

Billionaire CEO Won't Leave

Chapter 373

"Madam, when she learned that you were injured, she came from the United States specially." His subordinates said in a low voice to Shen Shi.

"All right." Shen Shimo just didn't want to hear Wei Xia's endless recitation. Now that she's here, she can't miss it. The news is spreading so fast.

Wei Xia temporarily left her luggage in the hotel near the hospital. Her son was seriously injured. She was naturally worried. After receiving a call from her son's staff, she learned that her son was awake. She got up in a hurry and rushed to the hospital.

"How many times do I have to tell you to take care of yourself before you can listen to me? How long have you been back to city a? Look at you As expected, Wei Xia opened the mode of chanting.

Silent helpless smile, or painkiller is failure, his smile, let the abdominal wound dull pain.

"Mom, I'm not a big deal."

"You said it was no big deal! Did conbmer do it? " Wei Xia asked in an aggressive tone.

"Well, he's worse than my injury, so, mom, don't get excited. Come on, I'll show you something interesting." Shen Shimo's face was full of interest, and he handed the mobile phone he had been browsing to Wei Xia.

Wei Xia stares at her son bitterly. After she reaches for her mobile phone, what the screen shows is the report of Kang family and Mu family.

"Look, Ma, if you want to stir up trouble, the Kang family and the Mu family will just bite the dog. It doesn't take me any effort at all. Just wait for a good play. I want to see what Shen Hedan can do. When the Kang family falls down and the Mu family declines, I see who else is willing to join hands with him. Hum." Shen Shimo felt that his abacus was not only loud, but also just effective.

"The Kang family hasn't collapsed yet. Don't be happy too soon. Take good care of yourself. Have you eaten yet?" Wei Xia was very satisfied with what her son had done, but she was still concerned about his injury and complained.

After mu Rushuang won the lawsuit, she didn't think too much because she was happy. When she came home alone, she realized that her father and brother were unhappy. To be exact, they were very disappointed with themselves.

After a long time of courage, murushuang doesn't dare to open the door. Inadvertently, murushuang's Yu Guang sees reporters rushing towards her. Murushuang doesn't want to be made difficult by reporters. He just raises his hand to ring the doorbell, but his hand is suddenly grasped.

The sudden outstretched hand startled mu Rushuang. Looking to the left, it turned out that it was the police again. The police were followed by Bai nianxi.

"Miss mu Rushuang, we have received a case from Miss Bai nianxi. Now we formally arrest you on the charge of murder. This is the arrest warrant."

The policeman said coldly, then put the familiar cold handcuffs on mu Rushun's hands again.

"You..." Mu Rushun is scared. At the end of the day, her mood is like riding a roller coaster. Seeing Bai nianxi's calm expression, mu Rushun's inexplicable anger.

"Why do you say I buy murderers? You slander me Mu Rushuang roars at Bai nianxi.

Journalists with a keen sense of smell are naturally reluctant to let go of the important news that suddenly appears.

"If you want to see the evidence, you can see it. It's just that," Bai nianxi lightly raised her eyes and looked at the reporter who was coming. "It's just that the reporter is coming. Are you sure you want to see it now?"

Mu Rushuang was blocked up in anger and anger, but Bai nianxi's wording was very effective. Of course, mu Rushuang didn't want her scandal to appear in the newspaper, but consciously wanted to get into the police car. A policeman helped her move. After she sat down, she closed the door.

"We will contact you in time for follow-up investigation. If you have supplementary evidence, please contact us in time." The police officially said to Bai nianxi, then straightened the police hat, got into the police car and drove away.

Bai nianxi looks back at the reporters. Before the reporters come around, he takes the lead in driving away from Mu's house.

When musili heard something outside, he thought it was his sister, but when he opened the door, it was a scene of shock - the reporter came flying like a locust.

"Mr. Mu! Your sister was taken away by the police just after she was released! Do you know what it's about? "

"Mr. musley! Bai nianxi shows up in person and takes Miss mu Rushuang away with the police! Can you tell me something? "

Slamming the door, Musi left his depressed heart and became more heavy.

In the ward where Kang Liqing is in, Kang Mobei is taking good care of Lele and Luo Luo. As soon as Bai nianxi arrives at the hospital, he gives the child to him without saying a word, and then leaves in a hurry. He doesn't know where Bai nianxi is going or what he is going to do, and Kang Mobei can't guess what he wants.

Soon, the sound of footsteps came from outside. The sound of footsteps was not big, but Yu Guang of kangmobei was hallucinating to see that his father seemed to move.

"Why? Dad, are you awake He asked tentatively.

Kang Li Qing opened his eyes slowly. He didn't know where he was in pain. When he opened his eyes, the expression on his face was also full of pain.

"Grandfather, what's wrong with you?" Lolo stood up at the sound and asked with concern.

Kang Liqing was surprised that Luo Luo was also there. His painful expression suddenly dissipated: "Luo Luo is coming." "Well, grandfather." Lolo nodded hard. Kangliqing raised his heavy hand with a smile and stroked Lolo.

Bai nianxi pushes the door and enters. Seeing Kang Liqing awake, she raises a faint smile: "Dad."

"Ah, nianxi is here, too." Kang Li Qing's voice is full of vicissitudes, and his tone has the kindness of old people.

The warm current passes through kangmobei's heart. Kangmobei looks at Bai nianxi: "where have you been?"

Bai nianxi smiles but says nothing.

"The trial How's it going? " Kang Liqing closed his eyes like he closed his eyes and asked Kang Mobei.

Bai nianxi guessed that it might be difficult for Kang Mobei to say this, so he took the initiative to reply: "Kang family, lost the lawsuit."

"What?" Just now the peaceful instant dissipates, Kang Li Qing excitedly rubs of sit up.

"Don't be excited. Listen to me," Bai nianxi said placidly. "Mu Rushuang was acquitted, but he was taken away by the police."

"What?" he asked? Who sued her? "

"I," Bai nianxi's smile remained on his face, "remember the accident? I've been investigating clues and evidence. I've had enough evidence to sue her for a long time, but I didn't plan to. This time, I also want her to bear the cost. "

Kang Liqing's face was about to cry without tears. Pain and suffering mixed in his expression: "that woman is too vicious, Mu family is too vicious, vicious! Why so vicious

"Dad, don't get excited. Justice is always late, but it will always come. You can take good care of yourself. Let me and Mobei do the rest." Bai nianxi takes a seat to the bed and comforts him with a gentle voice.

The blindness of this long lost family seems to have played a role of relief. Kang Liqing nodded, raised his eyes from time to time, and looked at Bai nianxi with a mixture of gratitude and relief.
