Chapter 85

1. The Man's Black and Shiny Leather Shoes Gradually Entered Her Eyes
Grandpa Rudolf coldly harrumphed at his son and didn't respond to him. He walked into the kitchen with a straight face.

Grandma Restall comforted Jessie, "Don't take old master's words to heart. On top of that, he is just a paper tiger. He only has a fierce mouth. Don't be afraid."

Only then did Jessie withdraw her gaze from Alex and forced a smile.

Although she had always refused to see his family, now that she saw him really pretend to not know her, She didn't know why, but her heart seemed to be slightly pinched by something.

"Oh right, I haven't asked you. What's your name?" Grandma Restall held Jessie's hand with a kind expression.

"Didn't you already know?" When Alex's low and magnetic voice sounded, Jessie's heart tightened.

Grandma Restall blinked her eyes. "I don't know. She hasn't even told me. Right, little girl, you haven't told me, right? I don't have dementia, right?"

Alex looked at Jessie's anxious look and felt angry in his heart. His thin lips were pursed into a straight line.

Jessie stared at him for a long time and saw that he finally did not have the intention to expose her. She turned to look at Grandma Restall and took the initiative to admit it, "Sorry, you did not ask and it is also my fault that I did not introduce myself. My name is Jessie."

"Jess..." Grandma Restall was stunned for a moment and then laughed, "Very good, very good. This name of yours is very nice and easy to remember."

Grandpa Rudolf sent another maid to call them out for dinner.

Jessie was dragged along by Grandma Restall and also followed into the kitchen.

Mike and Fifi were both stunned when they saw her.

"Why did she come to eat with us?" Fifi muttered discontentedly.

Mike looked at Grandma Restall's intimacy with Jessie and her clear attitude of wanting Alex and Jessie to be together. Layers of haze rose in his heart, but in this kind of occasion, he did not dare to make any noise.

Fifi said in a low voice and he only lightly pulled her.

Fifi shook his hand away and snorted as she crossed her arms and looked coldly at Jessie.

Grandpa Rudolf's heavy gaze swept over Jessie before landing on his wife, "Have a meal and you are still dragging it out!"

"Don't talk so much!" Grandma Restall rebuked him and pressed Jessie to the seat beside Alex. She used her eyes to signal for her son to take care of her.

Alex did not see her signal at all. He just took a plate and chopsticks for himself and poured himself a cup of wine.

Jessie was very uncomfortable. She was not willing to look at Mike opposite her and was also not used to sitting next to Laurent family. Her body was stiff as she sat on the chair.

No matter how innocent Fifi was, she could finally tell that her grandmother was helping her uncle to have a blind date with this strange woman.

Her small face wrinkled and she could not help but raise her voice, "Grandma, why did you let this woman sit with uncle? Didn't you see that uncle doesn't like her?"

Mike was afraid that she would offend someone. In the future, it would be difficult for her to even enter the Laurent family, so how could she get closer to them? He hurriedly picked up a piece of fish meat and placed it in her bowl. "Fifi, this is your favorite osmanthus fish. Quickly try it."

Grandma Restall only treated Fifi as a child and did not take her words seriously. She only saw that her son was as stubborn as when he was on a blind date. She was so angry that her stomach hurt. When she passed by his back, she directly kicked his straight leg bone and gritted her teeth as she whispered. "You don't understand when you take care of a lady? If you really don't know how, learn from Fifi's boyfriend!"

On the other side, Mike was wholeheartedly serving Fifi to eat. He prepared dishes and chopsticks for her and poured some drinks for her to pick fish bones. He did it personally as if he was taking care of his own daughter.

On the opposite side, Mike's hand movements stopped slightly and pretended to be joking. He smiled and said: "I am very ashamed that you praised me. Actually, can I say that I was forced?"

He originally wanted to ease the atmosphere on the table and also pull away some of the attention of those who admired him towards Jessie. He did not think that it would be of little use.

Fifi raised her hand to pinch his arm and laughed coyly, "Did I force you? Why don't you try saying one more sentence?"

Seeing the two of them flirting, Grandma Restall hated her son even more that he was not good enough. She simply sat on the other side and took the cup in front of Jessie. She forcefully stuffed it in front of Alex and forced him to pour Jessie a drink.

Jessie wanted to get up and pour herself a drink.

Alex had already picked up the coconut juice that Grandma Restall handed over and unscrewed the lid. He picked up the cup and filled it up and passed it to Jessie.

Jessie looked up and saw the man's indifferent and cold eyes. Her heart palpitated and she stretched out her hand and was about to express her thanks.

When her finger was a few centimeters away from the cup, the man's thin lips curled and he suddenly let go.

A cup of drink created milky white water by Jessie's feet, splashing her naked high heels and lake blue skirt.

Jessie subconsciously took a few steps back, but accidentally stepped on the broken glass.

The sharp glass broke through the bottom of the thin leather shoes and also pierced into the soles of her feet. A sharp pain came and she could not help but frown.

Grandma Restall slapped her son's broad shoulders and said in a tone that was exasperated at her failure to live up to expectations. "You! Serves you right to be single for the rest of your life!"

Everyone on the table saw clearly that Alex deliberately let go of his hand before he handed the drink to Jessie.

Grandma Restall only thought that he was not willing to go on a blind date, so she purposely did this to the girl.

But he was already so old, yet he still did things like how he cheated and fooled others when he was young, and even in front of so many people. He wasn't afraid that others would laugh at him for being childish!

"What are you still standing there for? Didn't you see Miss Jessie get hurt? Hurry up and call the doctor!" Grandma Restall saw that Nanny Lisa, Zika and the rest were all stunned and could not help but raise her voice.

"It is not a big deal for me. There is no need to trouble on me." Jessie bowed to Grandpa Rudolf who was sitting at the main seat, "Sorry old sir, I will go back first."

"Jessie..." Grandma Restall still wanted to keep her, but Jessie had already walked out quickly.

Seeing that her skirt and leather shoes were stuck with drinks, Grandma Restall wanted to keep her and did not have the face anymore. She quickly got up and went to the room to get the sweater jacket that Jessie borrowed from her previously. She called Driver Bart and asked him to chase after her and return the clothes to Jessie before sending her back.

Grandpa Rudolf, under the table, swept his leg towards Alex. "Look at what you have done!"

Alex dodged nimbly. His expression was not much better than his parents'. He kicked the chair away and turned around to walk out.

"Where are you going?" Grandpa Rudolf roared angrily.

"The company!"

Grandpa Rudolf smashed his rice bowl against the wall and landed heavily on the ground.

The kitchen fell silent.

A few seconds later, Fifi threw her chopsticks on the table and complained. "It's all that annoying woman's fault. We were being polite and she really stayed. Did she think that by doing this, my uncle would be able to treat her well? She doesn't know what she has either. She's so disgusting!"

"Shut up and eat your food!" Grandpa Rudolf rarely got angry with this granddaughter of his. He could not bear listening to her anymore.

Mike saw that Grandpa Rudolf was angry, so he smiled and said, "Elder Rudolf, Boss Alex must have made a mistake. Don't be angry. Be careful not to hurt yourself."

Grandpa Rudolf did not seem to hear what he said. He threw away his chopsticks with a sullen face, pushed away the chair, and walked away with his hands behind his back.

In an instant, only Mike and Fifi were left in the kitchen. Mike held the chopsticks and turned to look at Fifi. "Do you still want to eat?"

Fifi had just been scolded by Grandpa Rudolf and was filled with resentment. When he spoke, it was just right for her to vent her anger. She directly picked up a plate of fish meat that he had stabbed and threw it at him. She swung it at him.

"What else do I want to eat? Do you think I am the reincarnation of a hungry ghost?"

A trace of coldness flashed through Mike's eyes. He quickly suppressed it and used a tissue to wipe his face and the fish on his body. He even comforted her. "Alright, alright. If you don't want to eat, then don't eat. If you lose your temper, you will get wrinkles. Let's not be angry, alright?"

"So annoying!"

"After that, you won't get angry anymore." Mike used his usual tricks and stuck his lips on hers.

Fifi was still angry and stared at him with slanted eyes. "Is this enough? You are also annoyed that you starting to be perfunctory with me now, right?"

Mike controlled his temper and continued to coax. "How could I hate you? It's too late for me to like you. How could I hate you? There are a lot of people here, let's go back to our room first."

Fifi willfully went up and reached out two hands to hook his neck. "I want you to kiss me here! And with the tongue!"

Before she finished speaking, Mike suddenly sealed her lips. He had long been impatient in his heart, so he decided to use kissing to vent his anger.

He never thought that this kind of abusing method would actually make Fifi like it even more.

He simply plucked up his courage and used the corner of his eye to stare at the kitchen's entrance. As he continued to kiss, he even reached out his hand to her casual pants and skillfully touched her.

Driver Bart carried the clothes Grandma Restall gave him and quickly walked out of the courtyard.

Just as he was about to get on the car, Alex's Bentley rushed over from the side and stopped a ta place next to Audi. The window rolled down and Alex said in a deep voice, "Give me the clothes!"

Driver Bart was stunned for a moment and quickly reacted. He attentively handed the clothes to him.

Alex threw the clothes back onto the passenger seat and the car sped away.

Driver Bart returned to the courtyard and Grandma Restall saw him. "You did not go to see Miss Jessie?"

"Sir went to see her off." Driver Bart smiled.

"My son went to see her off?" Grandma Restall was shocked.

"Yes."

Only then did Grandma Restall slightly ease the anger in her heart, "Stinking brat, at least he has some conscience!"

Jessie walked for a while and the place where her feet were pierced became more and more painful. She turned her head to look and saw that it was already some distance away from the house. She leaned against the courtyard wall that was filled with long vines and squatted down, taking off the leather shoes and socks on her left foot.

A lot of blood flowed out from the side of her toes. She took a tissue from her bag and wiped it off bit by bit. She then rummaged through the bandage in her bag.

She searched for a long time but still couldn't find the band-aid. She stubbornly continued to search inside.

The more she searched, the more vexed she became.

Her current injury and everything that had happened to the Tianji Residence caused her resentment towards Alex to deepen.

She finally managed to calm herself down. She brushed her skirt and sat down on the grass, putting on her socks.

A black car stopped by the road in front of her. The man's black and shiny leather shoes gradually entered her eyes.

The black leather shoes had a straight pair of pants on them.

From the familiar scent of perfume and tobacco on his body, she didn't need to look up to know who it was.

Chapter 86

1. Don't Say Such Stubbom Words to Me in the Future

He just embarrassed her in front of his family, and he hurt her. The anger in her chest towards him had increased a little. She didn't even look at him, and instead sped up the pace of wearing socks and shoes.

For some reason, her vision became blurrier. She wore them several times but was unable to put them on properly. Gritting her teeth, she wore those socks again and again.

Alex looked down from above and frowned. He bent down on one knee and helped her put on the socks.

"Give it back to me!" Jessie was annoyed and did not want to bother with him. She did not let him put on socks for her and reached out to grab it.

Alex could not help her. He pursed his thin lips and lowered his eyes to put the little socks on her tender white feet. He had never helped a woman do this kind of thing before, so his movements were very clumsy.

Jessie snatched once but did not manage to snatch it. She pounced on him again.

Alex was squatting and was hit by her. He staggered a few steps and used one of his hands to support himself on the ground in time. Only then did he not fall onto the ground.

He had never been treated like this before. When had he ever been in such a sorry state? He lost his patience and pushed her against the wall.

The long vines behind her were all deformed from the pressure.

He continued to hold onto her socks with one hand, and with the other, he wrapped his arm around her waist. "Push! Continue pushing and I'll try!"

The man was like a mountain. She couldn't push him. His shoulder would touch her lips from time to time.

She opened her mouth and was about to bite his shoulder.

Alex immediately expected her to be like this. His shoulder immediately retreated a few steps. He even used his hand that was holding the socks to hold her chin. He raised his other hand and specially placed it in front of her. "Did you see that? The wound that you bit last time has not healed yet!"

Jessie was extremely angry and could not get close to him again. "Then you deserve it. It's too detestable!"

Last time, she had been in pain for a few days, but he did not apologize. Today, he did not help her. Not only did he embarrass her in the kitchen, he also injured her feet.

The more she thought about it, the angrier she got. The more she thought about it, the more wronged she felt. Her watery eyes were instantly drenched by the tears that couldn't help but flow out.

Alex met her watery eyes. The dissatisfaction and impatience in his heart gradually calmed down. He released the large hand that wrapped around her waist.

The moment he let go, she immediately pushed him and bit him.

“Enough!”

“I hate you! I hate you so much!” Jessie herself did not know that she was acting spoiled.

“Your relationship with him is tangled up. You still have the face to hate me?” Alex snorted in dissatisfaction. He threw the socks on her body, turned around, and was about to get into the car.

Jessie was stunned and immediately remembered his eyes that were as cold as a glacier just now.

Alex walked to the side of the car and opened the car door of the driver’s seat. He paused for a moment and could not help but turn around.

Jessie was still sitting on the grass with her head down and was not wearing any socks. One of her feet, which was still red just now, was blown white by the wind. No one knew what she was thinking about.

He flung the car door open with a bang, turned around, and walked back with big strides.

Jessie looked up.

She looked at her big red eyes that were filled with tears. The last bit of anger in Alex’s heart had also completely disappeared. He bent down and picked her up horizontally and strode towards the car.

At this moment, Jessie was no longer as stubborn as before, but she still did not want to see him. Her two hands rested on his shoulders, but her face turned to the other side and did not look at him.

Just as he put her on the passenger seat, Alex bent over and kissed her lips.

At first, Jessie rejected him, but he was very gentle. He caressed the back of her neck and she quickly surrendered to his rare gentleness.

After the passionate kiss, Alex also became very gentle. He took her feet and gently touched the wound on her toes with his thumb that was covered in a thin cocoon. He frowned and said, “Go to the hospital and bandage it!”

Jessie looked at his long and beautiful fingers and slowly raised her eyes to stare at him." Alex, if I am with you, can you stop loving other women and cheating on other women? Can you promise that I will be the only one from the beginning to the end?"

When she asked this, Alex was slightly stunned.

In the past, Gina had also asked similar questions. He could no longer remember how he had answered back then. The only thing he remembered was that he had very quickly answered back then, although it did not seem to make Gina very satisfied.

But at this moment when he was asked by Jessie, he was speechless.

He admitted that he liked her and tolerated her. After being provoked by her again and again, even he felt that he would never forgive her. But in the end, he still took a step back. However, he didn't seem to like her to the point of going crazy.

He could understand why Jessie asked such a question. She was hurt by the previous marriage and it was normal for her to have such a request. However, no one could predict what kind of changes would happen in the future.

Because of this, at this moment, he was unable to make promises like those men in the books.

Jessie actually also expected him to have such a reaction. For a man like him, this kind of promise was indeed too harsh.

She pushed his hand away and the smile that she forced out was somewhat cold. Her tone was light and casual. "I just received a small injury. It doesn't matter. Go and do your work. I will take a taxi and leave by myself."

She picked up her socks and shoes, put the bag on her shoulder, and went to open the car door to get out of the car.

He pulled her back again. Half of his body leaned over and pressed her into the seat. He used his teeth to bite her lips.

"Go away." At this moment, Jessie's heart was completely cold. How could he still have the mood to kiss him? The strength of her struggle was comparable to fighting with her life on the line.

Alex's dark eyes were very close to her. The raging flames inside seemed to want to devour her, including both her and her bones.

Jessie did not care about the pain on her lips as she tried her best to resist.

She did not expect that her resistance was also treated as an indirect invitation by him.

Alex was distracted by her and all his thoughts immediately dispersed.

Jessie's mouth had just gotten empty when she turned around and bit his shoulder.

Alex was bitten by her and frowned, but he did not push her away. He looked down at her.

At this moment, Jessie clearly wanted to bite off his flesh. She did not look like she was flirting with him.

When she asked this, Alex was slightly stunned.

In the past, Gina had also asked similar questions. He could no longer remember how he had answered back then. The only thing he remembered was that he had very quickly answered back then, although it did not seem to make Gina very satisfied.

Jessie's mouth had just gotten empty when she turned around and bit his shoulder. Alex was bitten by her and frowned, but he did not push her away. He looked down at her. At this moment, Jessie clearly wanted to bite off his flesh. She did not look like she was flirting with him.

Jessie bit down on his flesh and tears fell down from her eyes. Even after suffering so much in Laurent family, she did not feel as uncomfortable as now.

Alex was so angry that he laughed. "You almost bit off my shoulder and you still feel wronged?"

Jessie cried so hard that she did not have the strength to bite him. She let go of her teeth and choked. Even she could not stop herself.

She cried and bit again. Her brain started to hurt.

Alex's heart was in pain and frustration. He organized his words for a long time. When the words to comfort her were about to come out of his mouth, it became a stiff threat. "If you keep crying, I will really bully you!"

Jessie choked so hard that she could not even breathe. "You don't need to say that I also know what kind of person you are! Haven't you bullied me too many times? I am regretting it so much. Why is my child related to someone like you?"

Alex's face, which had finally calmed down, turned cold again. "Why don't you try to say one more time that you regret it?"

Jessie did not dare to say it again, but she was still very unconvinced in her heart.

If it was not because her child was also his, how could she be bullied by this vile man again and again until she could not fight back?

Seeing that she did not retort, he was very satisfied with her attitude. He pulled over a tissue with one hand to wipe her face and touched her head with the other. "Don't give me such stubborn words in the future. It hurts our relationship!"

Jessie laughed in her heart. When did he understand feelings?

His hands were very heavy. She felt that her face was about to be rubbed off. She snatched the tissue, waved his hand away, and wiped her tears.

Alex got up and went to the driver's seat to start the car.

Seeing him turn around with one hand holding the steering wheel and the other hand holding the back of the chair to turn around, Jessie nervously asked, "You want to go back?"

Alex narrowed his eyes and looked at the road behind him and turned around. "I will take you to see my parents."

Jessie's heart trembled. Almost instinctively, she reached out to pull his suit sleeve and shook her head. "I'm not going."

Alex looked at her slender fingers that were holding onto the sleeve of his suit. His voice suddenly softened a few degrees. "You don't need to say anything. I'll say it."

"Forget it."

In fact, if Alex took the initiative to announce their relationship in front of his family, it would be equivalent to giving Mike a hard slap in the face. But she did not think that this was a good time to announce their relationship.

She did not dare to tell him. She was still a little uncertain.

"Didn't you want my promise?" Alex was impatient and stopped the car.

Jessie looked straight at him. "Then are you willing to give it to me?"

All of a sudden, the conversation returned to the deadlock from before.

Alex's phone rang.

The phone rang persistently in the silent car.

He picked up the phone impatiently and said in a very fierce tone, "Speak!"

His temper was even worse: "You're looking for me for everything, and do you want to be a decoration? If you can't settle such a small matter, then get the hell out of here!" The car stopped. Jessie wanted to open the car door and get out, but he grabbed her waist.

1. 8 I Think You Want Me to Die in a Car Accident Soon

Alex hung up the phone and pulled his seatbelt to trap Jessie in her seat.

"Let me go!" Jessie used all her strength to fight him.

Alex almost could not hold her. He exerted his strength and the seatbelt he pulled over bounced back. It hit her leg and made her scream in pain.

He locked her between himself and the seat, and said in a hoarse voice, "Continue running. I want to see if you can run out!"

Jessie did not speak. She pursed her red lips and lowered her head.

"I think you are too arrogant. You need me to discipline you!" His tone was heavy and his expression was fierce.

Jessie's eyes reddened again. She sniffed and there was a sobbing tone in her voice. "You have to bully me like this to make you happy?"

Alex stared at her crying eyes, her small nose, and her apple like cheeks. His handsome face became darker and darker like the black sky. He pursed his thin lips and wanted to scold her again, but he still kept his voice.

After a while, he kept silent and continued to fasten her seatbelt. He started the car and drove away from old residence.

The car arrived at Tianji Residence.

"Wait for me here after you pick up the children in the afternoon. I'll come back to pick you up for lunch after I'm done with the company's business." Alex parked the car and turned to Jessie, whose face was still red and swollen, who was sitting in the passenger seat.

Jessie did not make a sound. She unbuckled her seatbelt and went to push the car door and get out of the car.

He grabbed her wrist and said fiercely, "Didn't you hear me talking to you?"

Jessie said softly, "I heard you." "Get out of the car."

Jessie's face was gloomy as she pushed open the car door again.

"Wait a minute!"

SO

She was annoyed, "You are so annoying." Alex's cold face looked a little unnatural. "Shouldn't you say goodbye to me?"

With his reminder, Jessie remembered the time when he wanted her to kiss him on the phone. There was a trace of embarrassment in her big eyes. She pretended to look at him as if nothing had happened. "Drive carefully!"

He did not have any patience. He grabbed her thin wrist and pulled her back.

Jessie was really annoyed. Who did he think she was? How many times had he caught her in such a short period of time? Did he think he was still young? He had always done childish things!

"Be careful? Hmph, your thoughts and words do not match! I see that you wish for me to die in a car accident as soon as possible. That way, you can successfully snatch the two children away from me, and you have always felt wronged and pretended to listen to me. Isn't that your goal?" The more Alex spoke, the angrier he became. His fingers that were holding her wrist also became more and more forceful.

Alex was really mean. When he cursed himself, he did not hesitate at all. Jessie was speechless.

"Yes, I pretended to be obedient to you. I have ulterior motives. Since you are so clear about this matter, don't come and find me again!" She flung him away with all her might. She didn't need a man who couldn't even give her a basic sense of security!

Alex stared at her. His eyes were burning with anger. For a moment, he really wanted to strangle Jessie to death so that he would not be disturbed by her every day. "He promised you that he will love you forever. But in the end, he changed many women around him. When did he take those oaths seriously? Do you think you are still young and naive enough to think that as long as you promise, you can be together forever? If you really want to keep a man, Don't believe his lies. You should open your eyes wide and take a good look. What can this man do for you!?" He was also extremely angry. He blurted out the wound on her last marriage without thinking.

It was as if she had been stabbed in the most painful part that she did not want others to see. Jessie was completely furious. She raised her hand and hit him like a madman. "Alex, you are a bastard!"

She really felt that Alex had gone too far.

She knew that anyone's promise could not be trusted, but she still wanted to hear it. Because she was too afraid of being hurt, but she could not find a better way to protect herself, so even if she knew that promises were useless, she would rather stupidly ask him for one. He didn't give her a promise, and he even humiliated her like this.

After saying those words, Alex regretted it. However, at this moment, how could he say it out loud when he was apologizing? His face was cold, and he didn't get angry. He allowed her to hit and pinch him. Anyway, this suit on his body had been tortured badly by her today. So he wasn't afraid that she would destroy it again.

Jessie kept hitting him and she panted continuously. She did not beat him up and hurt him. Instead, she made herself exhausted and slowly did not get angry anymore.

She fell into his arms and felt very wronged.

Alex raised his hand and held her soft and beautiful chin. He lowered his head and kissed her.

His movements were very soft and gentle.

He kissed her for a while, then let go of her.

Jessie's large watery eyes intertwined with his. Jessie was still feeling wronged as she muttered, "You are so bad."

He could not help but laugh. He continued to kiss her gently as he snorted, "I am a bad person. Didn't I also let you hit me for a long time?"

Being comforted by such a rare soft voice, Jessie's tears rolled out again and softly fell into his broad and warm embrace. "You are so bad!"

"If you obediently say goodbye to me like now, how would I dare to provoke you? You bite people at every turn. Are you a dog?"

She was angry and dissatisfied. "You are the dog, you are a big wolfdog!"

A big wolfdog was an extremely obscure term for men.

Jessie's eyes changed color. His large hands held her chin tightly and kissed her again.

The sound of the car window being knocked suddenly scared Jessie until her face turned pale and immediately went limp.

Alex hurriedly reached out to hold her and did not let her slide all the way. He buried her crimson face in his chest and half rolled down the car window with a sullen face. He looked coldly at an aunty in volunteer uniform outside the window and slightly lifted his lips. "Is something the matter?"

The middle-aged woman suddenly saw the handsome face of the man in the car. She was stunned for a moment. Then she smiled and asked passionately, "You are a star, right? Which star? What TV series have you filmed? I love watching TV series. Tell me the name of the TV series. I'll go back and watch."

Alex was expressionless. "No."

"Oh, you're not a celebrity. What a pity. You're so handsome, why don't you become a celebrity? If my son is half as handsome as you, I'll definitely make him a celebrity. Becoming a celebrity will earn him a lot of money."

Seeing that she was still talking non-stop, Alex furrowed his brows and was about to roll up the window.

"Hey, wait-" The middle-aged woman anxiously reached out a hand to stop him. She continued to smile and said, "My memory is really bad. When I saw you, handsome young man, I forgot to talk about proper business, young man. This is the entrance to the neighborhood, it's not appropriate for you to park your car here. If you don't leave, Just park your car in the garage. Do you want me to take you to the garage?"

"No need, thank you!" Alex rejected her flatly. Seeing that she had backed off, he started the car and stopped in front of a wider area.

Jessie raised her head and gave him a punch with a red face, "It's all your fault. I'm too ashamed."

"The two of us are in love, how is it shameful?" Alex was very calm. He stretched out his hand to help her tidy up her skirt and coat that had been messed up by him.

Jessie could not help but ask, "What happened? Are you and your ex-wife also like this in broad daylight on the road?"

She regretted it the moment she said it.

She was afraid of him and opposed him, but at the same time, she asked such jealous words. Didn't this mean that she liked him very much?

As she expected, Alex's eyes revealed a mocking smile. "Are you jealous?" "I am not!" She choked, but her face turned even redder.

In the afternoon, Jessie went to the school to pick up Felix and Fia.

Miss Mirna sent the children out and when she saw her, she specially walked over to greet," Fia's mother. Recently, Fia kept asking me about the parent-child meeting. I was thinking. It should be because you and his father did not come last time and left a shadow in Fia's heart. So she wanted to make up for it now, but the school only held one parent-child meeting every season. I hope you can explain it to Fia at home."

Jessie was very happy that Miss Mirna called her 'Fia's mother'. She smiled and nodded," Okay, thank you Miss Mirna!"

"Okay, goodbye! Felix, Fia, see you tomorrow!"

After sending Miss Mirna off, Jessie bent over and asked the little girl who was taking her schoolbag. "Fia, did you tell the teacher that you still want to participate in the parent-child meeting?"

Fia hung the schoolbag on her shoulder and sighed like an adult, "I said it, but the teacher refused. She actually wanted to tell you such a small matter. I think she's really getting more and more long-winded as she gets older."

Felix could not bear to watch and said, "She only told me that because your teacher was annoyed by you. She could not stand it anymore."

Fia snorted. "She won't be angered by me. I am just asking."

"Isn't it shameful for you to say that? You have to ask eight hundred times from class to class. Isn't that annoying?"

Jessie was speechless.

She rubbed the little girl's head. She tried to make her tone sound like she was not scolding anyone. "Fia, if you have any questions in your heart, please ask the teacher. He is right. But it was not right to keep pestering the teacher during class. Even if we have questions, we can't delay other students' lessons. Furthermore, we have such questions today. The teacher has already given you the answer, so why are you pestering her? If others keep pestering you and asking you questions, you'll get annoyed, right?"

Jessie felt that her 'earnest advice' was quite effective, because the little girl already knew her mistake and lowered her head, looking very pious.

She then patted Fia's little shoulder earnestly. "It's good that you know your mistake. In the future, you will not do it again. You are still a good child."

Fia looked up and looked at her with big eyes. "Mommy. I know that it is not good to disturb the discipline in class, but I want the school to hold another parent-child meeting. Because you promised me that you would definitely come with Dad this time. I want to let the teachers and classmates know during the parent-child meeting. I really do have a mother. I didn't lie to them."

Chapter 88

1. My Father Is Alex and My Mother Is Jessie. What Do You Want?

Jessie was proud that she had taught her children to recognize their mistakes. But when she heard the words of the children, she immediately felt extremely ashamed. The last time was because she had left a wound in the hearts of the children. That was why the children had done something out of line this time. What right did she have to discipline the children..

She stretched out her hand and tightly hugged Fia's body into her embrace. (This novel will be daily updated at)She really wanted to go back to that day's parent-child meeting. Not to mention a car accident, even if the heaven and earth were to be destroyed, she should have rushed over to accompany her children in time...

Because of guilt in her heart, Jessie agreed to all of the children's requests at this moment. Even her tone was very gentle.

They ate quite a few snacks at the snack street and went to buy toys.

"This! Mommy, I want this!" Fia grabbed a shiny little doll and was very excited.

Jessie and Felix walked over.

Jessie really could not appreciate this skull wearing a black suit. "Fia, are you sure you want this?"

Fia giggled, "Yes. I want this. I want to hang it on my schoolbag and scare Kenny to death. He is most afraid of this zombie!"

"Did Kenny provoke you?"

Fia was indignant, "He actually gave me the candy that he licked. Do you think he deserves a beating? What if girls eat the candy that boys lick and get pregnant? He even said that if we have a baby, he will bring the baby to kindergarten with us. Can I do that kind of shameful thing? Luckily I threw up the candy. Spit out on his face!"

Jessie was confused.

Felix covered his face. "Fia, in the future, you must not say that you are my sister outside. I don't have a sister as embarrassing as you!"

Jessie bent down and held Fia's small hand. She said gently, "You misunderstood. Girls will not get pregnant after eating what boys eat. Next time, if he gives you food that you don't want to eat, just give it back to him. You can't throw up on his face anymore. This will damage your image as a lady."

Although Fia did not like to learn, she was quick-witted. When Jessie said this, her heart also fell and she blinked her big eyes. "What is a lady? A girl who likes to learn? Then I better not be a lady, what I hate the most is learning"

Jessie was speechless.

There was a children's playground not far from the Tianji Residence.

Fia saw the rotating Ferris wheel and did not want to leave.

Jessie received a call from Alex. He still had some matters to attend to and would come a little later.

The children wanted to go play, so she took her phone and went to the window to buy tickets.

When she queued, in order to avoid not being able to receive Alex's call when she was playing later, she sent him a WeChat message with the address of her and the children.

There weren't many people queuing at this time of the day. She was the last one.

"One adult ticket and two child tickets.(This novel will be daily updtaed at)" She took out her phone and was about to pay.

A woman with bright red nails reached out from the side and forcefully snatched the phone from Jessie's hand.

Jessie had just raised her head.

The phone directly smashed towards her.

Jessie was completely unprepared and could not dodge in time. Her forehead was hit hard and the phone also fell to the ground.

"You should get lost after taking the money. Who allowed you to come back to R City?" Yura saw Jessie and her eyes looked like she wanted to swallow her.

"Jessie, you actually dare to appear here? Don't forget our deal. You took two million from my family and promised to get out of R City forever!" Hannah gritted her teeth and asked angrily.

Jessie touched her forehead that was smashed and bent down to pick up her phone.

Yura stepped forward and stepped on Jessie's hand and phone with her red boots.

Just as she was about to use force, Jessie suddenly swung her hand.

Yura staggered. If it was not for Hannah supporting her, she would have already fallen onto the ground.

When Hannah saw that Yura was frightened, she was so angry that she could not help but raise her hand to slap Jessie.

Before Hannah's hand could even touch Jessie's face, Jessie had already fiercely slapped her twice.

Hannah's raised hand froze in midair and half of her face was like a steamed bun that was gradually swelling up.

The ticket seller in the window and security guard who was at the entrance of the amusement park were also stunned. The women were very fierce when they quarreled, so even if they saw them fight, the ticket seller and security guard just stared blankly and did not dare to step forward to stop the fight.

Jessie stared at Hannah with an imposing manner, "These two slaps are what you owe me. Those two houses of mine are currently worth at least 3 million in R City's market value. Counting it up, you still owe me at least 1 million. Do you want me to go and find the police? I still remember clearly that you kidnapped my mother. Your actions are a crime!"

Yura was also a victim of being used by scumbags, so Jessie sympathized with her. However, they repeatedly pressed against her, making her unable to bear it any longer.

"Do you have evidence? (This novel will be daily updated at)If you have evidence, will you disappear from R City for so long?" Yura walked in front of Jessie, "If you are unable to produce evidence, it would be a false accusation. In the end, the one who will be imprisoned is you!"

Jessie indeed could not bring out evidence. At that time, she was too rushed and did not even leave behind a recording of their conversation.

Seeing that she did not speak, Yura knew that she had won the argument and suddenly pulled Hannah over.

Hannah cried out in shock, "Yura, what are you doing?"

Yura messed up Hannah's hair and pushed her to sit on the ground. She took out her phone and kept taking pictures and stared at Jessie with a sinister smile, "Didn't you want to sue us for kidnapping? I will also sue you for beating Hannah up and causing her serious injuries. I have all the evidence!"

Hannah understood Yura's intention and immediately cried out in pain.

Yura grabbed Jessie's collar tightly and her eyes were filled with hatred, "It is all because of you that my child is gone. Hubby is gone. My reputation is gone, and my future is gone. As long as you are in R City, I will have the guts to kill you! This time, I will not send you out of R City, but send you to jail!"

Jessie looked at Yura's haggard face that was filled with unwillingness and hatred. She felt angry and pitiful. Yura actually gave up her life because of Mike. She felt sad and unworthy for Yura.

At this moment, Jessie was really glad that Alex and the others happened to appear in her life at that time. Otherwise, she might also have fallen into Yura's current state.

There were too many setbacks in a person's life. If there was a warm sun, it might not be able to completely dispel all the pain in the darkness.

But if it did not appear, how many people would really be able to walk out of that dark swamp with their own courage?

Jessie felt that Yura's mind was already somewhat abnormal and was about to swing her away.

Following a crisp sound of a young girl, two small figures shot out like two cannonballs towards Yura.

The speed was so fast that Yura, an adult, could not stand stably. She was knocked far away and made a loud bang.

Fia heard the sound and was secretly pleased. She even used her small hands to cover her small lips and looked like an innocent little loli. "We were just talking and did not see you. It is embarrassing to bump into you but you should not make things difficult for a child, right?"

"Yura, you didn't hurt yourself, right?" Hannah saw this and immediately sat up on the ground and ran over to help Yura.

"Don't touch me, it hurts! Help me hit those two children!" Yura's face was distorted from the fall and she screamed in a hideous voice.

Hannah got up and walked towards Felix and Fia. "Whose family are you kids from? I will beat you up today and let you learn how to walk outside!"

A cold smile appeared on Felix's little cool face. "I don't think it's us who needs to learn, but the two of you. You should learn how to talk in a civilized way again!"

Fia also did not pretend to be cute anymore. (This novel will be daily updated at) She ran forward a few steps and stood in front of Hannah with her little face raised. Her little hands crossed. She said loudly, "My dad is Alex and my mom is Jessie. What do you want?"

When they heard Alex's name, everyone was shocked, including Hannah and Yura.

"Did you hurt yourselves just now?" Jessie nervously ran to the children and turned them around to check.

She saw how they bumped into Yura just now. She wanted to stop them, but it was too late. She was worried that the two of them would also be injured.

It was all her fault for being too impulsive. She did not consider that the child was by her side and directly started fighting with Yura and Hannah.

If the child was injured, she even wanted to die.

“We are fine, Mommy. You don’t have to worry. I fight every day. I am very strong!” Fia picked up the phone on the ground and handed it to Jessie. Then she squeezed into her arms and giggled.

“Mommy is worried about me. I don’t fight every day. I am not as strong as you.(This novel will be daily updaed at)” Felix’s expression was still cool, but when he took a closer look, his fair and pretty face had a hint of pink on it.
