

Billionaire CEO Won't Leave

Chapter 388

A week later, mousse left unharmed from the detention center.

Outside the gate of the detention center, Shen Hedan was the one who picked him up.

Speechless drove to Mu's house. There were only three people in the car and Jin Ting, but no one spoke.

The door of Mu's family appears nearby. It seems that Mu Sili has something to say, but at last he just wriggles his lips. Then he gets out of the car and pushes the door into Mu's family.

Shen Hedan raised the corner of his mouth, put the gear into reverse gear, put it in the right position and went away.

"Well..." King made a strange voice.

"Well?" Shen Hedan is waiting for the following.

"Just to help him out of prison, do you think he will honestly not trouble Miss Bai nianxi?" It was this that king was worried about.

"If I don't worry about the evening, what can I do?" Shen He Dun is ambiguous.

In the Kang family, Bai nianxi got up early. After kangmobei had made breakfast, Bai nianxi had taken two large suitcases full of luggage downstairs. The luggage was put in the living room and could leave at any time.

"Dinner." Conmber said with a smile.

Bai nianxi nodded and called down the children, Kang Liqing and Kang Xinyue. Then the family sat around the dining table and leisurely ate the exquisite western breakfast made by Kang Mobei.

"I'll take you to the airport later." Kang Mo north raises an eye, looking at white to read Xi to inquire to ask a way.

Bai nianxi raised a smile: "just take care of the children. I'll go with the crew."

Conmberg wanted to say something, but he didn't say it in the end.

"Mommy, where is Juji island?" Lolo is curious about this place.

Hearing the sound, Kang Mo's eyes lit up inadvertently: "by the way, Luo Luo has never been to Juji island. Why don't we go together? You shoot your play, I take care of Lolo, and LeLe will be taken by my aunt. "

Kang Xinyue nodded and agreed: "you can rest assured that Lele will be given to me. I will stay at home all day and I will not go out. Moreover, Lele is still small. It's not good to always take it to such a far place."

Kangmo North got help, more looking forward to Bai nianxi can agree.

"Hum..."

"Hello?" Bai nianxi answers the phone.

"Mr. Bai, please don't come to the airport. The airport has just issued a notice and the flight has been cancelled." On the other end of the line is the director of the planning department, and now he is also the leader of the production team.

He had been investigating the small islands around Juji island with Ji Zhiye before, and determined the suitable desert island for shooting. Ji Zhiye stayed there to go through various procedures, while he came back with personnel and materials.

"Why? Can't I change it? " White read Xi shallow frown to ask a way.

"I asked Ji Dao. He said that the cancellation of the flight was due to the diplomatic friction between the two countries. Jeju International Airport could have entered without visa, but now it would be repatriated even if it arrived." The minister replied.

"Well," Bai nianxi said faintly, "I see. You wait at the airport for a while, and I'll call you when I've got a good coordination."

After that, Bai nianxi hung up the phone and looked up at Kang Mobei: "take me there."

Conmber nodded and quickly got up to put on his coat.

Inside, Bai nianxi brought a lot of materials and tried his best to shoot the film.

If the film is released successfully, Juji island may become the second Jeju Island.

The ambassador will naturally be accommodating. After he signed a pass for Bai nianxi, he replied with a bitter smile:

"you have obtained the entry qualification, but the flight can't leave. It's not clear for the moment. How to get to Juji Island, you need to think of another way."

"Thank you," Bai nianxi said politely, turning to comber, "can the helicopter solve it?"

Eight hours later, on an unknown small desert island 5 nautical miles south of Juji Island, three helicopters with full loads landed.

Ji Zhiye finally came to all the members of the cast. When he saw Bai nianxi, his attitude was more respectful: "Mr. Bai, you can count it. Look, how beautiful it is here ~"

Bai nianxi looked around the desert island with a black line on his face. Maybe his position was different. What Ji Zhiye saw was the gloomy atmosphere needed by the film. What was in line with the atmosphere was beautiful in his eyes, but in Bai nianxi's view

The broken walls and buildings that were dilapidated decades ago were surrounded by weeds. Moreover, it was already 5 p.m., and the afterglow of the setting sun made it look strange and warm

"It's good that you approve..." Looking at the desolate and strange open Island, Bai nianxi shivered subconsciously.

Lolo drags conmobei's hand and has to look around to ease his curiosity. Even though the mossy wall is broken, Lolo has to touch it with his fingers to relieve his curiosity about the unknown.

There are nearly 60 people in the crew, and the actors will come by helicopter after the shooting site is built.

All the staff are in their places. The first thing to get busy is the construction of tents. From today until three months later, all the staff can only spend the night on the desert island. The logistics personnel coordinate a ship to transport the materials needed for living on the desert island back and forth-"Like frost, come out." The guard opened the door of the old house.

Mu Rushuang raised her eyes. Her eyes were inexplicably lax. Her eyes no longer contained "Hope" and "expectation". Mu Rushuang, who suffered humiliation every day, no longer had any illusions about changing the situation.

"Ready to transfer to the prison," the prison guard looked around at the other four women in the cell. Their faces were brazen and arrogant, perhaps because of their cowardice.

"Transferred to prison?" Mu Rushuang asked questions subconsciously.

The prison officer knows that she has been bullied a lot, but in prison, this kind of thing is very common: "hum, take your things and hurry up."

Don't wait for the voice to fall, mu Rushuang hastily packed his simple things with the speed of running for his life, then rushed out without looking back.

"Ha ha ha, look at her. It's like running for her life." The four women did not hide their sarcasm.

"Shut up! Be honest with you. " The guards scolded, and the cold cells locked again.

Sitting on the special bus for the prison, mu Rushuang doesn't know where he will be sent. He only knows that he will be in a terrible place for ten years.

Ten years, is it to erase the inner hatred, or to bury the hatred deeper and stronger

After driving for nearly five hours, the bus finally stopped in a deserted place. There was nothing around, only dense woods, and the "Tianhu prison" sandwiched between the woods and on the side of the highway.

There are no high-rise buildings here, and the highest one is only two floors. The gate is not too big. Maybe three cars can enter the prison together. After the gate is opened, the bus slowly drives into the prison yard. Mu Rushun sees that it's very big. She subconsciously thinks that if there is no shelter from the low building, her sight will never end
