss again.

Jessie wanted to continue dodging Alex's kiss, but she did not succeed.

This kiss did not have any heat at all, only pain. (This novel will be daily updated at)

She felt that her lips had been torn by his bite, and the pain was heart-piercing.

Her eyes became moist, and her throat also felt a little aggrieved as she sobbed softly.

Alex let go of her and panted heavily. His eyes were fierce. "You are ungrateful and still want to be cool! Swallow your tears back!"

Jessie felt wronged when he yelled at her. Her tears flowed out instead. "I didn't!"

"You didn't? After you had sex with me, you wanted to take my children away. Isn't this ungrateful?"

"I didn't."

Alex did not wait for her to continue. "Why did you let Mike carry you when you were at the hospital in the city center?"

Jessie could tell that Alex was asking about the matter of Mike forcefully hugging her that day. She could not help but think about the engagement between Alex Miranda in Hill Hotel. She bit her lips and did not say anything.

"Speak!" His tone was even harsher.

Jessie's heart became stubborn and she coldly spoke. "My matter, I don't need you to care."

"If you don't want me to interfere in your matters, then who else do you want me to meddle in?"

The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika

Chapter 55

/ The Baby's Mother Need Love by hika

1. If You Have Anything to Say Just Tell Me

Jessie turned around.

"Since you are still thinking about him, he gave you that kind of food. You should let him give it to you! Why did you come to find me?"

"Yes! I regret it! I shouldn't have gone to find you!" Jessie's face was red with anger as she stared at him with red eyes.

Jessie regretted it when she saw Alex's angry expression. But she had already said what she wanted to say

In the blink of an eye, her tears rolled out again, and her tone became sorrowful. "You are already engaged to Miranda. I should not have gone to find you. I already know that I was wrong. I also regret it now. I am very sorry. Don't be like this anymore, okay?"

Alex's angry expression became gentle. He smiled. It seemed that he was not wrong about that day in Hill Hotel. "I did not know that I was engaged. How did you know?"

This sentence made Jessie freeze.

Then she slowly understood and looked at him in disbelief. (This novel will be daily updated at)

Her eyes widened slightly and her tearful black pupils became brighter and more beautiful.

U

Alex used his big palm to cover half of her face. His voice was so low that it did not sound like him at all. "Little fool! If you have anything to say, just tell me. What are you doing now? And you're saying that my cousin's wife is my fiancée? Hmm?"

Wife of the cousin?

It turned out that the one she saw in Hill Hotel that day, Miranda was betrothed to his cousin...

Jessie's heart immediately became extremely awkward and her face instantly became hot.

Just as she was at a loss what to do, the man's kiss landed on her slightly opened lips and Jessie's body stiffened.

She immediately thought of the two children and pushed him even harder.

Alex did not force it and only kissed for a while before letting go of her. He flipped over to get off the bed and lowered his head to kiss her forehead, "Go to sleep, I will guard Fia."

just now. She turned around and faced the window.

After a long time, there was no sound behind her.

She could not help but turn her head.

Alex sat on the long sofa with his windbreaker on the back of the sofa. He was only wearing a thin sweater and his sleeves were half rolled up. The notebook was placed on the coffee table. He was too tall and his body was slightly leaning. He was focusing on the computer screen. His thin lips were tightly pursed, as if he was in the office.

He had always been busy. Jessie actually knew this. That was why she suggested that she would help him send the children back to R City, but he still came.

She couldn't say it clearly, but when she saw him there, she felt inexplicably warm in her heart...

The next day, Jessie woke up very early.

When she got up and was about to look at Fia who was on the bed next to her, her eyes swept over Alex who was sleeping on the sofa.

The man's right arm was pressed against his eyes. His legs were too long and half of them were extended outside the sofa. (This novel will be daily updated at)The laptop screen on the coffee table was dark, but the switch was still on and the light was still on. His fierce face softened a lot.

Even though he was sleeping like this, his aura of not allowing strangers to approach him still made people feel that he was unreachable.

Cove

Jessie helped Fia and Felix cover up the messy blanket and turned to look at the man on the sofa for a while.

She turned around and picked up the blanket on her bed and walked in front of him. At such a close distance, the man's face became clearer and his beautiful eyebrows slightly wrinkled. She found that the two children were very good-looking. It was not unreasonable. After all, they had such an outstanding looking father.

She bent down and gently covered his body with the blanket. She even carefully wrapped it up before withdrawing her hand.

Her wrist was suddenly grabbed by the man.

She was stunned and looked at him in shock.

The man's dark and deep eyes had unknowingly opened, and he was staring at her without moving.

Her ears felt hot as she pulled out her hand. Her voice was somewhat panicked: "That bed is empty, go and sleep for a while..."

Speaking up to this point, she remembered that she had slept on that bed before. Now, she wanted him to sleep on it. Instantly, her face became even redder and she could not continue.

Alex extended his long arm, wrapped it around her soft waist, and pulled her back into his embrace.

He used a lot of strength, so Jessie could not stand stably. She sat on his legs.

"Don't be like this..." Her face flushed red. She wanted to stand up from his legs.

"Didn't you want to invite me to your bed? Why didn't you invite me again?(This novel will be daily updaed at)" Alex placed his chin on her neck and absorbed the unique fragrance of a woman's body.

Jessie was even more embarrassed, "That's the hospital bed!"

As she forcefully broke the man's hand, she nervously stared at the two children on the bed.

The woman sitting in his arms was very stiff, and Alex did not make things difficult for her again.

Just as he slightly let go, Jessie immediately left.

Alex looked at the blanket on his body and felt exceptionally happy.

Jessie returned home and her mother was not at home. She should have gone to her maternal grandparents' house.

After she washed up, she changed into a set of clothes and put the toiletries she bought for the two children yesterday into a bag. She bought breakfast on the way and sent it to the hospital.

The ward was very lively. Jessie's mother, her grandfather and grandmother were all there.

Jouvita personally made a lot of breakfast and sent it over.

Grandma was helping Fia carefully put on her coat.

Felix and grandfather set up breakfast on the table together.

They did not see Alex.

She thought that he might have gone to find a doctor. Jessie did not ask either. Seeing the smile on Fia's face, her heart that had been on tenterhooks for the entire night also became better. She took Fia's hand and helped her put on her clothes. She directly carried the little girl and went to help her wash up.

She called Felix in again and handed him a new child toothbrush, a cup, and a new towel.

Felix brushed his teeth and washed his face by himself.

Jessie placed Fia on a small stool by the side and gently brushed her teeth and washed her face. She then carried her out and put her on the sofa to comb her braids.

In the past, she had never done these things for children. She did not think that it would be so easy for her to do it for the first time.

She tied two neat braids for Fia and hung them by her ears. She then combed her perfect combed bangs in front again.

The little girl was beautiful. After dressing like this, she looked even more beautiful.

Jessie could not help but hug her and heavily kissed her tender little face.

Fia also kissed her on the face.

Felix who was at the side pursed his lips and muttered, "You guys are really childish."

Jessie laughed and pulled him over. She also kissed his pretty face.

The little guy's fair and tender face turned red. He forced himself to calm down, "Prepare to eat breakfast!"

Fia used one of her hands to hug Jessie's neck and smiled, "I really want to always be this sick in the future."

Jessie quickly covered her mouth, "Little fool, who is looking forward to getting hurt?"

It was rare for her to be serious and exhorted, "In the future, you are not allowed to run away by yourself like yesterday. If you get hurt again, I will get angry. Did you hear that?"

Fia was in her arms, "I don't want to get hurt either. It is very painful, but only when I get hurt will you treat me so well. You will not chase me away and will always stay with me..."

The little girl's words made Jessie's heart ache. She blamed her words. She could not speak anymore.

Seeing the intimacy between the two, the three old men who were watching by the side could not help but have their own thoughts. All kinds of worries and doubts...

After Alex got the report, he had mixed feelings. He had vaguely guessed it yesterday, but when he saw the result, he was still shocked.

He had been kept in the dark for more than five years. This kind of lie was the thing that he hated the most in his life.

However, when he found out that the children's birth mother was Jessie, he was more excited and happy when he got this kind of result.

He was an idealist. But at this moment, he was actually willing to treat this as an arrangement from the heavens. And it was the best arrangement.

It was precisely because Gina's pregnancy back then was too absurd that when Gina went for the pregnancy test, he ordered the hospital people to secretly perform amniotic fluid DNA test. (This novel will be daily updated at) Felix and Fia were his biological children.

But back then, the child was indeed born from Gina's abdomen.

But the biological mother was not Gina, so there was only one possibility left. The egg was not Gina's.

He dialed Rick's number. "You go and find Bernard's address."

"Bernard? The doctor who was in charge of madam's pregnancy test?"

"Yes."

"Okay," he said.

"Don't tell her when you find out. Give me the address."

"I might need some time."

When Gina was waiting for delivery, Doctor Bernard was in charge of all the prenatal examination matters, but Gina did not let him take care of the delivery. Gina was having a difficult labor on the operating table. Alex sent someone to find Doctor Bernard, but he was told that he went overseas. No one knew where exactly he went.

Now that he thought about it, Doctor Bernard suddenly disappeared from R City. It was also because there was a reason...

"You must find him! Also, check Jessie's information six years ago and see if she donated eggs."

“Boss, you suddenly check this. Could it be related to Young Master Felix and Young Miss Fia’s background?” Rick was surprised and doubtful, but what about Jessie? Donating eggs? It was at a sensitive time like six years ago. Could it be...

Alex did not respond to him. He hung up the phone.

Jessie’s mother and her grandparents came to see the child, so she went back first and prepared lunch before sending it to them.

The nurse came to deliver medicine to Fia.

Fia did not like to take medicine since she was young and in front of Jessie, she wanted to perform well. She forced herself to open her mouth and put the medicine into her mouth.

She tried very hard to swallow the medicine into her throat, but her throat could not swallow the medicine.

She hated her own throat. It was really disappointing.

The nurse kept persuading her and even fed her a few mouthfuls of saliva. They did not even feed her the medicine.

Jessie saw it and felt her heart ache, “Fia, you can’t swallow it?”

Fia nodded her head and embarrassingly lowered her head.

It was rare for Felix to kindly help her speak. “She has always been very resistant to the medicine and cannot swallow it. Sister nurse, can you change it into liquid form?”

“This type of medicine is very small. Normally, even a child as old as her can eat it. So for the time being, we don’t have any liquid type medicinal pellets.” The nurse explained in a difficult manner.

When Jessie heard this, how could she bear to see the little girl continue to swallow in pain. She did not think about it and quickly stretched out her hand to Fia, “Come, Fia. If you can’t eat it, don’t eat it first. You spit it out.”

Her tone was gentle. The medicine in Fia’s mouth had already dissolved a little. She had long felt so bitter that she wanted to vomit.

When Jessie was gentle, the little girl did not hesitate to spit it out.

Alex came in and just happened to see his brows sink, “Fia, who taught you to spit things into people’s hands? You didn’t know how to throw things into the trash can?”

