1. My Father Was a Very Petty Man

Young Master Felix, who had never fought for love before, was really not used to saying such things. But if he did not fight for it, his mommy's love would be completely taken over by Fia, a crazy girl.

Fia rolled her eyes at the jealous him. "You are a man, yet you still have the nerve to say that your health is not good. You are not even comparable to a girl like me!"

Felix was speechless.

*Bitch is shameless. The child she takes care of is even more shameless. You guys are really worthy of being a family!" Hannah saw that the child was Jessie's and laughed loudly, "Alex? Boss Alex? I think you two little bastards have been infected by your lowly mother's daydreaming all day, right?"

The warm and loving atmosphere of filial piety was broken by Hannah's sharp laughter. Felix frowned unhappily, "It's so noisy!"

Jessie rubbed his head and held one with one hand. "It is quite noisy. Then let's play next time. Let's go home."

"You guys want to leave? It's not that easy!" Hannah had already helped Yura up from the ground and both of them blocked in front of the three of them.

Jessie's face turned cold, "You really think that I don't have evidence? I really don't have it but my mother has it. Yura, The people you hired told me all about the deal you made with them. My mother used her phone to record everything. I didn't sue you because I think you were also the victim of that scumbag Mike. If you continue to target innocent people, I won't b e soft-hearted anymore!"

Yura and Hannah's faces turned pale.

Yura rushed forward and revealed a sinister smile, "Do you think I will believe you? The child you brought along even dares to impersonate Boss Alex's child, what is there that a slut like you do not dare to say? Even if you have evidence today, I will make you hand it over obediently!"

Very quickly, several men dressed in black suits ran out from the cars that they parked on the road.

“Capture those two little bastards!” Yura rubbed her fists and fiercely ordered them to arrest people.

The men listened to the order and expressionlessly ran towards Jessie and the others.

Felix pushed Jessie and Fia behind his small body like a young adult and with a cold little face. “You guys better not come over. Otherwise, you will not be able to bear the consequences! My father has always been very petty. If he finds out that you guys bullied us today, he definitely won’t let you off easily!”

Yura laughed when she heard that. “Little bastard, I think you must have gone crazy thinking of being a rich kid, right? You are too naive!”

Hannah also sternly ordered the other man in the black suit, “What are you all standing there for? Hurry up and catch that slut and her pair of little bastards!”

Jessie saw that the situation was not good and shouted security guard from the amusement park to help, while she took the two children and ran away.

Those men were very fast. They rushed over from both sides and reached out to grab the children.

“Get lost! Don’t touch my child!” Jessie went all out to protect him. They kicked her away and threw her onto the road. Her abdomen was violently hurt from the kick.

The two men went to carry Felix and Fia respectively.

Since Felix was three years old, there had been professional body-protection coaches coming to the house to specially teach him. When the man wanted to hug him, he bent his body and ran away nimbly.

Seeing that the little guy was very sensitive, several men immediately chased after him. The little guy dodged a few times, but the man could not even touch his clothes.

Jessie did not care about the pain in her abdomen. She quickly took out her phone and dialed Alex’s number almost instinctively. She cried hoarsely, “Alex, come quickly, come and save u

S.”

“Ah!” A man’s scream came from the other side. Fia was biting his arm hard.

Seeing that the man in extreme pain was about to hit Fia’s head with his huge palm.

A black figure rushed in like a shadow. The man could not guard against it at all. The little girl beside him had already been carried away. Immediately after, he was ruthlessly kicked on the cheek by the black leather shoes that came at him.

The man smashed into the glass wall by the gate of the playground like a cloth bag, sending glass pieces flying.

His body was embedded in the broken glass wall. After a few seconds, he fell to the ground with a bang.

He opened his mouth, and two teeth fell to the ground with blood.

The other men were shocked. Rick had already calmly retracted his legs. He held Fia with one hand and beckoned Felix with the other.

Felix quickly ran to his side. "Thank you, Uncle Rick!"

"You're welcome. Are you guys hurt?"

"We're fine. Oh right, my mommy -" The two little fellows turned around and ran towards Jessie.

They saw that their father had already gotten out of the car. He was walking quickly towards the place where his mommy had fallen.

Jessie looked at the majestic man who was falling from the sky against the sunlight. Her heart relaxed and her eyes became moist. She could not help but reach out to him.

Alex held her small hand firmly and used a little strength to pull her up. He held her in his arms and his deep voice still had some lingering fear. "It's alright now!"

Fia saw that her mommy was being carried by her father and was jealous. She pouted and was about to run over to grab her mommy when Felix pulled her back. "Don't disturb them!"

Fia angrily wanted to shake his hand off. "Why can't I disturb them? What if Dad carried Mommy and gave birth to a child? At that time, they will only like that child and not us! You're still a bookworm. You don't even know this. Idiot!"

Felix frowned and thought for a while. "But it's just a hug. It's impossible to give birth to a child, right?"

Fia was anxious. "They will not give birth to a child after hugging for a while. But if they carry on, they will have a child!"

Felix pondered for a few more seconds and let go of her hand. Although he still felt that Fia's words were not very reliable, in his heart, he actually quite minded that his parents gave birth to a child. If at that time they really did not like him and Fia, what would they do..

"Mommy!" Fia, who had gotten her freedom, ran over and grabbed Jessie's hand.

Jessie was very shy when the child saw her weakly hugging their father. She quickly pushed Alex away and bent over to carry the child.

The group of people on the other side had long been scared out of their wits by Alex's sudden appearance.

Yura and Hannah froze on the spot. Even their blood seemed to have become cold and their bodies trembled non-stop.

A few men in black suits who had regained their senses turned around and were about to quietly escape.

They had only taken the money of the two sisters from Yura Family and were hired by Yura at the last minute. It was not to the extent that they would give up their future and their lives for them.

Although they had never seen Alex before.

However, they had heard his name many times.

He was a powerful figure who could shake the entire R City with just a stamp of his foot. Who wouldn't know about him?

Just by looking at his assistant's swift and fierce skills, coupled with the fact that he couldn't even find a luxury car of the same model in the entire R City, who else could it be if it wasn't him?

Someone like him, even if they had nine lives, they couldn't afford to offend him!

However, just as the thought of escaping arose in their minds, Rick had already noticed it. While they were running away, he had already flown over. He kicked three of the people in front of him. Just as his long legs landed, a sharp fist swung over. The few people behind him were also knocked to the ground by his punches, and they kept crying out in pain.

Alex gently pressed on Jessie's shoulder and looked at the men in black with cold expressions. He walked past Jessie and walked towards them.

With every step he took, The cold and murderous aura on his handsome face became heavier and heavier.

Yura and Hannah were so scared that their legs almost went soft at the same time and they immediately knelt down on the ground. Their lips trembled so much that they were unable to speak.

“Boss, it was them who bullied Young Master Felix and Young Miss Fia just now!” Rick stepped on a man in a black suit.

Alex took out his phone and dialed a number. “Director Chen. Someone from the Tianji Residence was trying to kill a child. Bring some men and clean it up.”

The four men were so scared that their faces changed. They dragged their injured bodies over and begged for mercy.

Rick blocked all of them.

Hannah saw that the situation was over. No matter how scared she was, she could only bite the bullet and take the initiative to admit her mistake. She stood up a few times before she forced herself to stand up, “Boss Alex, we were blind. We didn’t know that they were your family’s young master and young miss. If we had known earlier, no matter how much they bumped into my sister, we definitely wouldn’t have...”

After saying that, she plucked up her courage and deliberately used her chest to hit Alex’s arm.

Before she even got close, she was heavily pushed away by Rick. After that, he dragged her to the side and scolded her in a stern voice. “Stay away from Boss Alex!”

The police motorcade arrived in an instant and blocked the entire area.

A middle-aged man in a police uniform ran out of the leading car and ran to Alex with an apologetic face. “Boss Alex, we did not do our job well and you were disturbed. Don’t worry, I will clean up these people now!”

Alex shook hands with him with an indifferent expression. He raised his dark eyes slightly and said, “It was not me who was disturbed. It was my children.”

With just one sentence, Director Chen’s legs could not help but soften, and his face turned pale.

The four men were forcefully escorted into the police car. Yura looked at the handcuffs and flashing red and blue lights. The fear of being imprisoned earlier hit her heart, and she instantly lost control and got up to run.

A police officer caught her in time. His speed was so fast that it made her immediately kneel on the ground again.

Yura struggled with all her strength in fear and shouted, "Go away! Let go of me! I did not make a mistake, you are not allowed to catch me! I don't want to go to jail! Don't –"

Her clothes were torn off by herself, revealing large chunks of flesh.

Jessie quickly raised her hand to cover the children's eyes and pulled them into the car.

Seeing Yura as if she was crazy and did not care about anything, Hannah also felt ashamed. She quickly went over and squatted down to help her pull her clothes back. Gritting her teeth, she said softly, "Enough. Even if we enter the prison, Mom and Dad will definitely come and save us. We were indeed blind today. We didn't see that Jessie, that little slut, actually seduced Alex. You aren't willing to be taken away? Could it be that you want Boss Alex to punish us behind our backs?"

Hearing her words, Yura finally calmed down. She unwillingly bared her teeth and panted.

The police came over to handcuff them. Alex walked over and glanced at them indifferently. His eyes were cold. "Director Chen, leave them here. There are some things I need to ask them myself."

Director Chen immediately nodded. "Okay! Please do as you wish!"

After a while, Director Chen and the others left.

"Rick, get someone to drive them to Bi Lin Garden." Alex turned around and sat in the Bentley as well. He started the car and left.

1. Stay away from Me! I'm Annoyed to See You

Although they weren't taken to jail, they were about to be taken away by Alex's men. Yura and Hannah were so scared that they fell to the ground. They could not say a word for a long time.

On the way, Jessie saw Alex's cold face and thought that he was still afraid of what happened just now. She leaned over from the back seat and put one hand on the chair behind him and whispered, "Sorry, today's matter is all my fault. If it wasn't for me, Felix and Fia wouldn't have been scared."

Fia was the first to jump up and shout, "Mommy, I didn't get scared. It was the person I bit. He was scared to death. Just now, when he was handcuffed by the police uncle to the police car, I saw him peeing in his pants."

Felix also saw that his father's expression was not right. He pulled Fia's hand and Fia made a sound of Oh. She retracted her small head and quietly sat side by side with Felix again.

Jessie saw that Alex still did not manage to calm down and felt ashamed in her heart. She made a careful smiling face to find a topic to talk about. "Where are we going to eat?"

Alex pursed his lips and his slender palm held the steering wheel. He turned the car around a corner and drove in the direction of Tianji Residence.

"Aren't you going out to eat?"

Jessie did not get a reply even after asking a few times. She did not say anything else and just rubbed her nose as she retreated.

Fia made a face at her and whispered: "It's fine. He is just like this and especially likes to be angry. He will be fine after he is angry for a while. Don't worry about him."

Jessie hugged her and smiled as she used her hands to cover her small mouth. She did not let her continue to complain.

Alex was obviously still angry at this moment. If he heard her, he would have to scold the child again.

When they arrived at the Tianji Residence, Alex did not drive the car into the garage and directly parked it at the gate.

Jessie looked up at him. "Aren't you going in?"

"I still have something to do. Take them around for dinner." After a pause, he added another sentence. "You don't have to send them to Mountain and River Residence tonight."

Hearing that they could sleep together with Jessie without going back to Mountain and River Residence, the two little fellows were so excited that their little faces lit up. However, in front of their father, they still obediently pretended to be reserved and kept silent.

Jessie saw that his expression was still not good and did not dare to say anything. She pulled the children out of the car.

BenDown Garden was a high-end club jointly owned by Alex, Sammy and a few other brothers.

They all had luxurious private rooms here.

Sammy happened to be relaxing here today. He played golf outside for half a day, and when he returned to his room, he met Rick and Alex's other trusted assistant, Jefry. One of them escorted a woman into Alex's private room.

He followed them curiously, pushed open the door, and walked in. "What are you guys doing? Did you bring the girl for boss? You guys are too heartless. How can you tie her up?"

Rick saw him and answered honestly, "We didn't find it for boss. Boss asked us to bring her here for questioning."

"Ask a woman?" Sammy became more and more interested. He glanced at Yura and Hannah, whose hair was disheveled and their mouths were still covered with tape. He sat on the sofa and crossed his legs. He took out a cigarette from the cigarette box that Alex had left on the table and lit it. He put it in his mouth and said, "How long until boss arrives?"

"I don't know."

He asked, "Don't know? If he didn't come, the two of you would wait here with the two girls?" Sammy was speechless. He picked up his phone and dialed a number with a cigarette in his mouth.

Alex was on the way here. When he saw that it was him calling, he picked up the Bluetooth earpiece and asked, "Is something the matter?"

"Young Master Alex, you're usually quite. I didn't expect you to have such a hobby. You get two at a time, and you even like to play big games."

Rick and Jefry were speechless.

Young Master Smith, there were quite a few people here. Can't you give boss some face?

Alex was not in the mood to tease him. He asked coldly, "Are you in BenDown Garden?"

s

Sammy blew out a smoke ring and smiled. "Of course. Otherwise, how could I can meet you, who was so open-minded but on the one hand, you are too good at pretending. You usually put on an expression of abstinence, making us all think that you are only a tree of steel in this lifetime."

"Wait there. I have something for you to take care of later,"

"Why don't you tell us clearly what it is?" Alex had already hung up. Sammy was so angry that he cursed. In the end, he still continued to smoke and wait.

Ten minutes later, Alex pushed open the door and walked in forcefully.

Before Sammy could say anything, Alex looked at him with sunken eyes. "Is the electronic development project that Edison's Group is going to start or is it waiting for your family's investment?"

Sammy nodded. "Yes, you know better than me about these business matters. Why are you asking me? Forget it, forget it. I'm not interested in these things. Just tell me, what's up with these two women?"

Sammy was not interested, but Alex's words made Yura and Hannah's faces turn deathly pale.

Their father had invested almost all of his wealth into the electronic development project. If they did not get the joint venture of their partner, Smith family, not only would the project be stranded, but Edison Family would also be in debt!

Alex unbutton his suit, brushed aside the side, and sat down on the sofa. His face was as cold as an ice sculpture. "They attacked Felix and Fia."

"What?!" Sammy's carefree and handsome face also froze. He ran over. He gave them a kick and said, "How dare you touch my godson and goddaughter? I'll f*cking kill you two wicked women!"

Yura and Hannah were screaming from the kick.

Alex reached out and grabbed him. "Go to your side first. I still have some things to ask. I'll look for you there when I have the results."

"Sure!" Sammy agreed readily. Before he went out, he ran back and gave them a kick.

Alex took out a cigarette from the cigarette box and put it in his mouth. He lit it up and squinted at the two girls on the ground. He said slowly, "You want to help your father maintain the partnership with the Smith family. Answer the question honestly, or else... I don't need to waste my breath. I will make Director Chen sentence you for kidnapping my son and daughter. If you dare touch my son and daughter, even if your father finds a Heaven Breaker, You two have to go to jail."

Yura and Hannah were shocked by his words. A few seconds later. They desperately nodded their heads in agreement.

Alex nodded his head and gave a long instruction with the cigarette between his fingers.

Rick and Jefry went to tear the tape off their mouths.

"You have no conflict with my children. So, you have a conflict with my woman?" Alex blew out a green smoke ring and curled his lips coldly. "Tell me, what kind of conflict do you have with my woman?"

The two girls froze. He had already said clearly that Jessie was his woman. How could they dare to utter a single word? If they wanted to tell him what they had done to Jessie in the past, they would have to die.

Alex's sword-like brows furrowed slightly, but he was not in a hurry. He continued to smoke slowly

His long fingers and cigarette butt made him look especially good. His handsome face hidden in the light green smoke also became more and more charming.

But at this moment, the two girls did not have the slightest bit of courage to be obsessed with him. They only had endless trembling and fear.

Jefry walked forward and kicked their shoulders. He shouted, "Tell me, what did you do to Miss Jessie?"

Yura smiled coldly, "She stole my man. She was in the wrong first."

She was hit hard on her head and her diaphragm buzzed. A mouthful of blood spilled out from the corner of her mouth.

After he finished this slap, he prepared to get up and kick them. Hannah could not take it anymore and screamed, "I will speak, I will speak! I will say, you all let us go, let my father go, let my family go, I will say anything! I will say everything!"

Jessie saw that the little fellows had eaten quite a few snacks previously and was not in a hurry to bring them to a nearby restaurant to eat.

Thinking about how there were still quite a number of ready-made ingredients in the fridge, she brought the children to the supermarket downstairs to add some. After buying some things, she went back to personally cook dinner.

When she took the rice, she thought of Alex and added another person's quantity.

She prepared four dishes and a soup, but she didn't see Alex come back.

The children were watching cartoons in the living room, and the only sound in the entire house was the cheerful sounds from the cartoons.

After placing the dishes on the table, Jessie could not help but sit at the dining table and wait for a while.

Seeing that the food was going to be cold, that person still did not come back. Furthermore, there was not a single message on her WeChat.

She took out her phone, hesitated for a few seconds, and took the initiative to dial his number.

Alex had just finished dealing with the matter, and was walking towards the BenDown Garden's parking lot. When he saw her number, he immediately hung up, stuffed his phone back into his suit pocket, opened the car door, and sat inside.

Jessie heard the beeping sound and guessed that he was still angry with her. She sighed lightly and got up to call Felix and Fia over for dinner.

When they were about to finish eating, the door rang.

Jessie almost immediately stood up.

Felix and Fia both raised their small faces to look at her.

Jessie blushed from their stares and slowly sat down again to continue eating. She pretended not to look forward to Alex's return.

After the sound of the door handle turning stopped, the man's steady footsteps sounded at the entrance.

Not long after. Alex entered the living room with the car key in his hand.

"Dad." The two little guys greeted him obediently.

Jessie bit her chopsticks and looked over. She pretended to be calm and said, "Have you eaten?"

Alex did not even look at her. He went straight to the sofa area, threw the car keys on the coffee table, and took off his suit and tie.

Jessie could not hold back anymore. She put down her chopsticks and jogged over. She eagerly took the initiative to pick up his suit and tie. "I made dinner. Can you eat in the living room?"

Alex turned his head and looked at her. The man's deep eyes were terrifyingly dark.

Jessie was flustered by his stare and said in a spoiled manner, "Sorry, I was really wrong today. I will not let the children encounter danger again in the future."

Alex pushed her to the side. "Stay away from me. I am annoyed to see you!"

Jessie originally wanted to take the initiative to hug him to show her softness, but because the children were there, she did not dare to do it. She lowered her eyes and acted like a little wife who had done something wrong. She carried his suit and tie to the bedroom.

Alex walked to the dining room and asked the two little ones at the dining table with a frown, "Have you finished eating?"

Felix and Fia nodded in unison. "Yes, father."

They looked very obedient.

Based on their many years of love and connection with their dad, the two kids could clearly see the words 'I'm very unhappy' on their dad's face. Under such circumstances, they wouldn't be willful. They just sat there obediently. "All of you come out." After Alex gave the order, he turned around and left the kitchen.

1. Help Me Cover It up

"Oh." The two little ones climbed down from their chairs and followed him out.

Alex opened the door. Rick stood outside and smiled when he saw them. "Young Master Felix and Young Miss Fia, I am here to pick you up and bring you back to Mountain and River Residence."

They knew that it was not a good thing to call them out. Fia was the first to raise her hand to protest, "Dad, you are the one who asked us to stay here tonight to accompany Mommy!"

Felix chimed in. "Yes, Mommy was scared. She needs us to comfort her."

"No need!" Alex coldly closed the door.

Fia wanted to cry. "Brother, we are definitely not his biological children!"

Felix's mood was not any better. "Yes."

The two little ones stared at the closed door, relaxed their shoulders, and sighed.

Rick carefully stepped forward. "Young Master Felix, Young Miss Fia, let's go."

Four big eyes stared at him.

Rick's heart trembled, and he tactfully changed his words. "Continue! All of you, continue watching! You can watch as long as you want. You can even see through the door!"

Felix and Fia were speechless. "..."

Jessie came out of the bedroom and only saw the man walking in through the doorway. She did not see the two little ones. She looked around the dining room, living room, and two children's rooms but did not find them. "Where are Felix and Fia?"

Just as she walked out of the child's room, her voice fell. Alex hugged her and sealed her lips with a kiss.

Jessie knew that he was still angry. Although her lips hurt a little from being hit by him, she did not dare to dodge. Instead, she obediently raised her small face and thought of this to calm his anger and make up for the big mistake that she had made today.

She had not been so willing for a long time.

Alex stared at her eyes for a few seconds and could not control himself anymore.

Jessie only felt pain.

She could feel his especially bad mood today. She gritted her teeth without saying a word.

After a long time, Jessie was so soft that she wanted to directly fall down. He pulled her into his embrace.

He looked at her pale but flushed face and kissed her again.

Jessie's heart trembled, but she still reached out her hands to hug his neck.

Alex picked her up and walked to the sofa with big steps. Both of them fell on the soft sofa.

He held his hands by her side, staring deeply at her beautiful face.

Her long hair scattered on the sofa. Her skin was like boiled egg white, her beautiful oval face, her delicate eyebrows, her nose bridge, and her clear black and white eyes trembled slightly because of her lust. Her slightly swollen and moist red lips were like petals after the rain.

He kissed her again.

This kind of him made her feel unfamiliar, even at this moment, he was almost torturing her...

Finally stopping, Jessie felt as if the world had finally calmed down. She could only hear the interweaving breathing of the two.

Jessie saw that his expression seemed to be much better than before, but his brows were still twisted. She stretched out her fingers and gently caressed it. She wished that she could help him wipe away those wrinkles. Alex propped himself up with one arm and stared at her with a deep gaze. He raised his hand to pull a few strands of her wet hair behind his ear and ordered with a low voice, "Call me by my name."

Jessie did not understand his thoughts. The two of them were together, what was she shouting about?

"You know what I want to hear!" Alex said.

She wanted to make him happy, but she was too embarrassed to say it. She buried her face in his chest and said, "Next time."

Alex carried her over and pressed his forehead against hers. His eyes were deep. "Now!"

Jessie saw the persistence in his eyes and her face burned. She turned over and was about to go down. "I'm going to take a shower. I don't feel well."

Before her feet touched the ground, her body had already jumped up.

Alex carried her into the bathroom and placed her in the bathtub. He turned on the warm water and walked into the bathtub himself.

"It's small here..." Jessie saw him come in and her face became even hotter. She used her hands to push him.

Alex carried her onto his lap.

He said he was taking a bath, but it did not take long for him to be dishonest again.

This position was actually quite uncomfortable in the bathtub. Jessie could not help but bite her lower lip. There were traces of blood dripping into the water, dyeing a portion of the water red.

Alex finally saw that something was wrong with her, especially when he saw the blood dripping into the water. His black eyes fiercely retracted, "What's wrong with you?"

Jessie shook her head and did not let him see her face.

Alex grabbed her chin and pulled it over with force. He saw a small circle of blood marks on her lower lip that had been bitten by her.

He was instantly furious. "Why did you bite yourself?"

Jessie raised her hand to cover it. "You made me feel some pain. I accidentally bit it and broke it. Sorry, I did not notice."

"Are you a fool? You didn't even know to tell me you get hurt?" Alex roared.

Jessie was stunned by his roar, and then she slightly lowered her eyes. "I see that you are in a bad mood, so I want to make you happy."

"So you hurt yourself?" Alex asked back.

"I was wrong. Don't be angry. I will tell you next time." Jessie replied. "You know I am angry? Do you know what I'm really angry about?" Alex asked.

Jessie felt her heart tremble when he shouted at her. She felt so wronged that her eyes turned red. "I...I..."

"I am angry that my woman was bullied and forced to retreat step by step. Even her shelter was taken away but she did not even say a word to me! If I did not force you today, Do you still want to carry on foolishly and put yourself and your child in danger for the rest of your life? How much do you not trust me? Or do you still not care about our relationship? If I make you slightly dissatisfied, you can retreat at any time?"

"It's not like that!" Jessie's tears rolled down but she could not explain it. At that time, Yura family kidnapped her mother and forced her out of R City. She indeed did not think of asking him for help. She was afraid of losing face and was afraid that she would not be able to raise her head in front of him.

But because of her selfish inferiority, Felix and Fia were in danger with her.

Alex's eyes were shockingly red. He suddenly stood up, bringing with him the sound of flowing water. He did not even put on his bathrobe before he went out of the bathroom.

Jessie covered her face and cried for a while. Her skin was wrinkled from the bath and she felt very uncomfortable. She sobbed and got up to take a shower.

When she looked up, she saw that Alex's sleeping gown was still hanging on the rack and he was not wearing it out.

After she finished washing, she put on her pajamas and put on the mirror. She used cold water to rub her eyes for a while before holding his sleeping gown and walking out.

When she walked to the bedroom, she saw Alex wrapped in a towel around his waist and smoking by the open window with his bare upper body.

The air was filled with the thick smell of tobacco. On the side cabinet, there were several cigarette butts pressed on the cylinder filled with cigarette ash.

Jessie paused for a moment and walked over. She spread out her sleeping gown and tiptoed to put it on his broad shoulders. She pouted and said, "The window is open. Don't you know it's cold?"

Alex lowered his head and looked at her. He spat out a mouthful of light green smoke and threw it all on Jessie's face.

The tears that she had stopped just now almost rolled out again. She even helped him put on his robe with both hands and put his non-smoking hand under the sleeve of a robe. "Give me a hand and I will help you put it on."

Alex did not move. He still stared at her with a profound gaze.

Jessie glared at him with resentment.

Alex put out the cigarette he had finished in the smoking tank and took off the nightgown in her hand. He turned around and threw it back onto the bed. He walked past her and stood closer to the large open window to light up another cigarette.

Jessie looked at his thick back and her eyes were filled with tears again.

She stood there for a while and walked forward again. This time, she stretched out two slender arms from his back and took the initiative to hug his thin waist. She felt the coldness on his body and hugged him even tighter. The slender body, which was only wearing thin pajamas, was firmly stuck on his back.

Alex's smoking movement was slightly sluggish.

Alex carried her all the way until she squeezed into his arms in front of him. She raised her small face and said, "I won't dare again. In the future, I will tell you everything. If the sky collapses, I will let you help me bear it, okay?"

: Alex silently looked down at her smiling face. He did not put the cigarette between his fingers into his thin lips again.

Jessie reached out a hand and took the cigarette from his fingertip. She pressed it into the ashtray and then raised her hands to wrap around his neck. She stood on her tiptoes and shyly kissed his lips.

Alex still did not move. He just stared at her with a pair of dark eyes that seemed to drip ink.

After kissing for a while. Jessie was so shy that her skin seemed to turn red, but he still did not seem to have any expression. She could not help but feel somewhat defeated.

But she could not think of any other way to calm him down. Gritting her teeth, she lowered her eyes and took off her pajamas.

Alex could not take it anymore. He bent down and picked up her pajamas and wrapped her up. He said in a deep voice, "Do you want to freeze to death?"

Seeing that he was finally willing to speak, Jessie smiled and leaned closer to his chest. "With you around, how could I freeze to death?"

"Crying and laughing, thinking that you are still a child!" Alex scoffed, but he already carried her up and walked to the side of the bed and stuffed her into the blanket.

Then, he lifted the blanket and laid down.

Jessie pulled one of his arms over and laid her head on it. She got close to him and looked at his side face. Alex let her use his arm as a pillow and did not look at her. He laid flat and closed his eyes.

1. 92. Sooner or Later I will Die in Your Hands

Jessie got closer and kissed his lips and chin that was covered in stubble.

When she went down again, he suddenly grabbed her thin arm and said with a deep look, "Your mouth is full of injuries. Why are you moving around!"

"Just a little scratch. It doesn't hurt anymore." She raised her head, her eyes full of love.

She used one hand to tug at her long hair and kissed her again.

Although Alex tried his best to put on an expressionless face, (This novel will be daily updated at) his body had already betrayed him.

He reached out to help her hold her long hair, which would occasionally drift down and cause trouble, and looked down at her with a serious gaze.

Jessie did not have any experience. Her small face was completely red. Alex saw her hesitant look and the remaining anger in his chest disappeared. His mood became better. "If you are afraid, come down."

Jessie pursed her lips and shook her head.

"Then continue!" Alex's gaze was as hot as fire, as if he wanted to burn her to ashes.

The deep affection in his eyes was extremely rare, causing her heart to become even more gentle like a pool of spring water.

She could not help but want to do more things in order to placate him.

She had never done these things that she did today before. She had never even seen them before. She was just like him, exploring and abandoning all shame.

Alex's forehead was covered in sweat because of her. He could not help but hold her shoulders tightly.

After everything was over, she kept coughing. Alex pulled her up and held her in his arms. His voice was hoarse and ashamed. "Are you very uncomfortable?"

Jessie's face was red and she shook her head. She shyly got up and went to the bathroom to rinse her mouth before coming back. He had already changed the sheets.

She leaned into his arms again and pressed her hot face against his strong muscles. (This novel will be daily updated at) "You're not angry anymore?"

Alex pulled the blanket over her and wrapped her up. He helped her cover the long hair on her forehead behind her ears and lifted her face to kiss her smooth forehead.

Jessie reached out to hug him and found a more comfortable way to lean against him. Hearing his strong and powerful heartbeat, endless sweetness and honey rose in her heart

She said in a low voice, "Thank you!"

She thanked him for appearing and thanked him for not making her as unfortunate as Yura. ..

Alex understood the meaning of her words. His thin lips curled into a smile and his arms hugged her tighter, "You can move to Mountain and River Residence tomorrow."

Jessie raised her head in his arms and looked at him with her beautiful eyes. "Can you hear what I think?"

Alex was in a good mood at the moment. He wrapped his arm around her waist and lazily acknowledged.

"I will find a store and open it first. Then at least I will not be a jobless person. I will follow you to see the children's grandparents and then... I will go to Mountain and River Residence with you." At the end of her sentence, her face turned red again.

"I'll make a store for you tomorrow."

She acted like a spoiled child, "I want to look for it myself."

If the apartment he rented to her cost 10,000 yuan, then the shop he rented to her would definitely cost a lot of money. If she wanted the store he gave her for free, she would be under too much pressure. But if she paid the rent according to the store he found, then the price would definitely scare her to death.

"Okay." He agreed and then laughed softly, "You can start planning for the two of us. This awareness is worthy of praise."

She blushed from his words, but then she couldn't help but say something that made her blush even more. "I'm not going to Mountain and River Residence right now, you can come and stay here tonight..."

This sentence made Alex's blood boil again. He lifted her chin and laughed mockingly. "Do you want me to die?"

Jessie did not understand, but he had already recovered. "I will die in your hands sooner or later!"

Rick came out of president's office and returned to his office. He saw Old Madam from the Laurent family sitting on the sofa in the guest area.

He quickly walked over. "Old Madam, are you here to find boss? He is in his office now."

Grandma Restall put down the coffee in her hand and smiled warmly at him. She waved at him. "Come, Rick, come and sit."

This way of addressing made Rick's scalp tingle,

He braced himself and walked over. He obediently sat down on the sofa, but only managed to sit down by half. He was ready to run away at any time.

"Rick, our Alex has a bad temper. You have worked hard with him for so many years. (This novel will be daily updtaed at)For work, you don't even have time to find a girlfriend, right?" Old Madam said earnestly, "Don't worry. This year is the new year. I promise that I will give you an extremely long holiday."

"Thank you, Old Madam."

She said, "You don't need to thank me. This is what you deserve." Old Madam changed the topic. "Rick, I came today because I have a small matter to ask you."

Rick broke out in cold sweat. He kept feeling like "You ask."

Grandma Restall moved closer to him and looked mysterious. "Where does that Miss Jessie live?"

"What?" Rick knew Old Madam must have other intentions. He shook his head without thinking. "I don't know."

Old Madam did not ask boss, but instead came to ask him. It was 100% certain that boss had not prepared to bring her home. How could he, a little assistant, dare to say anything? If the Boss knew that he leaked the information, then he would be betraying him. He would be committing a heinous crime!

"Do you really not know or are you pretending not to know?"

"I really don't know."

"Rick, I think you are not young anymore. You don't have a girlfriend yet. How about this? In the future, you can leave the matter of finding a girlfriend to me. I'll arrange a blind date for you right away, and I guarantee that I'll arrange a blind date for you every day until you're satisfied. How about that?"

Rick was speechless.

Not long after that... Old Madam left with satisfaction.

Rick looked at the closed office door and wiped the cold sweat off his forehead. He only told her that Jessie was now living in boss's house. He did not tell her exactly where she was. Boss had so many properties in R City, so Old Madam shouldn't have gone to every place to search. Even if she did, she would not be so lucky to see Jessie, right? So, this could not be considered as betrayal, right?

Sally was on vacation today, so Jessie pulled her along to look for a shop.

She looked at the few people she found online. It was either the price was too high or the location was too remote. Otherwise, it would be too small and not suitable.

The two of them walked until their legs were sore. They went to a milk tea shop by the road and ordered two cups of milk tea. While drinking, they rushed to the next shop.

Jessie's phone rang. It was an unknown number.

"Hello!"

"Hello, is this Miss Jessie? I have a shop here. Are you interested in coming over to take a look?"

Jessie was happy, "Is that so? Where is your shop?"

The other party gave her the address and Jessie was stunned for a moment before she smiled and said, "I'm sorry, I want to rent in this area of Tianji Residence."

"You should come over and take a look first. The shop must be opened in a place with good business. (This novel will be daily updated at)There is a school area near Tianji Residence, so you plan to make coffee and pastries. Of course, it will be the high-end consumer group in Cheng'an District that is more suitable."

Jessie heard what he said. She had been looking for a place nearby for many days and had not found a suitable place. This was the first time in her life that she did business. She could not open her shop at a place where she could only make losses and not earn money.

Although it was not as close to the school in the Tianji Residence, the journey from Cheng'an District to the school was only about half an hour. It was not very far.

Furthermore, she would be staying in the Mountain and River Residence in the future, and that place would be even further away from the school.

"Then let's go and take a look." Sally also urged when she heard that.

Jessie thought for a while and agreed to take a taxi to Cheng'an District together.

The shop was quite big and the renovation was also very good. There were two separate small rooms at the back that could accommodate people. If they rented it, Jessie did not need to renovate it. She only needed to buy equipment, tables, and chairs to open the shop.

TOO

Both of them were quite satisfied. The person who brought them here was a young man who was quite energetic. Judging from his temperament, he did not look like the landlord or the real estate agent they had seen before. He was more like a white-collar elite in a high-end office building nearby.

"How much is it for one month?" Jessie walked around and the more she looked, the more satisfied she was. When she asked for the price, she felt a little guilty. This kind of place and this kind of shop, according to her previous experience, the rent for a month was at least twenty to thirty thousand yuan.

That man seemed to be even more guilty than her. He paused for a few seconds before slowly stretching out his palm.

Jessie and Sally cried out at the same time, "Fifty thousand?!"

The man was stunned for a moment and then smiled coyly, "Is the price high? How about ten thousand yuan?"

What he did not dare to say was, actually, he stretched out his hand to mean 5,000 yuan... But when he thought about it, the rental of the houses nearby was more than five thousand dollars, that would be too easy to arouse suspicion, so he followed their intentions and pretended to be saying fifty thousand dollars.

Jessie felt that something was wrong. She walked forward and circled around him. With a cold face, she stared into his eyes and asked probingly, "You are not really the landlord, right?"

"Yes, I don't think he looks like the landlord. Let me ask you, is this store really yours?" Sally also followed and raised her arms to ask.

Damn it, they even specially took a taxi to come here. Could it be that they met a swindler?

"Of course this store is mine. Don't tell me you all treat me as a swindler?" The man said anxiously, "I'm in a hurry to go back to my hometown. That's why I rented the shop I bought. Otherwise, I would have continued my business. I wouldn't have rented it to you!"

Jessie looked at his anxious red face and felt that he did not seem like a real liar.

Seeing that they were still doubtful, the man hurriedly took out the property deed and land use certificate from the briefcase and handed them to the two of them to take a look.

Jessie and Sally looked at it once and found that it was real. The name on the property deed was Sammy Smith.

"Sorry, Mr. Sammy, we misunderstood." Jessie smiled and apologized frankly, "Do you really rent it to us for ten thousand yuan per month?"

"It's fine. It's mainly because I bought this shop myself in the past to do business. (This novel will be daily updated at)Now that I have something to do, I have to go back to my hometown to rent it out. I have never rented it to anyone before. I'm a new landlord too." The man smiled shyly. "I'm really in a hurry to do it now. Otherwise, it wouldn't be so cheap. It's like this. I hope I can sign the contract for a year as soon as I sign it. Do you think there's a problem?"

"So you want us to pay the rent for a year in one go?"

"If you think you can't take it out in one go, you can pay eight thousand a month."

Jessie was speechless.

If she did not see the property deed, she would really still treat him as a swindler. Otherwise, wouldn't this be a pie falling from the sky in broad daylight?

Seeing that she didn't speak, the man was extremely anxious. He scratched his head and gritted his teeth: "Can you give me 5,000 dollars? If you are still afraid that I am a liar, you can start your business first. You can postpone it for a few months or you can pay the rent anytime you want, OK?" Jessie and Sally did not know what to say.
