

Billionaire CEO Won't Leave

Chapter 438

Bai nianxi seems to have lost his mind. He knocks on his eardrum with a piercing tone. Bai nianxi throws away his cell phone like crazy and rushes out of the house.

"Miss nianxi! You can't leave! " At the door, Shen Hedan sent his men to stop her quickly.

"Call my brother! Come on Bai nianxi exclaimed.

"Well, well, you go in first. We'll call Mr. Shen to come here." A group of people tried their best to comfort Bai nianxi.

Within ten minutes, Shen Hedan came to Kang's home.

"He said g314, three forks, take people, brother, you go to save him!" Bai nianxi didn't realize that his face was already covered with tears. The tears dried up one layer and then stacked on another.

"I'll go now. Remember, you must not go out. It's dangerous outside. I'll go and save him now." Shen Hedan holds Bai nianxi's shoulder, and after an admonition, the wind leaves quickly.

After the motorcycle was refueled, they went on the road again. It was hard and a little desperate, but the person they loved in their heart was giving kangmobei strength and persevering.

Mu Sili's head is on the shoulder of Kang Mobei, and his hands are around Kang Mobei's waist.

His performance seemed strange to him. Looking back, he saw Mu Sili, his eyes closed, and his face was haggard and pale.

Not long after moving cautiously, conmobei slowly stopped at the side of the road. Before he could speak, musili fell off the motorcycle in a coma.

"Musili? What's the matter with you? " Kangmobei was startled and quickly helped him to lean on the side of the road.

This fall woke up the comatose moussili. Moussili raised his eyelids. Even he was a little surprised. How did he lose consciousness It's been a long time.

Conmobei took off his helmet, because the angle was just behind musli. At the first glance, he saw that the wound behind Musli's ear was already infected with pus.

"You Why don't you take care of the wound? " Kangmobei was seized by his heart. He didn't have any medicine to deal with the wound. He was at a loss for a moment.

Moussili gave a wry smile: "I'm ok. I fell asleep just now. Go on."

"....." This wound was cut by himself on the cruise ship. Later, he soaked in the sea for a long time. Later, he was exposed to the sun on a desert island. Later We rafted on the sea for a long time.

After so many days, conmber realized that his wound had already been infected.

Only by moving on can we help Musli Li to treat the infected wound. Without thinking much, kangmobei quickly lifts the weak Musli Li onto the motorcycle. Inadvertently, kangmobei touches him and feels his soaring body temperature. His body is very hot and has a high fever.

"Hold on, there will be a hospital ahead." Kang Mo North hastily told a, then quickly on the road.

Sanchakou town is about 300 kilometers away from its current location. The speed of the motorcycle is only 50 kilometers per hour at most. Catch up, maybe you can get there before dark.

Kangmobei is anxious and tries to move forward as fast as possible. The winding and dangerous road is not much faster than kangmobei.

Shen Hedan got off the plane wearing sunglasses and even hired a helicopter to land in Sanchakou town.

The clue given by conmo north is too vague. G314 highway is very long. When g314 is combined with Sanchakou, what you can notice is the obvious junction of the three expressways, and Sanchakou town government on g314 roadside.

Shen Hedan decided to wait at the gate of the town government, with 20 men, carefully staring at the roadside and nearby.

For a long time, Shen Hedan waited anxiously until the sunset set in the West. During the waiting, more and more people were sneaking around. When Shen Hedan realized that there was something wrong with these people, there were dozens of people staring at them in front of him.

Not good Shen Hedan screams. He knows kangmobei's location, and Shen Shimo can find it. Maybe that's why kangmobei chooses not to contact him.

"Brothers! Run Shen Hedan yelled and took his men to leave temporarily.

That group of people, as expected, caught up quickly. Because there were so many people, Shen Hedan had only 20 people, and there was no chance of winning.

But running too late, Shen Hedan and his party were soon caught up, and a crowd fight broke out instantly.

"Here we are, musili? We're at the third fork! " Looking at the road sign, conMBER yelled a little excitedly.

Here is what he saw on the map, where the three national highways and expressways meet. He thought his keywords were very accurate.

But What's the matter with Shen? Here, except for the traffic, no one is waiting for him.

Is it later than us? No way Kangmobei secretly took a look at the broken motorcycle under his crotch.

Kangmobei recalled the label on the map and tried to recall it again. In kangmobei's impression, it seems that there is a town government in front

Guessing that Shen Hedan might be in front of him, and that Musi needed to see a doctor, conMobei didn't stop for a long time, so he began to move forward again.

Shen Hedan and his party, faced with many attackers, gradually lost the upper hand. They were beaten more than attacked. After they fought to the death to find a way to escape, Shen Hedan collapsed on the ground breathlessly. When he got rid of the thugs, it was already dark. Thanks to the darkness, Shen Hedan was able to get away.

After hiding for a while and confirming that there was no trace of that group of people around, Shen Hedan, with his men, carefully turned back to the door of the town government.

Kangmobei was disappointed, and Shen Hedan was not seen near the town government.

Musili has fallen into a coma again. Conmobei is entangled and inquires about where there is a hospital. Finally, he goes to a nearby health station.

"How to become so inflamed just want to treat?" The doctor looked at Musi from the ulcerated ear, and then looked at the two unkempt faces, with disgust and can't bear to look directly at the way.

"Please help him deal with it..." Conmobei couldn't bear to look directly at the festering behind his ears.

"Hum, let's take infusion to reduce the fever. It's all high fever." The doctor gave the list to kangmobei. Kangmobei quickly helped Musi to a hospital bed, and then quickly went to get the medicine.

When Musi felt that his body was not so uncomfortable, he slowly woke up and saw that he was in the shabby hospital. Beside him, conmber was wandering with his eyes open, and he didn't know what he was thinking.

"Where are you now?" When mousse left to speak, he heard that his voice was so weak.

Kang Mo North hears sound to lift an eye, absentminded again casual way: "you wake up."

"Well Where is this? "

"Three forks Shen is not here. " Kang Mo North light a, continue to own thinking.

When Shen Hedan returned to the gate of the town government, there was no one around him. Only he and his 20 entourage men were seriously injured. Even he himself was in great pain.
